Foreword

The staff of the '62 Class Record is privileged to present a class of sincere, open-minded individuals. In this yearbook we have endeavored to record the humor, warmth, sagacity, and finesse which they have displayed at Penn Charter. As spokesmen for the class, we wish to express our gratitude to the entire faculty for the advice and friendship which they have given us in addition to the long hours which they have spent in their dedicated work. We hope that we have provided our classmates with an accurate summary of their years in this great school.

Dedication

The members of the class of 1962 are honored to dedicate their Class Record to Mr. Ralph O. Evans. Through triumph and defeat, he has inspired us with his dedication and friendliness, both in school and on the athletic fields. His concern for our aches and injuries, together with his unselfishness, will be remembered long after the scores are forgotten. His quiet, friendly manner has endeared him to all, and it is with respect as well as affection that most of us call him "Pops."

Headmaster

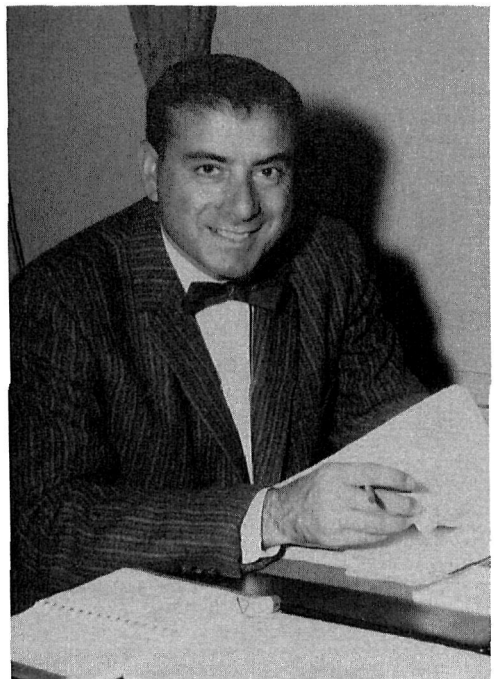

JOHN FLAGG GUMMERE, Ph.D.

The Class of 1962 followed a most unusual class and thus was the subject of much speculation and even some doubt in the Class itself as to how it would fill the responsibilities which were left to it. In a way, this offered an unusual opportunity for a class to show its mettle. This it has done very well; this it will continue to do, and everyone appreciates and applauds such success. I have not the least doubt that the Class of 1962 will go right on doing its duty and making us proud of it. I hope that every member of the Class will remember that he is a part of Penn Charter, and that we are all bound together in a common affection for a very old and very well-known School. May all success attend you all.

In Memoriam

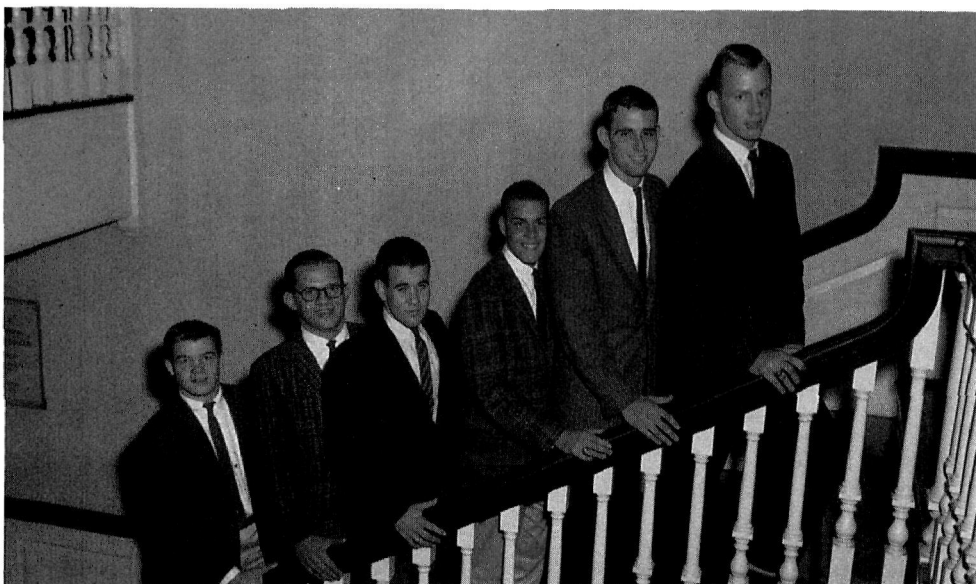

The Class of 1962 is saddened by the loss of its friend and mentor, Mr. Henry J. Heine, who died suddenly on June 23, 1961. Only fifty-nine, Mr. Heine had served both as a teacher of German in the Senior School and as Director of Athletics at Penn Charter for thirty-three years. Mr. Heine was an institution in himself at Penn Charter. He was known as the faculty wit and was always ready to help or advise one of his students. As Director of Athletics he imparted a jovial atmosphere to the Gym Office, while stimulating respect both for himself and for Penn Charter. He is gone, but will long be remembered.

Senior

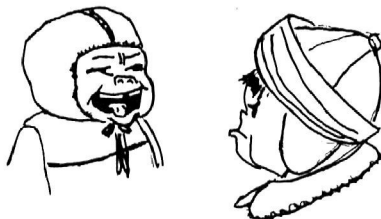

Highest Honor—The class intelligentsia massed its vote for Cum Laude.

Smiler With the Knife Award—We'll always remember Chip Tucker for his "laugh now, pay later" humor.

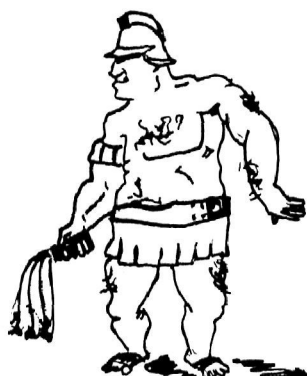

Sick Comic Award—With a note of derision, the editors divide this award between Mike Krekstein and Roge Hedges.

John Davis Award A certain unshaven editor slips beneath the table as we bestow this award.

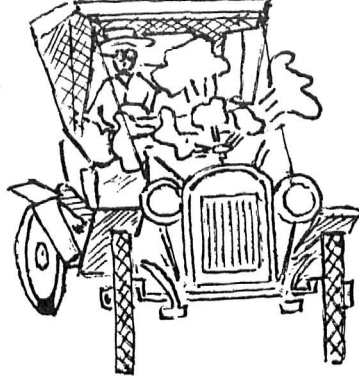

Faculty Baddy Award —Mr. McVey steps aside to the up and coming Terrible Ted Shakespeare.

Census

Stanley S t e a m e r Award—The Editors had to divide this one between Scarlett's Red Rambler and Dunham's Old Spice.

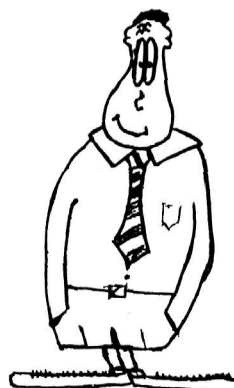

Most Typical P. C. Fellow—Alone on his pedestal stands Lin Scarlett.

Class Mooch — This award goes to spaniel-eyed Willie MacDonald.

Class Character—Stonie Roberts's eligibility for this honor is unquestioned!

Class Ego Award—To every pair of ears come the strident tones of Bill Ratcliffe blowing his own horn.

Senior

Gee That's a Nice Tie, Sir, Award — Tony Muller leaves his post at the faculty room door to accept this honor.

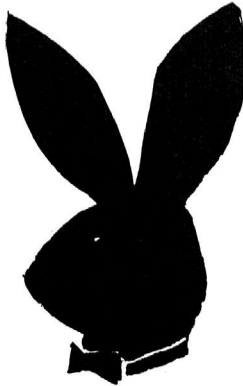

Three Day Weekend Award—This is bestowed in absentia upon Lorry Hale and Pete Wills.

Hot Rod Award—This goes with a junior license to Ron Prickitt.

Porfirio Rubirosa Award — Naturally goes to this one playboy Buzzy Meagher.

Done PC. For The Most — Mr. Owrid! We wonder where the library fines go.

Census

Done the Most For P.C. — How is the school going to get along without Paul Quante?

Daniel Webster Award—This goes to our silver-tongued Ba-a-a-ton boy, Dave Nugent.

Class Brain — You can't tell a book by its cover, so this award goes to John Davis.

Faculty Wit—In a nostalgic mood we award this to Allan deG. Lamprell.

Complex Award — This goes to our Freudian delight, Art Egendorf.

Class Prophecy

Well, here I am, surrounded by Penn Charter personalities again. All I can say is that it's a pleasure! We won't be having a class reunion this year even though most of us are together; the warden doesn't like parties.

Do you remember John Rich? Well, the Humane Society got him on two counts. The first time was when he waded into a creek and wedged a frog under a rock. The second time was when he got into a fight with John Davis. They convicted him both times for cruelty to animals.

Buzz Meagher was in for income tax evasion. It seems that he and Fred Glazier became racing car drivers. Fred lost in his Renault, but Buzz won with his new Cooper. Also associated with cars was Remy Fox, who began stealing car parts but was recognized by his identifying features and marks. George Bauer was booked with Gary Lauter for car theft.

Two P. C. graduates got into trouble when they went into the fishing business. Steve Clayton landed a whale without a license, and Claude Bennett caught a swordfish without a fishing pole. Topper Winder went into the merchant marines but was tossed in the brig when he tried to con the mate out of his cigarettes.

John Bishop and Bill Ratcliffe were in for disturbing the peace. John nearly scared everybody to death when he actually opened his mouth one day and said something. Bill, always known for his public speaking, stood up on a bench in Pennsylvania station and yelled, "We can fit you in or fit you out, which ever you want to take or do!"

Lin Scarlett was sent to the electric chair for murder. It seems that Lin, quite the equestrian, had gone walking one day in his new jeans. Along the way he picked some raspberries and gave one to Bill MacDonald. But it was a bad berry, and Bill died.

Bob Schmidt became involved in a B. & O. Railroad monopoly and asked Joe Carnwath to say a few words in his defense. But the effort was too much for Joe, and Bob was given six years. Kevin McKinney and Pete Wills only got five years for their pin-ball machine fixing.

John Hanna was checking off my bread and water in the prison lunch room the other day when someone thought that he saw Sir Laurence Olivier. Art Egendorf, hearing only the last name, started dancing up and down. But it was only J. P. O'Connor singing "Peg o' My Heart."

Some of the convicts came in on their own accord. Ron Prickett danced in looking for friends. Harry Nyce waddled in looking for Ron, and Mike George came with Harry.

Some of the class didn't make the Big House. Take John Blakely for instance. He got in a little trouble when he kept calling Mr. Brooks "Steve." But Dean Lane straightened him out, and he became a scoutmaster. Lou Burke struck it rich when he patented trick or treat packages for Halloween. John Crittenden was successful in his television show "Sing Along With Critt."

John Sheridan, always active in community affairs, organized a weekly wiener roast. Owen Jansson never came back from a weekend work camp. Paul Quante found a new deity with the drop of a "t." And Miles Fisher, a hotel clerk, made a little money on the side by reciting poetry being as how he was so good at it.

The prize for the best egg noodle would have gone to Tasty Tony Muller, but, unfortunately, the contest was restricted to college graduates, so Tony was left out of it.

Lorry Hale started his own bell factory which made Hale's Bells famous. Gordy Hasse left his weights at Penn Charter and hired long, tall, Fred Fiechter to work out with. Peter Glenn became a termite exterminator while Jim Morgan and Doug Hibbs became truant officers. Smiley Stoney Roberts attempted to get everyone to try his new Dent toothpaste, but John Jones was the only one to try Dent.

While Albert Wilson handed out towels at the locker room, Roger Hedges got people to pose for candid camera. Mike Krekstein is noted for his book on bugs. Buddy Silcox got stepped on by Mike "the toe" Petosa, professional hair dresser, and was never seen again, as were Cliff Miller, Sparky Mattis, and Tom Sloan, who never showed up at graduation.

Don Reese became a jobber for Compton Glass-Blowers, Inc. and Brian Robinson became publicity manager for Eden Hall tea dances. Dave Nugent made a career out of post-graduate work while George Neslie modeled for the Yogi Bear cartoon, following Steve Simpson's example as Willy the Worm.

Roddy Van Sciver tore down his house to make a golf course, and Gary Wilmore was unhappy at Princeton, because he missed his swings, and sliding board. Steve Probst became a caddy.

Well, so it goes here at the Big House. I'd like to tell you more, but it's time for me to take care of my five o'clock shadow.

The Class Record Staff has the responsibility of preparing a yearbook of the activities of the School and of the Senior Class in particular. The purpose of this yearbook is to give the graduating class a medium through which to view their last year at Penn Charter. The fun and enjoyment derived from making this yearbook is compensation enough for the staff. Their only hope is that the job has been successfully completed, that this 1962 CLASS RECORD has painted the full picture of life at Penn Charter, and that it gives enjoyment to all of its readers.

First Row: Magid, Eddleman, White, Glenn, Mr. Fredrickson. Second Row: McConnell, Bennett, Magers, Partenheimer, J. Forster, Affleck, Mattis. Third Row: Barnes, Hayllar, Renfrew, Vickers, W. Forster.

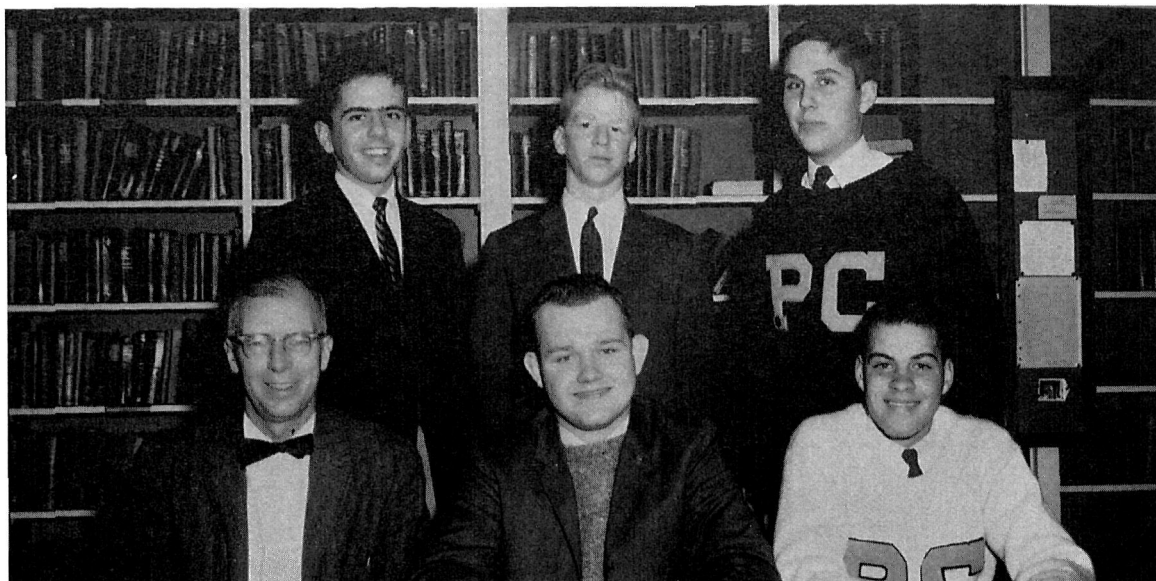

The Affiliation Committee has continued with the exchange student program. Bob Jones and Tom Magid have each spent time during the past year in schools in France. Under the leadership of Jay White and Joe Eddleman, and with the faculty advisers, Mr. Frederickson and Mr. Minault, the Affiliation Committee has completed a year of interesting monthly meetings and discussions on school affiliation and national topics, in addition to the annual Schwenksville conferences. Members of the committee are looking forward to a possible exchange of students with Germany, as well as France, in the coming year.

Art Society

First Row: Hanna, Snedaker, Mr. Nuse, Hedges, Jones. Second Row: Kurz, Liebert, Krasney, Chew, Kroekel, Nuse.

The Art Society, under the leadership of Mr. Nuse, was organized with two main purposes in mind. First, to encourage and foster the aesthetically minded student's appreciation for the great works of art; and second, to further artistic expression among its members.

The Society is also noted for its many excursions to art museums and exhibits in this area, as well as for their annual New York trip, which is the highlight of the year.

Cum Laude

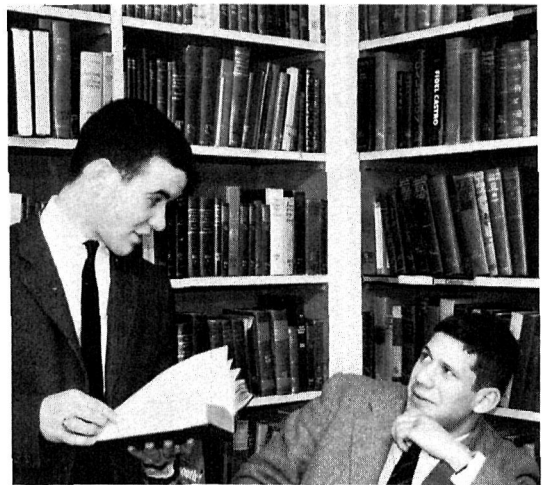

First Row: MacDonald, Mr. Lane, Mr. Steere, Davis. Second Row: Muller, Quante, Winder, Tucker. Missing: Egendorf.

Admission to the Cum Laude Society is the highest scholastic recognition that one can achieve at Penn Charter. Each year one or more Juniors are elected into the society, and the following year several more Seniors are admitted. Those elected are students who, in their four years of high school, have achieved the best scholastic records. Cum Laude is thus something to work for, not for a brief flurry, but for four years, and when obtained, can be enjoyed as something earned and deserved.

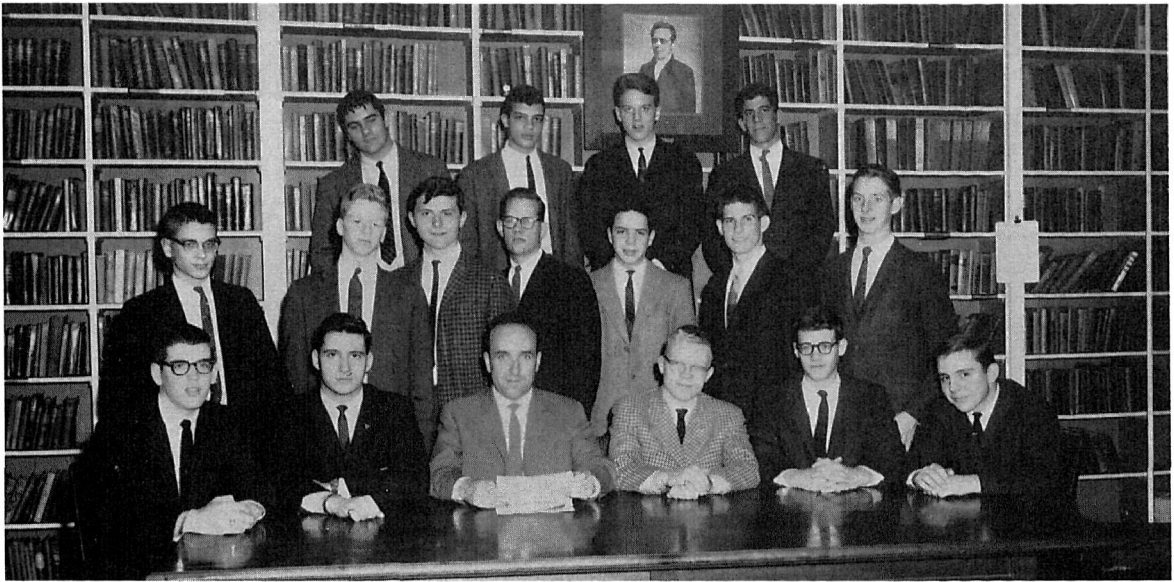

Each year the Society holds a banquet at which these inquiring and industrious students are honored for their fine academic records.

Greek Society

The Greek Society was the brain-child of the Class of '61. It was started by a few students who had taken Latin under Mr. Kemper, and then Greek under Mr. Alexander. Their interest in the classical cultures was one of the results of the excellent teaching of these two instructors, and thus they chose Mr. Kemper as their adviser. His boundless knowledge and their eager intellectual curiosity caused many evening meetings to last far beyond the time-limit set by the administration.

We of the Class of '62 have tried to preserve and perpetuate the spirit of intellectual enthusiasm under which the society was founded, but Plato, being what he is, have moulded the society into more of a philosophical discussion group whose esthetic probings are truly enlightening. Dr. Glaap, our capable adviser, has helped to make the Greek Society an experience most of us will remember long after we have left Penn Charter.

Dramatic Club

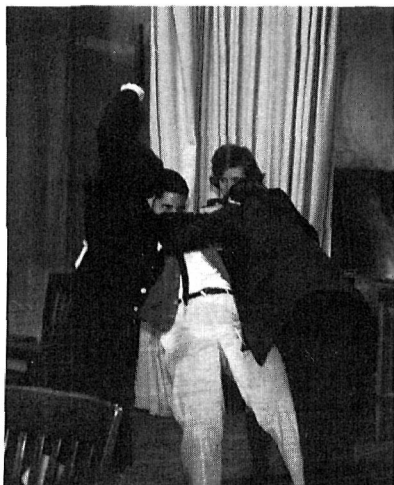

First Row: Mr. Shakespeare, Wilmore, Egendorf, Jones, Hedges, Sheridan. Second Row: Quante, Glazier, Underkoffler, Krasney, Jensen, White, Wasserman.

The Dramatic Club at Penn Charter is the society which presents to the community each year a series of productions ranging in variety from Shakespeare to Wilder and from fierce tragedy to farce comedy. This past year, under the direction of our unique adviser, Mr. Shakespeare, we presented three plays. In the fall we did The Brute by Chekov, starring Suzanne Hertsch from Stevens School, Roger Shoemaker, and Rick Spirtes. Then we produced A Night At An Inn, by Lord Dunsany, starring J. P. O'Connor, Pete Wills, Kevin McKinney, John Rich, and Martin Krasney.

This year's spring play, given on the evening of March 16 and 17, was The Skin of Our Teeth, by Wilder. This was the major production of the year and involved obtaining actresses from Springside and Stevens schools. The leading parts were played by Tony Muller, Bill Kennedy, and Roger Hedges of P. C., Dorothy Gabell from Stevens, and Hope Forer and Susan Ginns from Springside. The stage crew for this show was led by Fred Glazier and John Jones.

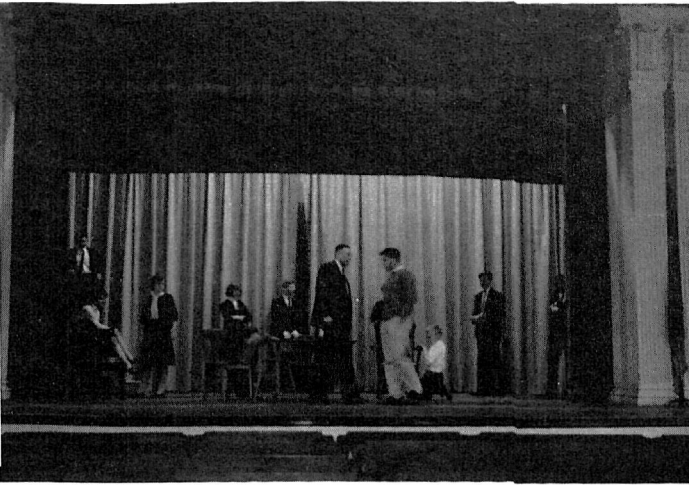

The purpose of the Dramatic Club is to promote interest in worthwhile stage productions, not only in acting, but also in other facets of a play.

The History Club has progressed into its third year, this year under the capable hand of Mr. George B. Weigand, the faculty adviser. Several new members have been accepted, and the interest of the members continues to grow. At the monthly evening meetings, lectures, discussions, and debates help to fulfill the purpose of the club, which is to study societies of the past in order better to understand life in the present.

First Row: Mr. Reinke, Winder, Scarlett, MacDonald, Jones. Second Row: Soens, Simpson, Dimond, Hanlon, Porter, Cushmore. Third Row: Wilmore, Mattis, Hamilton, Montgomery.

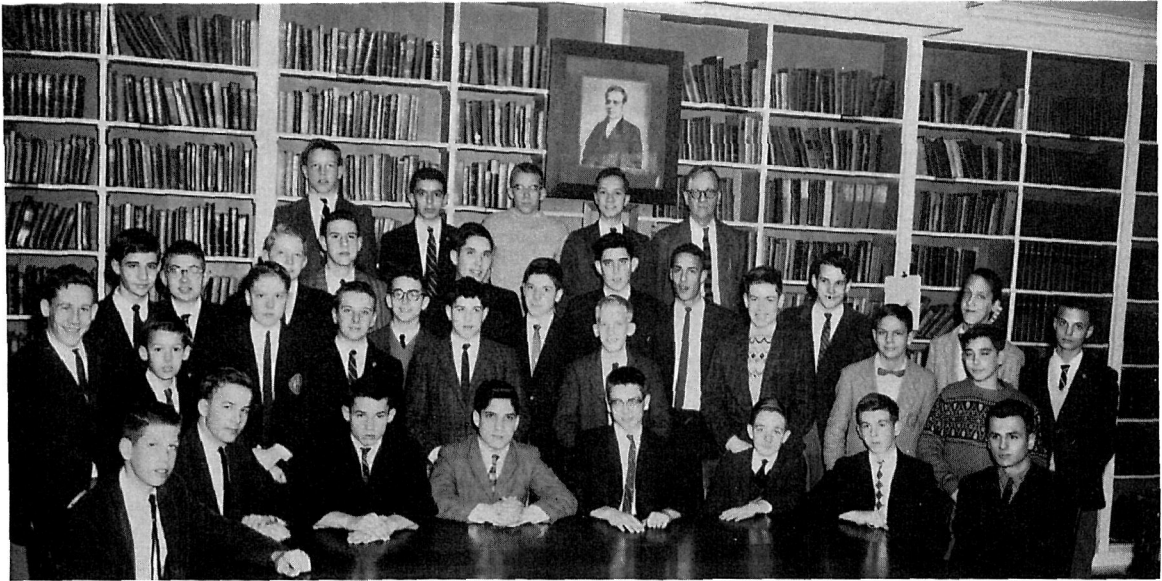

The Key Club is Penn Charter's official welcoming committee. The Society performs a valuable service to the school by furnishing members to act as guides for visiting teams and other guests who may need their assistance. It is the Key Club's aim to make the proper impression on visitors as well as to make their stay a pleasant one. New members are therefore elected on the basis of personality and congeniality.

The Literary Society, one of the oldest groups in the school, is devoted to the investigation, through discussion, of literary works. The range of these efforts extends from articles by members of the Society to poems by various poets, and the comments of the members insure an interesting discussion following the reading of some work from this field. The large but able membership manages to provide many different viewpoints some of which cause a great deal of laughter.

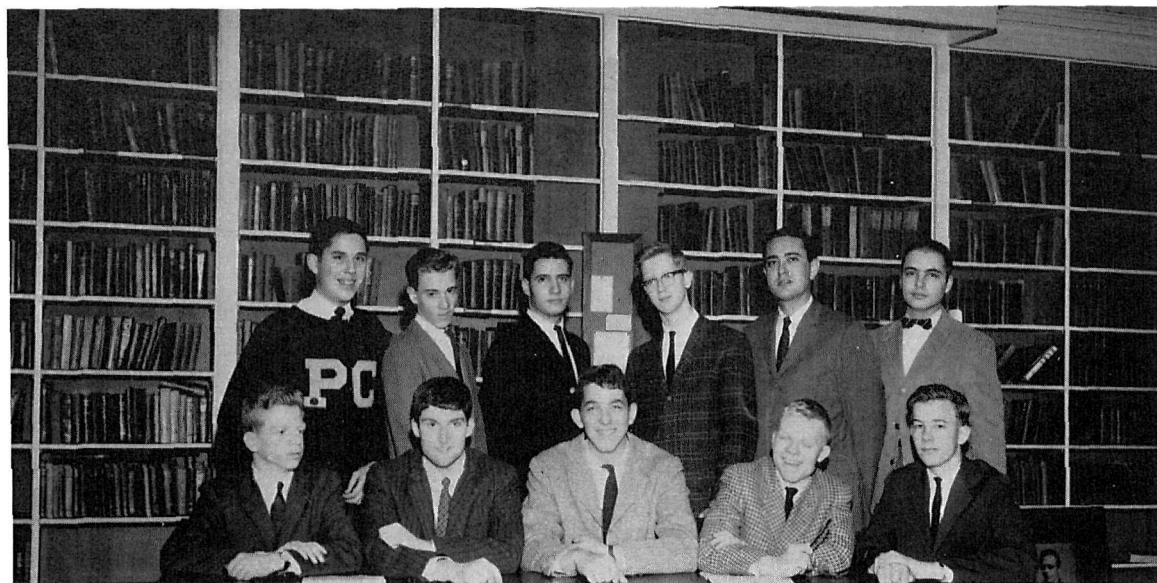

Care has been taken to cover the literary work of the Society, but one of the most important functions is to sponsor a dance. This dance is the epitome of the fall social season, and a fine dance band and excellent refreshments are always provided to create a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

Penn Charter Magazine

First Row: Krasney, Tucker, Rich, Hedges, White. Second Row: Kurz, Nuse, Muller, Renfrew, Mr. Snyder, Platt.

The Penn Charter Magazine is the oldest secondary school publication in America. This year a small but extremely talented and able staff produced four issues that proved that the Magazine has come a long way in its many years. The spirit behind this year's group was improvement. Feeling previous issues were too much the products of a select few, the staff has worked hard toward publishing the very best material produced by the student body. Their efforts have been directed toward compiling and publishing this artistic and literary work. The Penn Charter Magazine will continue its popularity as long as the student body continues its present support.

This issue is way out.

The Science Club has made use of the vast supplies of interesting, educational films this year in a series of bi-weekly meetings. Through these films the club and its visitors were introduced to various branches of scientific development by men who were leaders in their respective fields. The members, selected from the upper four grades, were also given the opportunity to go on several trips and to attend the regional meeting of the Pennsylvania Junior Academy of Science where outstanding science students of area schools including Penn Charter presented their experimental projects by means of short talks and demonstrations.

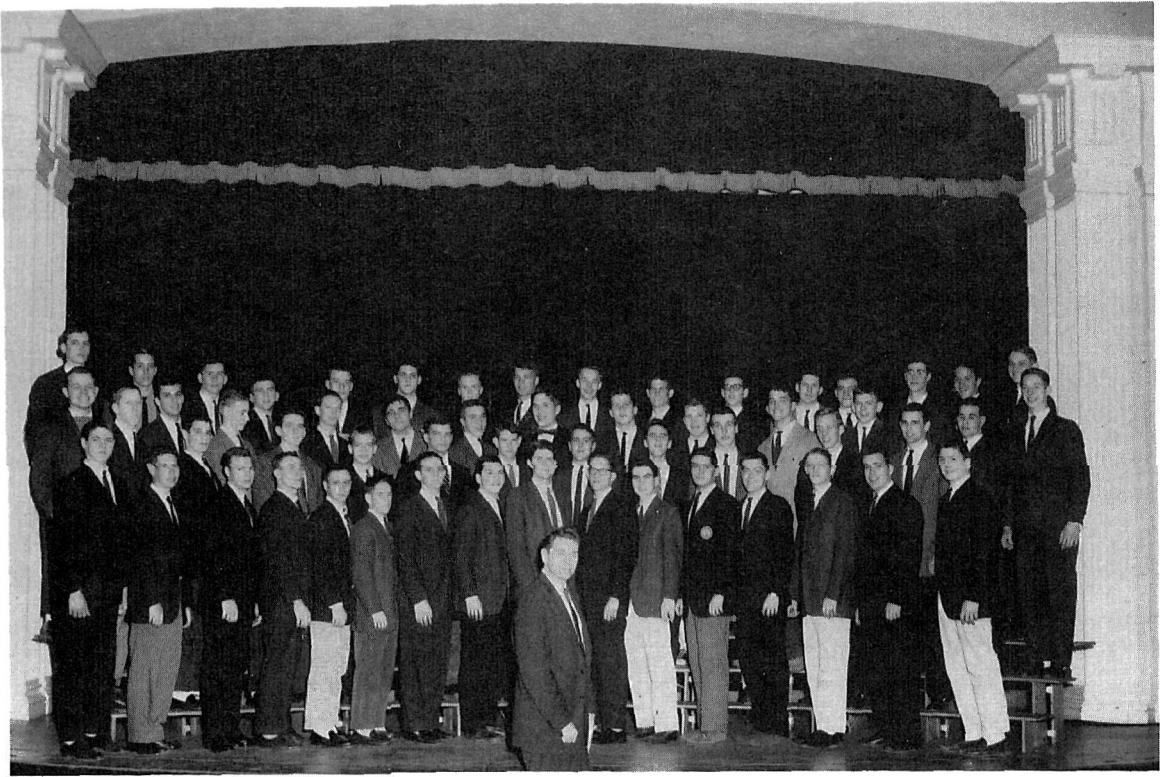

The Science Club put on the fourth annual Science Fair at Penn Charter where P. C. science students presented their projects for judging. Awards of merit were given to deserving projects along with an opportunity to enter the Delaware Valley Science Fair.

Under the dedicated directorship of Mr. W. Ernest Wells, the Senior Chorus has enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in its history. The Chorus opened its season with the annual Christmas Concert at Penn Charter before the usual packed house. The Spring Concert, which was presented on the evening of May 11, was also received with great enthusiasm.

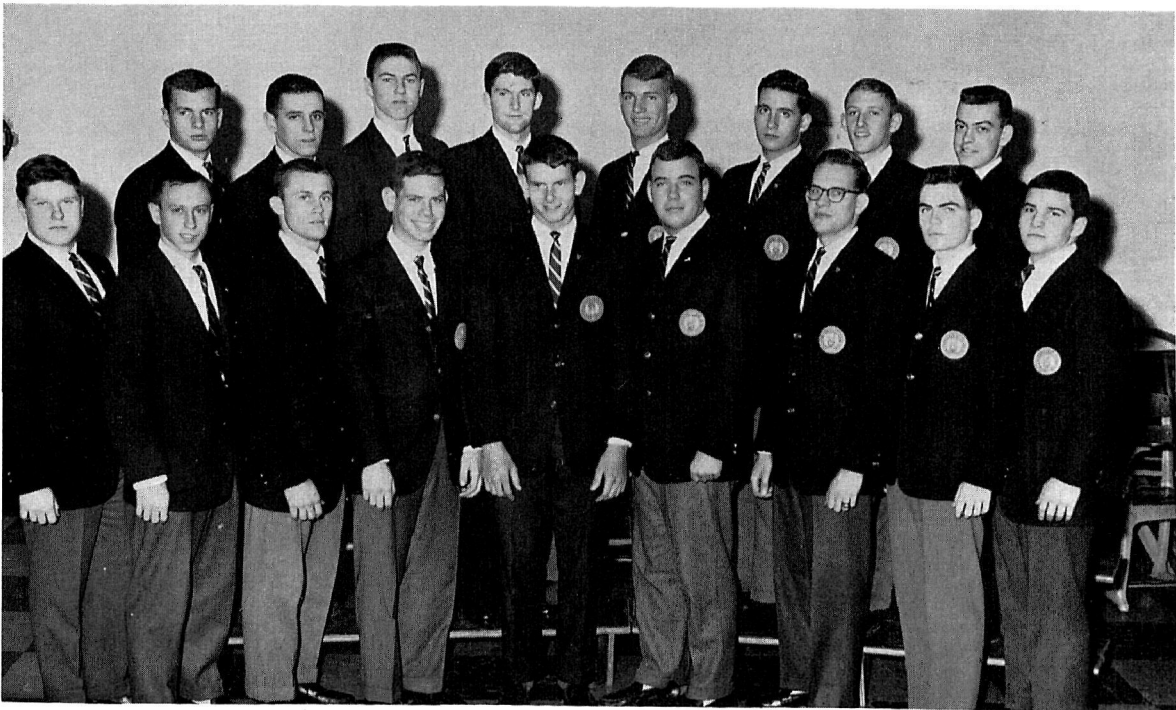

The Charter Singers opened their season in January before a capacity audience at Girls' High School in a concert with the Treble Clef Choir of that school. The annual trip to Chatham Hall, and the concert given in conjunction with the Springside Glee Club on Palm Sunday afternoon, were both splendid performances.

The seventeen-member Quakers Dozen had a most busy and successful season. A concert before the Philadelphia Rotary Club, at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, proved to be one of the high points of the season. The QD, as usual, was received with tremendous enthusiasm at both regular and special concerts throughout the season.

Trident Honor Society

The Trident Honor Society consists of Penn Charter students who have shown merit in both curricular and extracurricular activities. They are chosen from late Prima and early Upper Prima classes, by combined vote of the students and faculty. From this preferential ballot, the present members make their choice of candidates. These candidates must then successfully undergo an initiation before formal acceptance into the Trident Honor Society.

The Society presents a plaque to an outstanding member of the freshman and sophomore class who best exemplifies the necessary qualities of merit, character, and cogeniality. The Trident Society also contributes to the Penn Charter social season by presenting the only surviving formal dance at the school.

The Community Government of Penn Charter consists of the Lower, Middle, and Upper School Councils. The last is composed of the boys in the top three grades who are elected by their classmates to serve on the Council. These boys guide, counsel, and when necessary, discipline their fellow students. This system of self-government has proved quite successful during its many years of operation. Any visitor or member of the student body is always welcome to the Council's weekly meetings.

This year marked the second complete year of the successful operation of the honor system at Penn Charter. This system is functioning very smoothly now and insures a healthy atmosphere for the Penn Charter student.

Varsity Club

The purpose of the Varsity Club is to give recognition to Penn Charter's outstanding athletes. The candidate for the Varsity Club must have won two or more varsity letters in one or more varsity sports and present an example of fine sportsmanship. New members are voted into the organization by the older members. The main object of the club is to promote school spirit by interesting the students in sports going on around the school.

Other functions of the Varsity Club are the presentation of gold awards to members of our championship teams as well as the presentation of athletic letters. In addition, the highlight of the Spring Social Calendar is the Varsity Club Dance with its big-name band.

The Daniel Webster Society sponsors all the debates, inter- and intra-scholastic, in which Penn Charter participates. Each of the sixteen members has an opportunity to debate at least twice in full length debates within the society, and several boys get to debate in nearby schools. In late April the society sends a team of two speakers and two alternates to the Valley Forge Debate Tournament to compete with some of the best teams in the East. In recent years P.C. has not finished especially high in the standings, but this year and next, with an enlarged backlog of experienced debaters, we expect to do better. Mr. Owrid's assistance has been invaluable in helping us prepare for and write our debates.

Organization is the key to debating.

Beneath the waning summer sun the future Quaker eleven plus returned to the practice field to begin another season of football. A grueling practice got under way showing hard running and cutting blockers: all indications for a fine season.

Two opening non-league games against Central High School and Williamson Trade School proved disastrous. Numerous injuries occurred and this became a reason for future failure. Despite these injuries, spirit was high enough always to keep the Quakers within range of victory. In the opener, Charter lost to Central 8-12. This was followed by the loss to Williamson Trade, 0-2. By the first game in October with Valley Forge, the coaches had prompted the Quakers on their mistakes and the team was really up for the game, only to be knocked down again by injuries. The final score read Penn Charter 6, Valley Forge 19. At this point in the season, center Wills, half-backs Dunham, Lampe and Hale, quarterback Starke, and handyman Winder had all been injured —Wills not to return.

P.C. traveled to Haverford to open Interac competition. With several valuable players out, Charter fought a close one, only to lose again 6-13.

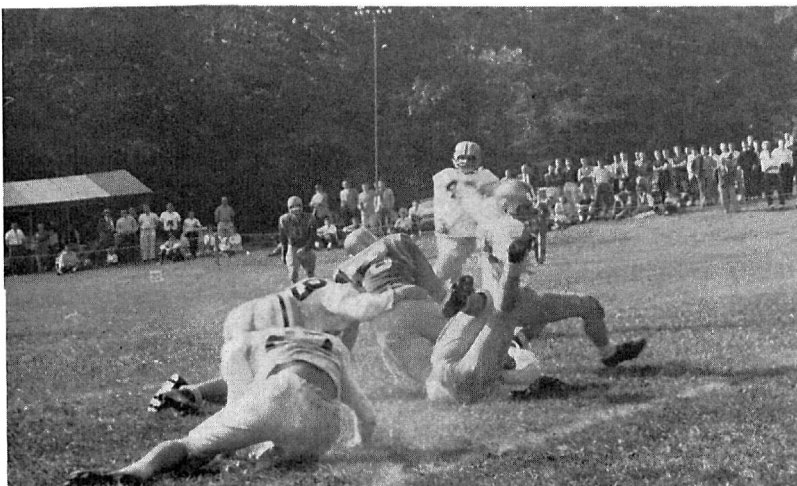

However, the Quakers refused to lose faith and through undaunting spirit, battled Episcopal with several Quaker touchdowns called back, to the last seconds, only to face another defeat: Episcopal 6—Penn Charter 0.

Our winning streak appeared to be safe when, in the Malvern game, P. C. scored a touchdown on the first play out of scrimmage. The Malvern team soon woke up, however, and we racked up another loss.

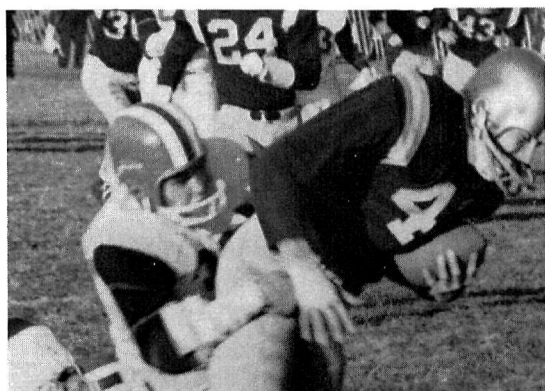

The P.C. squad realized that the whole season could be redeemed by winning the big "75th" with G.A. The forces seemed rather evenly matched after the first half, but in the second our team finally came into its own and crushed G.A. 32-0. Touchdowns were scored by Dunham, Hale, Scarlett, Burke, and Lampe.

First Row: VanSciver, Fiechter, Bennett, Gray, Bishop, Burns. Second Row: Simpson (Captain), Spigel, Brotemarkle, Kroe-kel, Carnwath, Mr. Conard. Third Row: Burns, Gable, Rossel, Sigel.

On Tuesday, September 6, about thirty-five well-tanned, out-of-shape soccer players began practice for the forthcoming season. By September 19, the day of the Olney game, Coach Conard had forged a team of sixteen determined, enthusiastic players. The team lost that game 1-3, and in the succeeding games with Haverford, G.F.S., and Episcopal, the three best teams in the league, the young Charter squad was defeated, to a large extent by superior experience.

Then on October 3, in the rain, the Blue and Yellow scored five times against G.A. for our first win by a score of 5-3. On the next Thursday, overconfidence induced Charter to underestimate C.H.A.'s ability, and the score ended up 1-1. A traditionally strong Westtown team defeated us 2-0 in one of the team's better games, but we rebounded a week later with a 5-2 victory over Friends Central on October 17. The highlight of the game was Paul Sigel's hat-trick, the only one of the season.

The next game, at Haverford, on October 19, was the highlight of the season. Haverford, previously unbeaten, lost at the feet of the hustling, determined team from Penn Charter. With the score tied 1-1 in the fourth quarter Captain Steve Simpson broke loose and flipped a shot past Haverford's goalie to score the winning goal. The rest of the season was rather anti-climactic as the team couldn't "get up" as high for the succeeding games as they had for the Haverford game.

The next game, at G.F.S., we lost 4-3, spending the whole game trying to catch up. Episcopal scored late in the last quarter to beat us 2-1, and on October 31, Charter played Moorestown Friends to a 1-1 tie.

In November the team first beat G.A. 2-0 and lost to C.H.A. 1-0. On November 14, Charter finished the 1961 campaign with a 2-0 victory over Friends Central.

At season's end 1961 captain Steve Simpson and Captain-elect Joe Burns were placed on the All-Interac team. Bob Spigel received second team honors, and John Bishop, Rod VanSciver, and Pete Gray received honorable mention. At the banquet Joe Carnwath received the McCormick trophy for the most improved first year man, and Tom Sloan received the most improved veteran award. Joe Burns was named most valuable player.

A green squad started the current basketball season, with the notable exceptions of Captain Lin Scarlett, Interac high scorer Bill Soens, and returning lettermen Steve Probst and Tom Sloan. Rookie coach Mr. Weigand and assistant coach Mr. Brown revolutionized P.C. basketball by adopting a fast-break offense and by eliminating the second team, creating a sixteen man varsity squad.

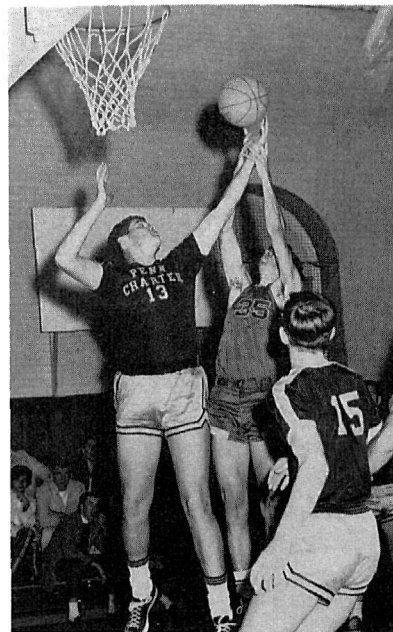

By the opening of the Interac season, the Penn Charter starting five had been chosen: sophomores Mike Aron, Steve Cushmore, and Jim Lampe; junior Bill Soens; and senior Lin Scarlett. In the first four Interac games, Chestnut Hill Academy (44-32), Malvern Prep (44-62), Haverford (47-45), and Episcopal (43-38), the team gained valuable experience. The first effective use of the fast-break came in the Alumni game, won by a score of 61-53. Victories over Friends Central (74-57) and Germantown Academy (73-45) closed the first half of the Interac season.

The team went on to repeat their victories in the second half of the season: Chestnut Hill (62-39); Haverford (71-64); Episcopal (55-47); Friends Central (71-51); and Germantown Academy (60-52). As this goes to the printer a victory over Malvern is all that keeps Penn Charter from the championship.

Third Row: Mr. Maroney, Moynahan-Dorsey, Hopkin, Spigel, Clayton, Lotz, Bauer, Shimer, Packer, Bennett, Mr. Brooks.

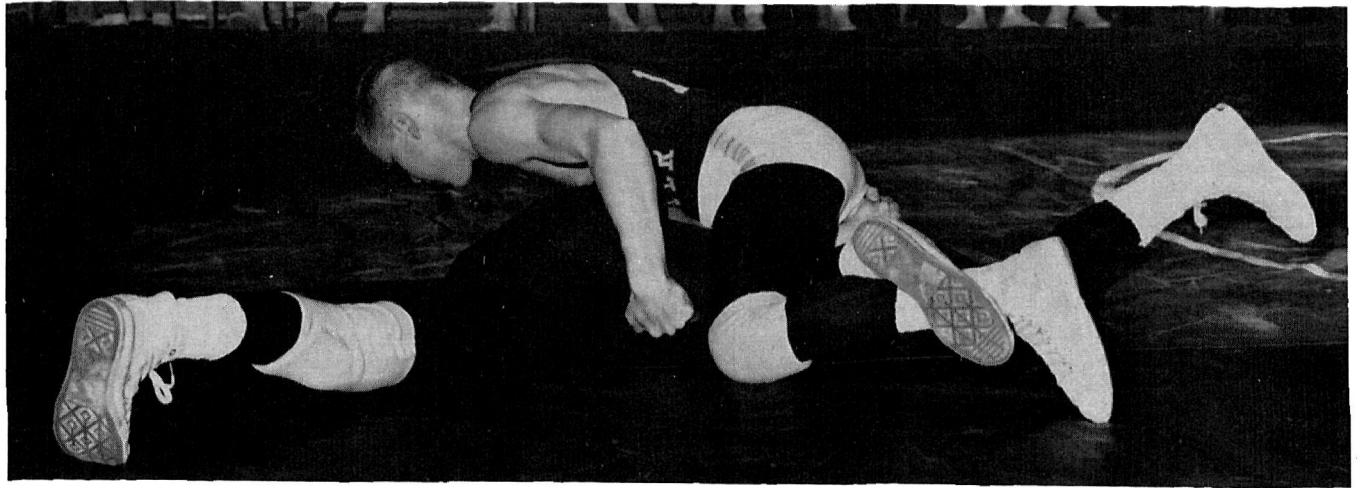

Led by Co-Captains Joe Carnwath and Joe Eddleman, our wrestling team enjoyed another winning season. It captured second place in the Interac league for the sixth consecutive time, took a good place at the Episcopal Invitation Tournament at Penn's Palestra, and won the Germantown Championship for the second consecutive year.

Wrestling at 95 pounds, Tuck Brickley showed up well in his first year of wrestling. Freshman Bob Zimmer and Junior Rick Brotemarkle at 103 and Scot Surgner at 112 gave their opponents a tough time all year. Buzz Meagher at 120 was a great help to the team and was a fine point getter. At 127 was Co-Captain Joe Eddleman, a steady leader and a heads-up wrestler. Bob Schmidt at 133 and Bill Hopkin at 138 were both reliable performers all year. Our other Co-Captain Joe Carnwath at 145, was another outstanding grappler and leader. Bob Spigel put in a good season at 159. At 165, senior Steve Clayton was a never failing help to the team. At 180, Bill Lotz and at heavyweight, Bob Shimer turned in good records all year.

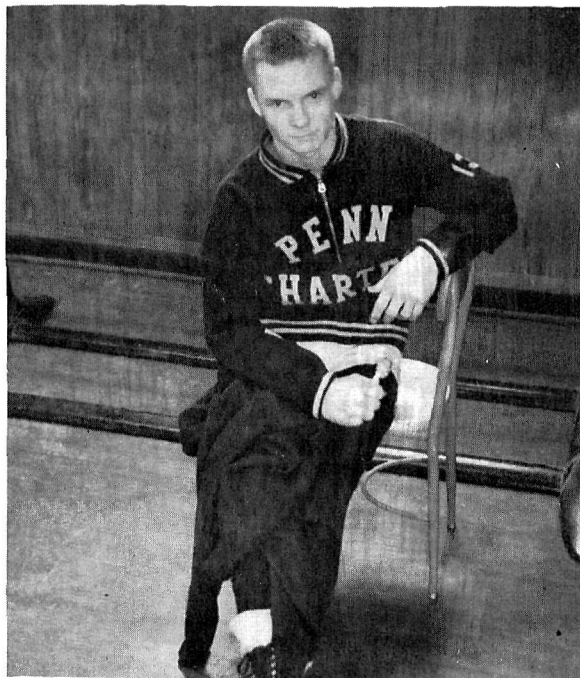

Although Coach Maroney will miss the capable members of this year's class, the backlog of returning underclassmen promise well for the future.

The lineup

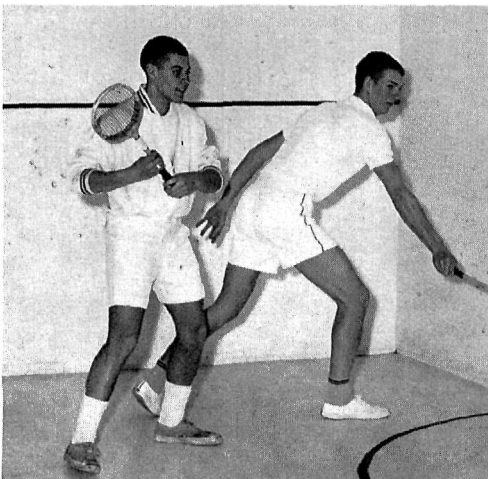

Squash

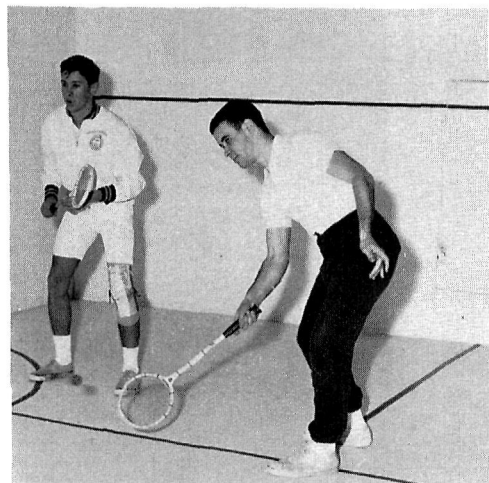

First Row: Miller, Silcox, Prickitt, Simpson, Hanna. Second Row: Mr. Keighton, Hannes, Dearnley, Ward, Mattis, Hibbs, MacDonald, Mr. Fredrickson.

Ron Prickitt led the P.C.'s squashers to their most successful league season ever. The team finished second in the league and came within three matches of the crown. Highlights of the non-league season included wins over Navy and Hill School, and a 3-4 loss to a very powerful Penn Freshman team. Captain Prickitt was runner-up in the New York City Junior Championships, and a semi-finalist in the Pennsylvania Class B Singles Tournament.

This year's team loses five men: Prickitt, Simpson, MacDonald, Hanna, and Silcox, so that next year may be a building season for Mr. Fredrickson's racquet-men.

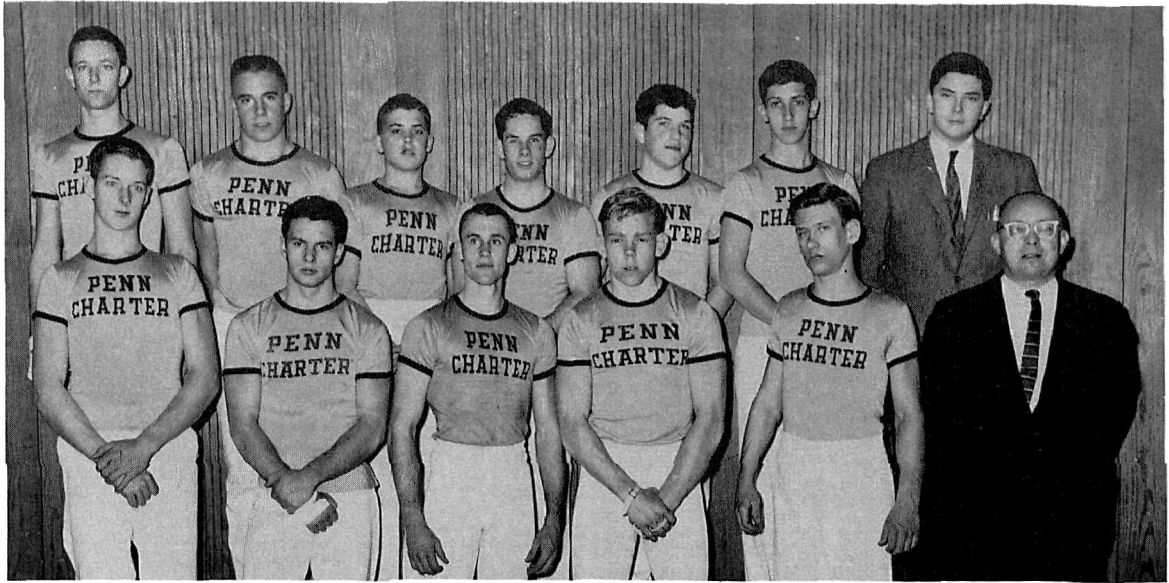

Steve and Ronnie

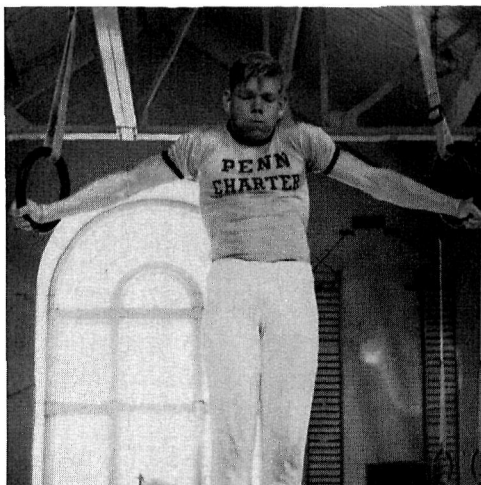

Bill's forehand

Gymnastics

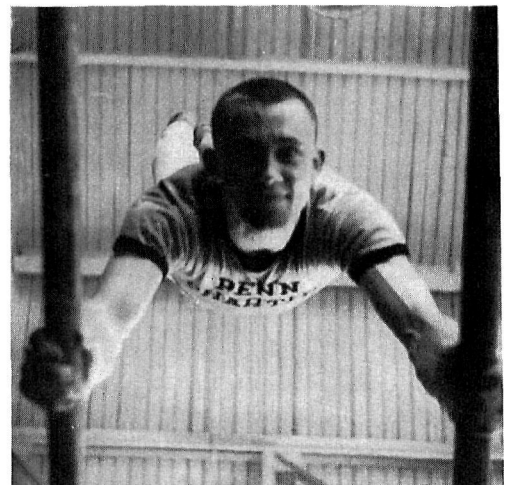

First Row: VanSciver, Jones, Wilmore, Hasse, Jansson, Mr. Hasse. Second Row: Smartt, Shannon, Thayer, McKeever, Loeb, Danien, Dinmore.

One of the fastest growing sports at Penn Charter is gymnastics. In less than ten years, the team has grown from a few enthusiastic members, to a well-rounded group of 12 boys, which has reached its peak this year. After a heartbreaking 20 point loss to Dobbins, the "Charter Apes" swing back for 200 point victories over Northeast, Central, and Edison. Coach Hasse's hopes for a win in the final match with Germantown can easily be realized if only he can lure Bill Buchanan from the soda-fountain, Kev McKinney from Abe's, and John Jones from the telephone. Congratulations to a winning team and good luck for the future.

I'll huff, and I'll puff . . .

Hello, down there!

Baseball

In the last eight years Penn Charter has won the Interac Championship in baseball six times and tied twice. This record sets a standard for the 1962 squad to match. The squad will consist of eight returning lettermen and eight new members and will be coached by the man who made this fine record possible, Mr. Ralph Palaia.

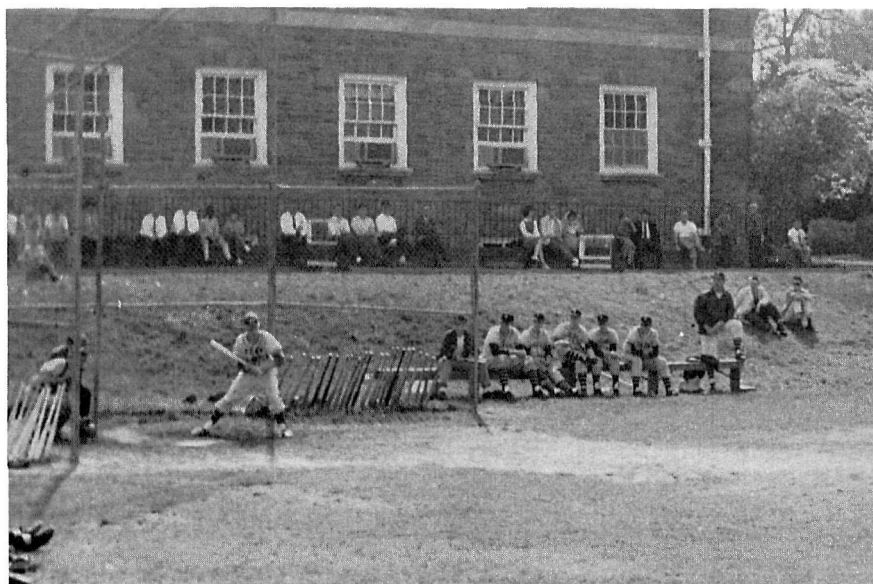

As in several years past this team has been judged before the season by many of its opponents as not having a chance for the number one spot in the league. But with returning lettermen, such as those towers of strength Tom Sloan and Topper Winder behind the plate, slugger Ron Prickitt on first base, southpaw moundster Chris Dunham, basket shortstop Jim Lampe, and hard-hitting handymen Skip Gable, Barry Starke, and Ed Haines, things aren't looking so bad as far as Penn Charter and Mr. Palaia are concerned. In short, losing just isn't part of the scheme for 1962.

Track

This year, the Penn Charter track team is looking forward to a very successful season. The team will be centered around a small nucleus of returning lettermen, with the help of some very promising new men.

The stronger half of the team will be the field event men, with one or more lettermen returning in each event. In the shot put will compete co-captain Lou Burke and Jim Dimond; the high jump will be taken care of by Bill Soens; the broad jump will be handled by two capable seniors, Lorry Hale and co-captain Gary Wilmore; in the pole vault you will see Gordon Hasse and Wilmore.

The running half of the team is the more experienced. Veteran Lin Scarlett and Pete Schuler will run in the hurdles. The sprint men this year will be Lou Burke, Mike George and some likely underclassmen. The distance runners will be John Sheridan, Dave Brewer, and other young hopefuls.

With the promising material aforementioned, coaches Conard and Faber can look forward to a winning season.

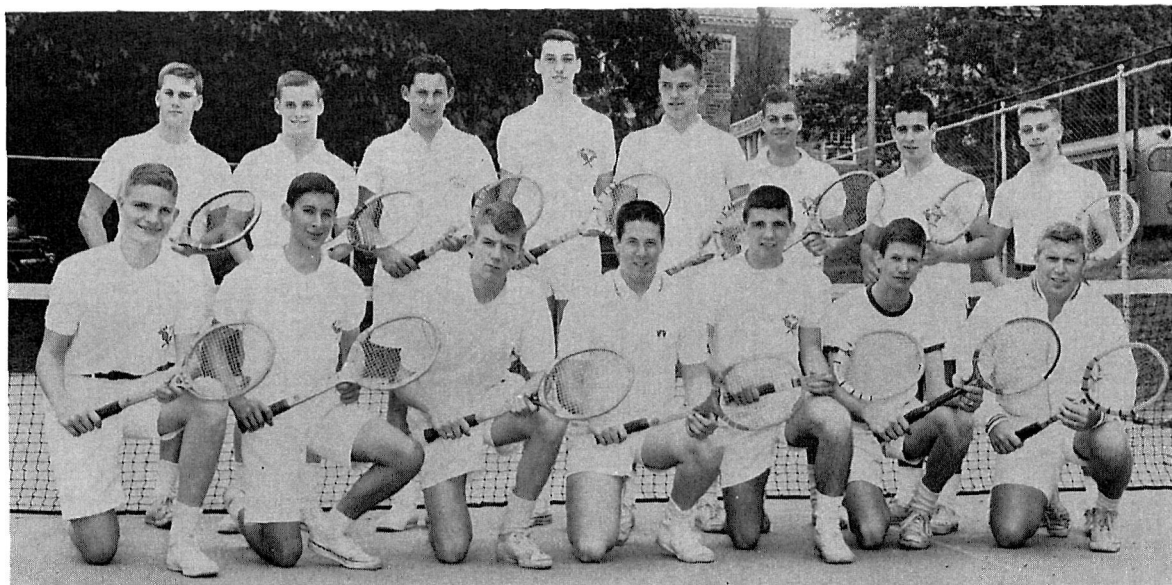

Louis heaves

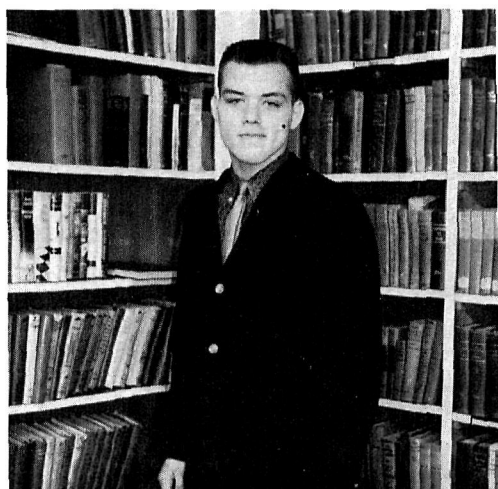

Gary soars

Tennis

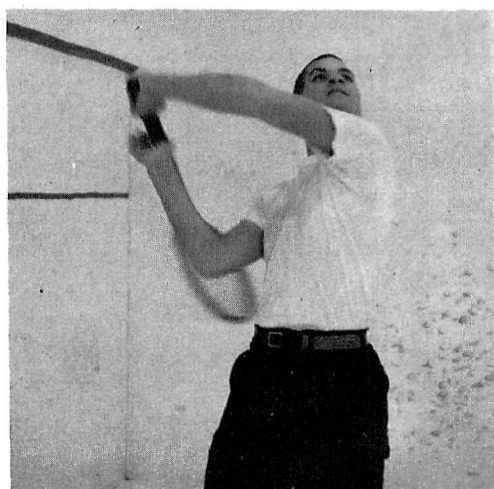

First Row: Darrah, Hannes, Glenn, Curtin, Gilkeson, Fiechter, Mr. Maroney. Second Row: Fox, Eddleman, Ward, Dunlap, Wills, Simpson, MacDonald, Magid.

Penn Charter's netmen in 1962 may well emulate last year's championship team. Pete Wills will captain the team, leading several returning competitors, including seniors Bill MacDonald, Steve Simpson, Bill Dunlap, and Joe Eddleman. Coach Maroney, optimistic about this year's record, feels that if all the boys improve at the usual rate, P.C.'s fourth undefeated team in five years is a real possibility.

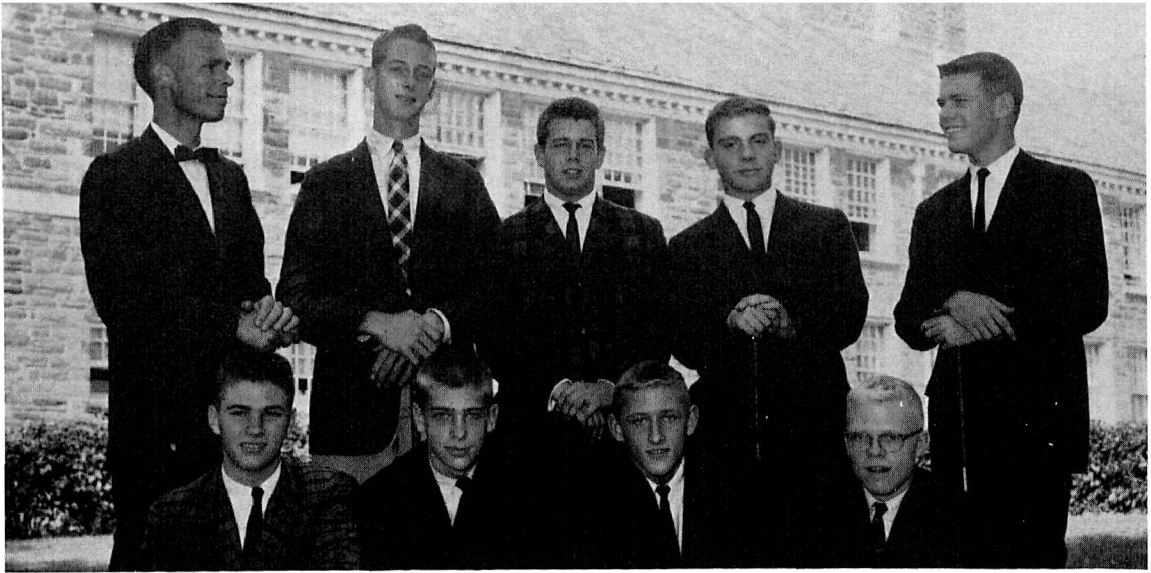

Captain Wills

Steve's backhand

Golf

First Row: Miller, Silcox, Reese, Hedges. Second Row: Mr. Linton, VanSciver, Nestle, Krekstein, Probst.

The 1962 golf team at Penn Charter is looking hopefully toward another Interac championship. With such returning lettermen as Cliff Miller, Mike Krekstein, George Neslie, and this year's captain, Steve Probst, the chances of winning the Interac title for the seventh successive year seem quite good. The team will, however, need the help of the promising Bud Silcox, John Rishel, and Lee Minton, if they hope to fulfill their expectations. With Mr. Linton's able assistance and 100% effort by the team P.C. should take number seven.

"SUCCESS IS NOT DIFFICULT

Education, physical and mental ability, natural adaptability to the calling, capital, environment, associates, opportunity all count in the degree of success. But every man of good health can make some sort of a success and in a simple manner.

. . . Once get the knack of success and it will come so natural to be successful that it will be difficult to become a failure."
