The Class of 2004 has been, and likely will forever be, a work in progress. We are coming together brick by brick, so to speak, forming bonds strong enough to endure throughout our lives. And as we built our class' foundation, there have been comings and goings: people who have entered our lives at Penn Charter and given so much of themselves to us, from whom we are reluctant to take our leave. Two of those who have meant much to our class and the school are Darryl Ford and Allan Brown.

Dr. Ford began his career at Penn Charter as we entered the Middle School. Because we were all newcomers, we learned the ropes together. As we made space for ourselves in the main building, we quickly developed a unique relationship with Dr. Ford. When we felt overwhelmed amidst the older upper schoolers, we sought and always found solace in Dr. Ford's company. Even as we left our safe haven and traveled to the Upper School, the relationship that we had forged with Dr. Ford did not cease; it only grew stronger. All of us carry fond memories of his warm smile and personal greetings. Despite our physical distance from him these past few years, Dr. Ford has maintained an ongoing influence in our lives. We would like to thank him for his help, counsel, and friendship as we journeyed through the school. The Class of 2004 thanks Dr. Ford, and will always treasure the bond it has with him.

As we prepare to graduate, Mr. Brown is in the process of making his own transitions. Over the years, his contributions to Penn Charter have been immeasurable. Whether he was challenging us in the classroom, cheering for us on the fields, laboring over our schedules, or tirelessly working on behalf of students to afford them the opportunity to attend Penn Charter, Mr. Brown has been an influential force in the shaping of this year's senior class. He has been more than a teacher, more than a mentor, more than an advocate. Mr. Brown has given so much of himself to each and every student. From the bottom of our hearts, the Class of 2004 recognizes and honors Mr. Brown for his generosity, concern, and compassion over the years.

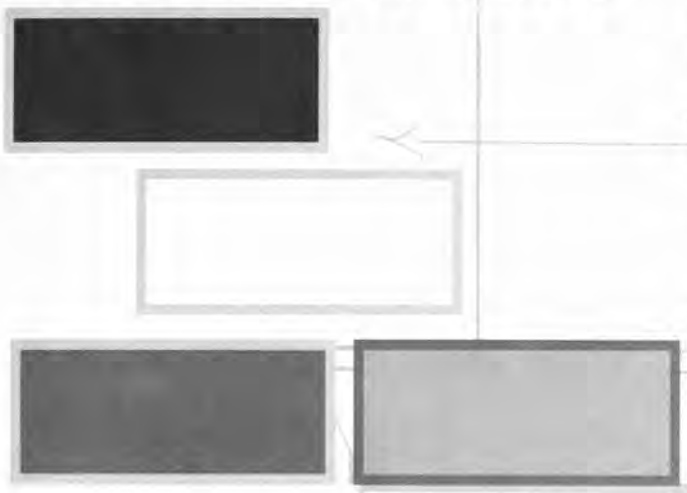

Each member of our class, each person who has touched us, each experience, memory and dream is another 'brick' in our ongoing construction; but here we pause to recognize two of the keystones. For beginning anew with us, for seeing us through, and for continuing to support us up to our final steps here at Penn Charter, we dedicate this Class Record to two outstanding teachers, mentors, friends: Darryl Ford and Allan Brown.

With love, The Class of 2004

Student Life

The activities in this section form a wonderful part of your education. The talents developed, cooperation learned, and friendships formed will remain with you in the future. I believe that the silent reflection and shared voices that are part of Meeting for Worship contribute a sustaining quality to life at Penn Charter and will grow in meaning for you in the years ahead. I had the pleasure of greeting some of you 13 years ago when you visited my office as kindergartners. I have watched class members grow in ability, confidence and leadership. Among you are talented artists, athletes, musicians, and community leaders.

-Earl Ball

When I talk with alumni, our conversations, no matter their graduating class, always ends up with reflections about relationships with classmates, teachers, and coaches. OPCs often speak nostalgically of good times shared while acting in plays, competing in games, and participating in service. Upper School traditions like the Louis Savino Day of Service; the annual Halloween parade; PC/GA Day; class trips to Happiness is Camping; the Holocaust Museum; and Ellis Island; and Color Day are often remembered with great joy and laughter! At a school like Penn Charter, students seem to get involved in so many things beyond the classroom and, as a result of these rich experiences build friendships that last a lifetime.

-Beth Glascott

Student life in Penn Charter's Middle School is alive and well. Students participate in all the sports that Penn Charter offers and take part in friendly intramural competition every blue Friday. Chamber Singers, Sharped Flats, the Jazz Band, and the string ensemble add musical "pizzazz." Students act in a play each year, write for our literary magazine, enjoy our computer club, and create a video yearbook. Students who serve on the Religious Life Committee clerk our Meeting for Business and help plan student socials like dances. Service activities occur each Friday afternoon. There is all this and much more student life in the Richard B. Fisher Middle School.

-Darryl Ford

Student life in the Lower School includes many wonderful opportunities for students to experience new things. In the fall we have the Lower School picnic full of craft making activities. Then comes the annual Lower School Halloween parade with seniors escorting the children. There are opportunities for camping and field trips, enrichment which include all sports, yoga, cooking, art, dance, science and math clubs, community service projects with the Widener School, AlAqsa School, Project SHARE and Stapley Hall, our spring and winter concerts, assemblies, plays, worship sharing groups, and so much more!

Middle School Intramurals

Gummere, Scattergood, Hollowell, Pemberton: all names of prominent Quakers. Of late, notable also as the names of the four teams participating in Middle School Intramurals. Every blue Friday Middle School student play against each other in a form inspired by the four-house competition of the Harry Potter series. (without the flying brooms, of course)

The program, in its second year, has been a great success. Students take part in games such as frisbee, soccer, volleyball, and basketball. These intramurals have been a great opportunity for Middle School students to have fun while competing against and cooperating with one another.

The 117th PC/GA Day

The 117th annual PC/GA day was held at Penn Charter on November 8, 2003.

Although it was a frigid day, the entire school community came out to watch the fall sports teams compete.

November 8th, 2003

To prepare for the big day on Saturday, the Upper School student body participated in the first ever "Penn Charter Wing Bowl." The pep rally followed a successful barbeque on Friday, with a live band and guest appearance from Sam

Katz. Saturday proved to be an extremely satisfying day overall, beginning with seniors and their parents being recognized for their participation in Penn Charter athletics, and culminating with a huge comeback by football to gain a share of the InterAc title. Hundreds of people contributed to the day, including not only players and coaches, but the tech group, grill squad members, and fans as well. Wins from field hockey, water polo, tennis, and football topped off the day giving PC a tie with GA for the Competition Cup.

Day of Service

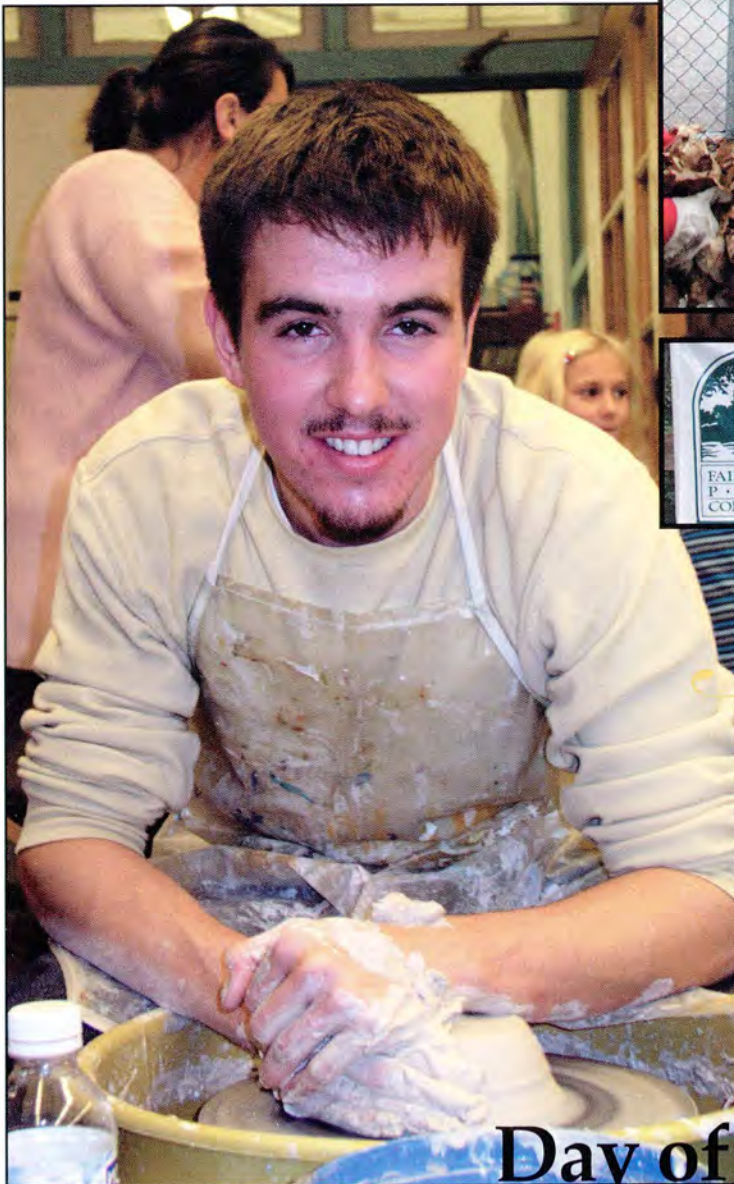

In October 17, 2003, the sixth annual Louis Savino Day of Service was kicked off with an opening assembly featuring Director of Service Learning Jim Ballengee and keynote speaker, Todd Bernstein, who was introduced by co-Service Council clerks Julia Richards and Holly Alderman. Todd Bernstein, who organized the original Philadelphia Martin Luther King, Jr. Day of Service, gave an inspiring speech that set the tone for the day and encouraged everyone to get the most out of service experiences. Once the assembly concluded, Upper School students and faculty alike went out into the community to serve on various projects. The advisory groups took part in a wide range of activities.

October 17th, 2003

From making posters at the Philadelphia AIDS Fund office to picking up trash and clearing out foliage at Historic Rittenhouse Town to staying at PC and painting a mural in the Writing Center, Penn Charter students could be seen throughout the surrounding community making a difference. The day was concluded with a special Meeting for Worship in which the Upper School community had the opportunity to reflect on their service.

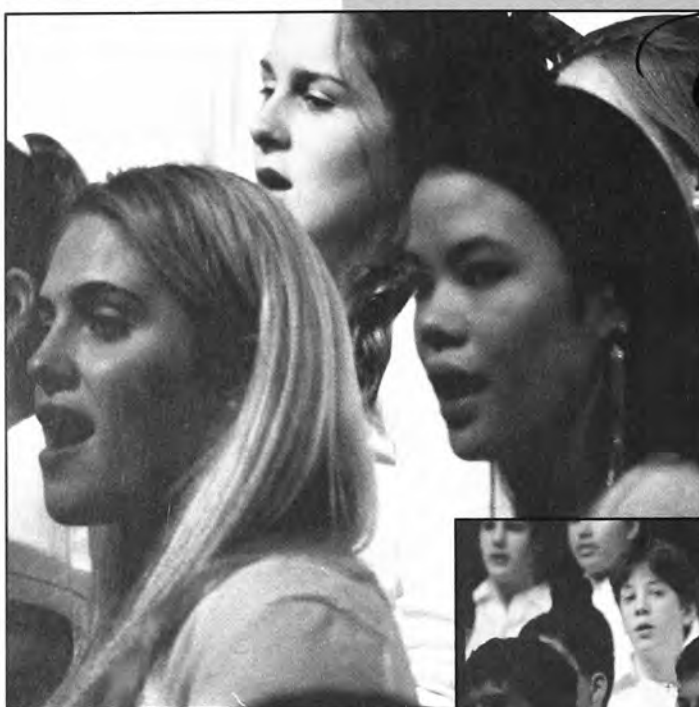

As has happened every year since the initial Day of Service in 1997, the organizations the Upper School served let our community know how much their service was appreciated. Almost immediately after the work was finished, the school received thank-you notes from many of the groups that were served. Mr. Ballengee shared this feedback with the school at a Wednesday assembly, indicating to the student body how much their work meant to the groups they had served.

Artistic Performances

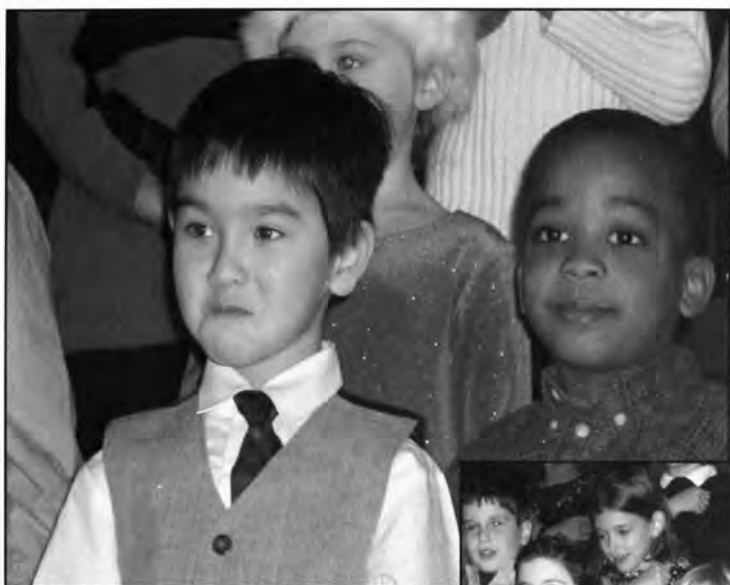

The Upper School Winter Concert warmed the hearts of all on December 11th, 2003. Performing ensembles included: The Upper School Band, The Upper School Chorus, Jazz Band, and The Quaker's Dozen. Highlights included the Chorus' rendition of "The Seven Joys of Christmas" and "All is Well." The Quakers Dozen also performed "Jesus Christ the Apple Tree." The band treated the audience to an exciting, seasonal program. The Jazz Band transported everyone to New Orleans, even if only for a few minutes.

On Tuesday, December 9th, 2003, the school community was entertained by the music of the Middle School Winter Concert, which featured the sounds of the Middle School Jazz Band, Sixth Grade Chorus, Concert Band, Penn Singers, and the newly formed Sixth Grade Band. Highlights of the night included the Concert Band's rendition of Smashmouth's "All Star," the Penn Singer's "Resonet in Laudibus" and the 6th Grade Chorus' performance of "A Light Will Be There," a song that expressed Quaker beliefs.

The Fall Play, Winter Band & Choral Concerts

December 2003 was a month full of musical events, two of which were the Fifty Years of Quaker's Dozen night on the 11th and the Lower School Choral Concert on the 18th. Different generations of QD came together and sang "An Irish Blessing." The Lower School singers performed for the expected packed house, filling the hallways with cheerful, festive music.

The Upper School play was performed on November 14th and 15th; the students performed three energetic comedies called "The Welcoming," "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet," and "Sparks in the Park."

Excursions off campus... Trips

From October 15th-17th Penn Charter eighth graders took part in the traditional Williamsburg trip. Students toured through the town and learned about colonial lifestyle. In addition to being fun, this trip prepared the students for their Williamsburg projects, in which they research and present one specific aspect of colonial life.

On September 24th, 25th, and 26th, the seventh grade took their overnight trip to Camp Victory. This provided a chance for class bonding through various activities.

The fourth graders had a great time on their camping trip, which took place from October 27th-29th. It was a positive experience for these students because they had the opportunity to learn and spend time with each other outside of the school.

The 9th Grade Retreat occurred September 21st-23rd at Camp Happiness. Students had a great time outdoors, doing such activities as a ropes course and zip line. This trip focused mainly on welcoming new freshman into the grade and building a unified class.

Artistic Performances

Ancient times were uproarious, or so the musical, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, would ask us to believe. A plot full of deceptions unfolds, all in order to betrothe the beautiful Philia (Emily Bartlett) to young Hero (Jon Hulting-Cohen), hatched by the scheming Pseudolus (Mike Candelori) and his reluctant accomplice Hysterium (Alex Crozier-Jackson). Willie Naveiro debuted as the clueless and henpecked Senex, who lived next door to Marcus Lycus' (Joey Fugelo) den of iniquity, where the nimble Courtesans (Whitney Joslyn, Sarah Goldberg, Anna Marks, Julia Richards, Julia Bateman and Charlotte Revol) danced. Almost foiling the plot was the pompous Captain Miles Gloriosus (Tim Starr), assisted by the multi-faceted Proteans (Melissa Kagen, Jackie Feinberg, Jessica Kalick, Tony Spizziri). This ensemble, completed by Peter Damm, Amy Tausch and special faculty guest stars as the eunuchs, delivered punch lines perfectly, left audiences roaring, and gave us a good idea of why Rome fell.

After working hard throughout the fall and winter, the Quakers Dozen gave a wonderful performance at this year's A Capella Fest, hosted annually by GFS. With the profound "Find The Cost of Freedom", beautiful "And So it Goes", and hilarious Wizard of Oz medley, the QD certainly left their mark on the night and raised the bar for shows to come.

Student Government

Upper School Council

Community Council

Middle School Grade Representatives

Evidence of student influence in the workings of the school can be seen weekly in Student Council meetings, both in Upper and Middle School, as well as in the meetings of the Community Council, which occur whenever necessary. The Upper School student government at Penn Charter was especially active this year, organizing initiatives for several changes, including a new edition of the dress code. The members of the Student Council worked in conjunction with the administration to introduce proposals to improve the life of the students on campus. In the Middle School, 7th and 8th grade representatives worked hard to get their classmates' voices heard.

The Community Council, the group that assembles to discuss infractions of the Community Code, is composed of students and faculty members, who work to apply the principles of the Code to the actions of the students at Penn Charter. The Council succeeds because it strives for consensus on decisions before making recommendations to the administration. This is an example of how Quaker principles are incorporated into the lives of Penn Charter community members. In the 2003-2004 academic year, the Council met a variety of times to discuss the Community Code in order to make sure that its guidelines are still relevant, proving the strong and dynamic nature of the Code.

Candy for a Cure

Upper School students Jessica Greer Griffith and Elan Jones showed their concern for others and dedication to service in the week preceding Valentine's Day 2004. Several students organized a breast cancer "Candy for a Cure" drive in which people received candy and a pink ribbon in exchange for a donation. The drive was a success because it raised both money and awareness about breast cancer.

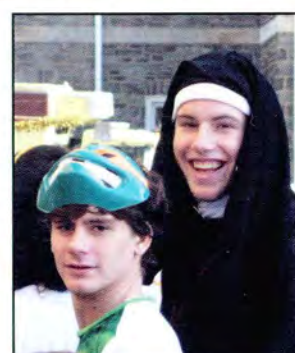

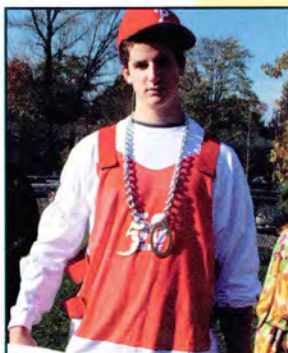

Halloween

This year's traditional Halloween parade was a lot of fun for Lower and Upper Schoolers alike. The day was kicked off with the senior breakfast, during which everyone got a chance to inspect each other's costumes. The students paraded around the school in various outfits, including a toga party, holidays, and superheroes. The school community really enjoyed the break from classes to observe the parade as it went by.

Prophecies

After dropping out of Brown, Holly Alderman cashes in her Passat for a one-way ticket to the Dominican Republic where she lives with her husband, whose only English words are Phish lyrics... Michael Black is discovered by a dance company CEO merely walking down the street and becomes the world's greatest break-dancer... Ashley Bolton will insure her body from the waist down as she takes a job as a stunt body double for Jennifer Lopez... Sue Brennan tells her true story about being a verbally abused Umpa-Lumpa in her one-woman Broadway show: If You are Wise, You'll Cry With Me: The Sour Tale of My Encounters with Sweet Mr. Wonka and his Cane... Reunited with longtime pal Sam H., John Brock, a.k.a "Jebby," decides to take over the Gangsta-Rock scene, and later the world... In a sick attempt to gain a cheap thrill and make an easy $20, neighbors Rich Bryan and Eric Gagne force their brothers to battle it out in a full contact mud wrestling competition where the winning family takes the other's mini-van... Reid Bryansmith, a.k.a RBS, is now Secretary of Treasury for the Jerome B. Wright administration... Mild mannered Aaron Budilov finally goes from Dr. Jekyll to Mr. Hyde as he snaps at a cashier for not giving him exact change... Michael Candelori is expelled from Penn Charter for the following offenses: blue hair (for non-religious reasons), over-animated singing, and repeated violations of the dress code for sporting a scarf, categorized as outdoor apparel... Still basking in the glory of her middle school Bat Mitzvah, Catherine Clair auctions off her infamous gold dress on ebay. Top bidder Kyle Roslyn purchases this sparkling fashion masterpiece for his upcoming independent film, Cyclops Twins... Rebecca Cohen will finally turn that frown upside down and smile for a change... Hockey stick in hand, Dave Layne returns from Random, Ohio in the green Ford Focus, to find Zach Cohn eagerly anticipating his arrival, having called shotgun 51 days prior to their welcoming embrace... Suzanne Cotter will marry Conan O'Brien and will have the longest-haired kids on the street who will also have the greatest coifs... Chelsea Donn, after telling everyone she made it as an actress, is reported to have been seen on local streets just getting ready for her big break as a hobo with an unnatural sense of style and flare for fashion... When asked to comment after winning the gold medal in the 100 freestyle, Christine Eanes had this to say: "Yay Eanes!"... Katherine Entwisle will be caught trying on her favorite weekend employer's athletic apparel one too many times, leaving the children unattended... Devon Erdmanis' professional horseback-riding career comes to an abrupt end when she is trapped in a closet. She survives thanks to the kindness of strangers who pass cheese under the door... Jenn Fabbi's diagnosis for her chronic lung collapse is the fact that she is always screaming (usually at no one in particular, about nothing in particular)... Although they weren't planning on making millions, Eric Feinschil and Biff Gottehrer sell out department stores everywhere with their new cologne, called "Simply Biff." Humbly, they still reside in the Gottehrer's basement... While commuting with The Dark Forces on a quiet morning in the forest, Francis Goldschmid is mistaken for a Russian Bear and became a mounted trophy in J-Soph's remote 'borough cabin... Sick of the nickname "Suzie Q", Susan Goldstein begins straightening her hair (stay tuned)... As the man behind Michael C.'s chorus excommunication, Marc Gross rejoices when he can finally sing and hear his own voice... Dana Harrow promises to take all tests as scheduled...

Prophecies

Dana Harrow promises to take all tests as scheduled... After Kate Hartman's soccer career ended due to too many body piercings, she became an NBA housewife promoting the WMCJ... Hanif Hopkins marries WNBA superstar Lisa Lesley and lives out his basketball dreams vicariously through his gigantic children... Still bitter about the potato famine, Erin Hozack usurps the English throne, fooling them with her authentic British accent... Kathleen Huber beomes in demand as the most popular hosiery and shoe accessory model... Entrepreneur Lee Jacobs hits it big, three times... After spending years perfecting the "human pretzel," Leigh Jamison is pulled over while reportedly attempting to drive with her legs stuck behind her head. She is fined an extra $300 for the big pile of moulding garbage that she calls her car... Vince Johnson is so inspired by Touré's appearance in assembly that he becomes a freelance writer and part-time hip-hop artist, producing his own show "Queer Eye for the 'Odd' Guy"... Separated at birth, sisters Laura Kaesshaefer and Michal Wachs are finally reunited, brought together by their true calling, The Class Record. They can be spotted slinking through the shadows by the boiler room, muttering words such as "pica" and "cropper"... After pumping her collar, Megan Kaesshaefer (Gemelita numero uno) struts down the halls of Old Penn Charter, where she will live for the rest of her life, alongside husband Colin Hitschler... Alison Kessler finally discovered the volume of her voice; she is now deaf... Rob Kurz, after growing to a mammoth eleven feet, eight inches, realizes that his purpose is to help mankind, and hence he donated his sweatshirts to less fortunate countries, allowing them to construct shelters that last for years... Greg Lewis changes his name to a more fashionable "G-Lew" after hitting it big as a male model, advertising Ugg Boots... After being spotted by a Spanish talent scout, Amanda MacCullough changes her name to Isabella and moves to Spain, posing as the premier cover girl to promote tourism for La Alhambra... Dave McEnerney gets a job that is five minutes from his house; however, he is fired in a year because he only reported eight days the whole year, three of which were just to use the shiny company bathroom... After a nasty breakup, Bill Scarpato and Terry Moore are hunted down by VH1's "Bands Reunited" and "One Hit Wonders" to revive their glory days when the "Whiz Withs" were chart toppers... Trekking through the Irish moors, Ed Morrone searches for the perfect Gaelic bride, one who will insure freckles and red hair... In culinary school, Chris Mouzon earned the nick name "Friendly Purple" as he made each dish his own by color coordinating them with his outfits... Dan Mozes finally moves to Bilbao, but realizing that saying "Beel-Bao" loses its appeal after two days, he is mauled by a group of local town folk... Chris Nation travels throughout the world leaving tokens of his esteem in every nook and cranny he could find... Wilfredo Naveiro, after graduating in 2026, opens a new dating service called "Wilfredo's Cubano Connection." Unfortunately, no one applies, mistaking his company for an Alfredo vendor... Alex Neff returns to her homeland of the Mohican Indian Tribe and begins a revolutionary uprising... Emmalyn Yue and Nikki Negron, still without licenses, but adorned with hats, scarves, arm bands, and sunglasses, hitchhike across America, picking up rides from mustachioed musicians... Peter O'Keefe gets a job as a mop, but after a tragic cleanup job he is hospitalized for a brain hemorrhage due to consistent, high-pitched laughter; he will be revered as the happiest mop that ever lived... John Peet takes over for Fred as faculty mentor to the Mirror, and can be seen cruising around in the tan Ford Escort Station wagon blasting QD Christmas 2002... After missing a clutch penalty kick at the Women's World Cup, Liz Perelman, when asked to comment on the heartbreaking loss, blames her lack of focus on a petite, disguised woman shrieking from the sidelines... Stacy Petro changes her name to Princess Anastasia and claims to be the legitimate heir to the Russian throne... Julia Richards goes back in time to the 1920's, where she finds her niche in a smoky jazz club as the girl with the sequined dress... After being cast as the head munchkin in a Broadway revival of the Wizard of Oz, Sarah Rogers gets her big break into show business leading to roles such as Annie and Tiny Tim... Emms Ronan is going to gamble and lose big in the SAT tutoring business. She seeks solace in NBC weatherman Adam Shelly, who promises a sunny forecast for the future... Tired of having to commute so far to school, Matthew Rosenberg founds a satellite William Penn Charter School campus in New Jersey... Jessica Roskam enchances her look by getting a few other body piercing. She can be found slamming feminist poetry and listening to Ani DiFranco in a Canadian Coffee Shop... The elusive yet ingenious Andrew Royal starts his own fortune 500 company but blows his earnings on extremely overpriced baby powder... Renita Sales breaks the record as the first female to win the New York Marathon, with P-Diddy and his entourage on her heels... Lee Saltzman becomes the newest reality show host, taking Fear Factor to the "steam-boat" level... Preeti Shah wins the Nascar 500 in her yellow Mazda coupe, her boyfriend riding shotgun... After having her car confiscated by the city of Philadelphia for being too good at parallel parking, Molly Sharbaugh's only mode of transportation is a scull... Succumbing to public pressure, Peter Silow embroiders crimson "A's" onto every one of his shirts... Germ-a-phobe Corey Thomas abandons long-time best bud Jordan Silverstein after he commits the unthinkable: double dipping his celery stick into a dish of fat free balsamic vingagrette dressing... Sean Singletary spends part of his NBA years in an anger management clinic, along with Al and Kobe... Dave Skinner, or "Skins," according to his pals, tickles the ivories daily in hopes to one day play with the "Whiz Withs"... Julia Soffa's fantasies finally come true when she marries her senior citizen college English professor. Upon his death, she inherits his money to found her own dance company, exclusively devoted to '80s interperative movement... Josh Sperling disappears after an extreme wrestling regimen... Tim Starr stages a coup in Western Europe, reinstates feudalism, becomes king of the vassals, and then takes over Cuba... Michael Stephenson, after receiving his MBA, becomes the poster child for Republican, suburban, middle class values... David Sullivan, J. Crew model and "Horse and Hound: 'Man of the Year'" plans to skip college and move to Matt's Caucasia... After the success of his Sun Festivals, Will Sun becomes a party planner, hosting a palooza every fullmoon... Matt Sutherland returns to his roots as an uptight white man in Caucasia who plays the stocks, after realizing that he doesn't have the "funk"... Jeff "Suway" miraculously saves the panda species... Chris Walling, upon missing the match-winning putt in the PGA Masters, spits on the green, bites the officials, and drowns his caddie... After her new movie, Legally Blonde 3, The Gilded Road to Broadway fails, Naomi Weiss lives off her family... Liz Wendel publishes her first kid-friendly book, entitled "How Many Different Ways to Wear Your Hair." Color pencils included... Jason Windmoeller transfers from Drexel to Brigham Young University when he realizes that polygamy can make him the BMOC... Jerome Wright will become the second black president of America, (after Al Sharpton) and then he will become elected president for life, giving us "the best lifetime" yet... Scott Yorko loses his eyesight trying to read the numbers on ever-diminishing wrestling scoreboards.

First off I would like to thank my parents, Mom: You have been like a best friend to me and have always been there for me. I couldn't have asked for anyone better than you. Thanks so much for everything. I'll always be your little princess. Dad: I couldn't have asked for a funnier parent than you. You always make me smile and I want you to know that no matter what I'll always be your little girl, forever. I love you guys! Enrique and Gina: Thanks so much for always being there and helping me out whenever you could. Zach: I'm so lucky to have a little brother like you that always picked on me when we were growing up. I love you so much and good luck next year! Pop Pop and Grandmom- You two are the most caring grandparents. Thank you so much for everything you have done. I'm so lucky to have you as grandparents, I love you. Now most importantly, my best friends: M.K, L.K, K.E, S.R, A.M- I couldn't have imagined having better friends then you guys. We have stuck by each other through everything and I can't imagine going through life without you. We have spent so much time together and I will never forget any of it. I know that I will never find greater friends than you guys. I'm going to miss you guys so much next year, I love you!! K.H, S.B, C.C, E.H, S.P, M.S, J.F, L.P, D.E- You guys have been such good friends over the years and I will never forget what each of you have done for me. I love you guys! L.I, C.R, B.B, J.B, VA, J.T, K.M- For some reason you guys can always put me in a good mood and whenever I'm around you I always act my childish ways. You know I will always be here for guys and I will miss you so much! LEI- It's amazing how we became such good friends in only two years. You are someone that I share all my stories with only knowing that I will get stories in return. I'm going to miss you so much next year but I will never ever forget you. Your such an amazing person, don't ever forget that! I love you Lauren! John- I don't know what I would have done with out you all this time. You mean so much to me and I hope you never forget that. I will always be here for you no matter what, I love you.

I just would like to thank my entire family for all of the support they have given me through the years. Mom and Dad- You guys really are the best, thanks so much for everything you've done. Ned- You really are my best friend, we've had a lot of good times, and a lot of good arguments over the years, I hope you have a great time over the next two years...don't do anything I wouldn't do. Tommy and Clay- You guys are great brothers and I have had a great time growing up with you guys. Gagne- Thanks for everything you've done for me over the past two years. I don't think that I would've had nearly as much fun as I have had at PC if it weren't for you. Good luck next year wherever you end up. Jason- Man, did we have a fun couple of years. Thanks for everything you've done for me, and good luck next year at Drexel. Mr. McCloskey- You have helped teach me some very important lessons about life, on and off the football field. Thanks for everything. Mr. Schilling- Thanks for all of the advising, and occasionally coming to meeting for worship.- Thanks to all of the other faculty and friends that have provided me with the unforgettable experience that Penn Charter created for me.

Best street ever ... you can't bring those lawnchairs in here... mischief night... the dump... I hope you don't mind me barging in like this.

In spite of the profession I've chosen, I've never actually confessed before. It's these times we live in. I did what it took to protect the children at any cost. That's how I always justified my actions. I took many people's lives, all that time believing there was no other way. My sins are so heavy...too heavy...too heavy to ever atone for. And yet, somehow I feel happy, at peace with myself today. It really can be done. Once you stop to think about it, there are plenty of ways to save everyone. Why didn't I ever listen to him? Why didn't I see that before it was too late?

[Lights a cigarette and pulls back on it, blowing out the smoke.]

That tastes good.

I'm sorry, honey. If I am reincarnated, I'd like to live somewhere where life is easier. Somewhere with nothing but peaceful days. Somewhere with no stealing, no killing. Eden. In Eden, I could live with him and the girls...

Eehn...ughn!

I'm not ready yet. There's still so much to be done. I wanna stay! With them! I don't want to die!! Ughn! I'm a man....

Was everything I did in my life a mistake? Would I be wrong now to ask for your forgiveness?

[Tears slide down his cheeks. He looks up to the heavens.]

I did not want to die this way!!!

"You find out life's this game of inches, so is football. Because in either game -- life or football -- the margin for error is so small. I mean, one half a step too late or too early and you don't quite make it. One half second too slow, too fast and you don't quite catch it. The inches we need are everywhere around us. They're in every break of the game, every minute, every second. On this team we fight for that inch. On this team we tear ourselves and everyone else around us to pieces for that inch. We claw with our fingernails for that inch. Because we know when add up all those inches, that's gonna make the difference between winning and losing! Between living and dying! I'll tell you this, in any fight it's the guy who's willing to die who's going to win that inch. And I know if I'm going to have any life left in me anymore, it's because I'm still willing to fight for that inch. Cause that's what living is, the six inches in front of your face." -- Al Pacino

"To laugh is to risk appearing the fool.
To weep is to risk appearing sentimental.
To reach out for another is to risk involvement.
To expose your feelings is to risk exposing your true self.
To place your ideas, your dreams before a crowd is to risk their loss.
To love is to risk not being loved in return.
To live is to risk dying.
To hope is to risk despair.
To try it is to risk failure.
But, risks must be taken because the greatest hazard in life is to risk nothing at all. The person who risks nothing still does not avoid suffering and sorrow because suffering and sorrow are an unavoidable part of life. What they avoid by not taking risks is the opportunity to learn, feel, change, grow, love, live. Chained by their certitudes, they are a slave. The have forfeited their freedom. Only a person who risks is free."

-- Ralph Waldo Emerson

"What is REAL?" asked the Rabbit one day...
"Does it happen all at once, or bit by bit?"
"It doesn't happen all at once," said the Skin Horse. "You become. It takes a long time. That's why it doesn't often happen to people who break easily, or have sharp edges, or who have to be carefully kept. Generally, by the time you are Real, most of your hair has been loved off, and your eyes drop out and you get loose in the joints and very shabby. But these things don't matter at all, because once you are Real you can't be ugly, except to people who don't understand." -- Margery Williams, The Velveteen Rabbit

"Here's to the crazy ones.
The misfits.
The rebels.
The troublemakers.
The round pegs in the square holes.
The ones who see things differently.

They're not fond of rules.
And they have no respect for the status quo.

You can praise them, disagree with them, quote them,
disbelieve them, glorify or vilify them.

About the only thing you can't do...

...is ignore them.

Because they change things.

They invent. They imagine. They heal.
They explore. They create. They inspire.
They push the human race forward.

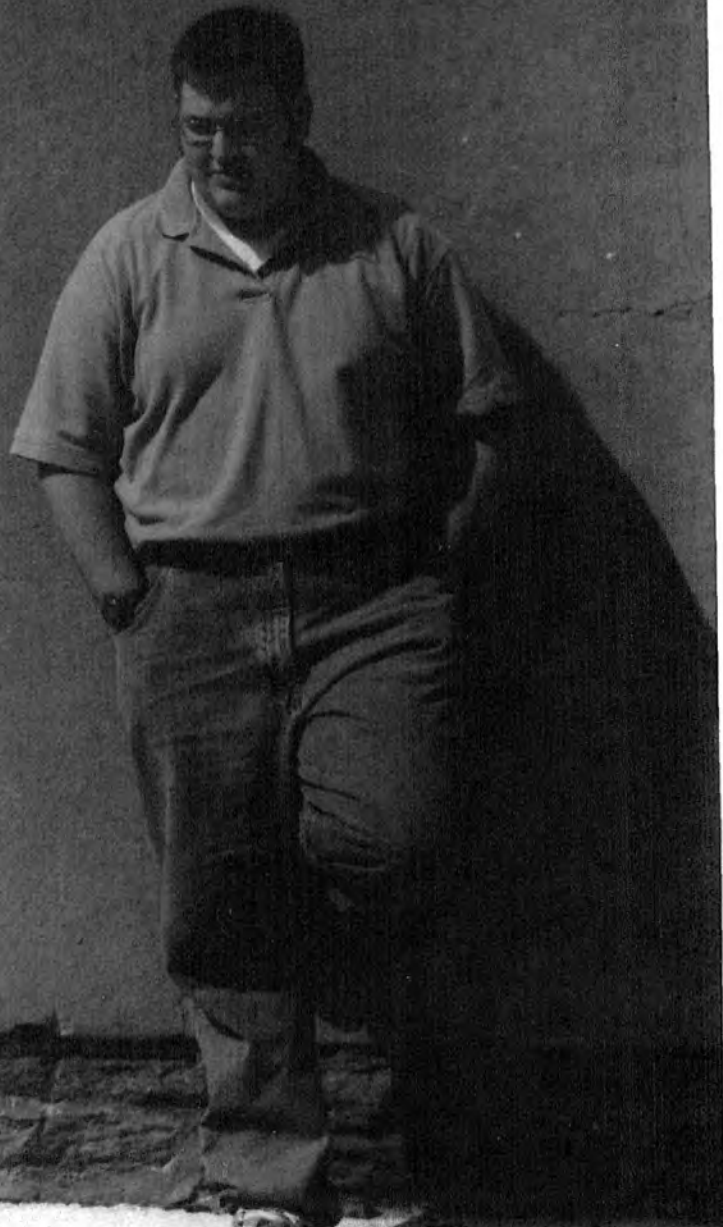

Maybe they have to be crazy.

How else can you stare at an empty canvas and see a work of art?

Or sit in silence and hear a song
that's never been written?

While some see them as the crazy ones,
others see genius.

Because the people who are crazy enough to think they can change the world, are the ones who do."

Mom and Dad- My appreciation for your love, guidance, and support throughout my life cannot be expressed in words. You truly are perfect parents. You know when to help, and when to let me live my life and learn on my own. I thank you for every unbelievable act of love you have done for me. You have given me the understanding and strength to proceed to the next stage of my life. BCohn- What up Bro! You have always been my best friend and have always directed me down the right path whenever I needed help. Thanks for everything, I truly appreciate it even though I never say it. Friends- To my closest friends, for most of us it has been 13 years together. We have been through a lot, some good and some bad, but always together. Thanks for all the memories, and now as we all go our separate ways we need to remember to always keep helping one another as we enter the real world. Michal- You have become my closest friend and have made the past few years of my life truly amazing. Thanks for everything, I love you. PC- To all of my teachers, you are great role models and all of your hard work makes a difference in all of our lives. Thanks. I have been at Penn Charter for thirteen years and I am going to miss it. There have been very few bad days there. To everyone- take advantage of the opportunities given to you because the ones given at PC are rare.

Thank You's

There a few people that I feel it is very important to thank. First and for most I would like to thank my parents and my sister, Lindsay, for always supporting me and putting up with me for 18 years. Second I would like to thank all my friends for always being there for me no matter what, and helping me to relax whenever Penn Charter seemed to be "too much" at times. Lastly I would like to thank all of my teachers, who have done above and beyond what is listed in their job descriptions. Many of you have even become my friends and mentors and I would never have gotten through Penn Charter without all of your great help.

Thanks

Stand Here With Me
"You always reached out to me and helped me believe
All those memories we share
I will cherish every one of them
The truth of it is there's a right way to live
And you showed me
So now you live on in the words of a song
You're a melody
You stand here with me now
Just when fear blinded me
you taught me to dream
I'll give you everything I am and still fall short of What you've done for me
In this life that I live
I hope I can give love unselfishly
I've learned the world is bigger than me
You're my daily dose of reality
You stand here with me now"

To my family- thanks so much for always putting up with me. I don't know what I'm going to do without you next year. In the 17 years we've spent together, I could never forget all the good times we've shared. I'm going to miss you so much, and don't ever forget that I love you with all my heart. AB, MK, LK, SR, AM- you guys are the greatest friends I have ever had. I don't know what I'm going to do without you next year. You guys seriously get me through school each day, you are always there to make me laugh. I could never, ever forget the fun times we've had. I love you guys so much, and good luck in everything you do. To my other girls- MS, SP, CC, JF, EH, MW, ER- good luck next year! I'll miss you so much, thanks for all the good memories! Mrs. White- thanks so much for everything you've done for me, and for always being there for me to bother. I'll miss you so much. DL: Thanks for always being there for me. Good luck with hockey. Lauren- I am so glad we have become such good friends, and I'm going to miss you so much, but just remember that I am only a phone call away. Class of 2004- good luck in everything. To all my teachers: Thanks for helping me get through school; I'll miss you!

Kate- We've been best friends for many years and I wouldn't know what to do without you at school. Thanks for showing me how to have a good time and for always being there when I needed you. Luv ya! Sue- These 4 years of Upper School have been the best 4 years of my life because of our friendship. PC would not have been the same without you there. We have so many memories. I luv ya! Preeti- You've been a great friend since Middle School and I've had so many funny times with you. You've always been there for me and supported me. I'm gonna miss you Bubba Ray! Kellie- I've known you since we were real little and we've grown up together playing "Models Inc." and making music videos. Thanks for soo many great years of friendship and for always supporting me and giving me "self-confidence". I luv ya! Chels- You've been more than any sister could ask for. You always supported me and were behind me on everything. You showed me how to have a good time. I wouldn't choose anyone but you to be my role model and the person I look up to. I love you! Mom and Dad- Words can't express how grateful I am for your love and support that have helped me get through 13 years at PC and showing me through example, how to be a good Christian. Thanks so much for all you've done for me and for pushing me on when I felt like I was stuck. I love you! Mom-Mom- You've always been around to talk when I needed you and were always loving and supportive in everything I did. I've had so many good memories from your house, and you taught me to stick up for myself. Thanks so much for all you've done for me. I love you! To all the girls: AB, LK, MK, AM, SR, KE, JF, CE, RC, LW, JR, SC, CD, JT. Thanks for all the memories and making my Upper School years great!

Mom: You are truly my angel. God blessed me with the greatest mom I could ever need. You have been there through everything. Thank you. I love you. Dad: We are similar in many ways and you have taught me so much about life and I would not know who I would be today without you or mom. Thank you. Pop: I miss you so much and life has been hard without you, but I know you are still watching over me and everything I do is for you! I miss you and love you. C: Thanks for being a great sister and an even better best friend. You have guided me through Upper School and I hope you will continue to guide me in life. Don't ever change. Mark and Ant: You guys give me the biggest headaches in the world, but I love you guys. Keep working hard in school. BG: My second mom. You have been my guiding light throughout H.S., and you have done so much for me that words couldn't express how much you mean to me. I don't know how I would have done anything without your love and support. You know me better than anyone and I'm going to miss you so much. Thanks for everything! Mr. Clark: What to say... you are my straight up bulldog. There is no one else I want to talk to when I get in trouble. You are definitely a role model and I hope to be half the person you are when I get older. Give me "two". L.K.: Thank you so much for your friendship. What would I have done without you? Who would I call? The loop, the GA football game, the PC-GA dance, the driving to Guam every weekend and there are so many more memories. I love you hunny..BFF! Shelly: You are my sister that God forgot to give me. Thank you for being there when no one wanted to be. You have stayed with me through thick and thin and that's why we are forever friends! A Soul in Tension That's Learning to Fly
(Samplings of The Doors, Pink Floyd, and Robert Frost)

Carry me Caravan take me away.
Tell me where your freedom lies
The streets are fields that never die
Deliver me from reasons why
You'd rather cry, I'd rather fly.
Ice is forming on the tips of my wings
My grubby halo, a vapor trail in the empty air,
Across the clouds I see my shadow fly
A soul in tension that's learning to fly
Condition grounded but determined to try.

So, do you think you can tell Heaven from Hell,
Blue skies from pain?
Can you tell a green field
From a cold steel rail?
A smile from a veil?
Do you think you can tell?

Our days are bright and filled with pain
Enclose me in your gentle rain.
I found an island in your arms
Country in your eyes;
I see your hair is burnin'
Hills are filled with fire,
If they say I never loved you,
You know they are a liar.

Hey you, out there on your own
Sitting naked by the phone
Would you touch me?
Hey you, with you ear against the wall
Waiting for someone to call out
Would you touch me?
Hey you, don't help them to bury the light.
Don't give in, without a fight.
It hurts to set you free
But you'll never follow me
The end of laughter and soft lies
The end of nights we tried to die.
We're just two lost souls
Swimming in a fish bowl,
Year after year,
Running over the same old ground.
What have we found?
The same old fears.
Wish you were here.

Of our elaborate plans, the end
Of everything that stands, the end
No safety or surprise, the end
I'll never look into your eyes...again
This is the end
Beautiful friend
This is the end

My only friend, the end
Between the woods and frozen lake
The darkest evening of the year.
Of easy wind and downy flake.
The woods are lovely, dark, and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep.

WOW!!! Who would've thought I would have made it this far. I never thought I would finally get here and here I am. Writing this makes me joyous and scared at the same time. I am happy because I am going on to the next level and I am scared because I don't what I am going to face out there but I know Penn Charter has prepared me very well. I have a lot of people to thank for helping me along the way. I have to thank Penn Charter and the teachers for helping me and teaching me about life and how to work. I would like to thank my football coaches, Mr. McCloskey and Coach Bass and Duke. You all have helped me mature into a player and as a person, thank you. I would like to thank my friends for being there and for having good times together, even though you all suck in Madden. There has been a lot of good times and some bad but they never affected us. I would like to thank the junior class for taking all of our football players and I hope you guys win the title next year for a possible three-peat. I would like to thank the older boys for being there and helping me grow and mature as a man even though I act childish at times, almost as bad as you guys. From going to Eagles games and going to the Meadowlands there is always good times, if we win. From watching TV, and watching film and doing other stuff you guys have always been there for me, thank Rodge, Brendan, Jon, and Stiles for being there and helping me every step of the way, and yes our football team could beat your team. I would like to thank my sister Beth and Dad for being there and helping me and being there. To Beth have fun when I am gone and be good to mom and dad next year. Dad, I love you and I will always love you and I will miss your crazy antics. To Mom, you are the reason why I am here at this point in my life. With out your love and help I would not be where I am today and I will succeed in life for you and my goal is to make you proud. You are my inspiration and I thank you for everything. I would like to thank Hap because he was everything to me, a great leader, a brother and a great friend. He helped me in every way possible and I owe my life to him, I miss you. "I don't know what to say really. Three minutes to the biggest battle of our professional lives. And we can stay here, get the @$$* kicked out of us, or we can fight our way back into the light. We can climb outta hell... one inch at a time. You find out life's this game of inches, so is football. Because in either game -- life or football -- the margin for error is so small. I mean, one half a step too late or too early and you don't quite make it. One half second too slow, too fast and you don't quite catch it. The inches we need are everywhere around us. We've had some great times, never forget them. Ashley- I'll never forget our valuable talks we've had over the years. Thanks for everything. Willie-I still consider you a best friend. We've taught each other a lot; I'll never forget. Thanks for being there-I know you'll be here if I need someone. Dana-You're crazy, but I love it. 16 years=so many laughs and memories that I'll never forget. You're my sister forever. Jenna-We may not always get along, but you'll always be my sister and I'll always love you. Thanks for everything. Stay out of trouble. Gram&Pop, you make sure I have what I need. Gram, thanks for your stories that make me smile. I Love You both. Forrest J- Sometimes you're really mean, but you find your ways to treat me like gold. Thanks for looking out for me and teaching me what's best. I Love You. Sue&Devon-We have too many memories to even remember. We are more like sisters than best friends, which is why our friendship is so strong. You both have been there for me through thick and thin-it's hard to express my gratitude. Don't ever change for anyone. I'll never forget you both, because I know our friendship will last forever. I Love You both. John Zack- You're a great person and I consider it a privilege to know you. I am proud of you, and I am proud of our relationship. We've been through a lot, and we've managed to work everything out. You're always by my side, making sure I'm okay, and that's why you are my best friend. I cherish our friendship more than anything. Thanks for everything 'Stinker'. I Love You. Mom-Thanks for your guidance, love and support. We've managed to come out on top and be happy during the worst of times. You're the glue that holds our family together-I don't know what I'd do without you. I can talk to you about anything-thanks for being my best friend. I Love You so much. Daddy-It's hard to tell the most important person in your life how much they mean to you, but I'm going to try. You always make sure I am happy, live a strong and healthy life, do the right thing, and have my own 'identity'. Thanks to you, I have and I do all of those things. We may not always see eye to eye, but we get along. Thanks for 'bugging' me with your million questions, and your screaming from the sidelines. I know you do it because you love me and need to know I'm okay, and I am, thanks to you. I am happy of who you've guided me to be. You are my shining star-without you I would be lost. Even though I'm going to college, I will always be your little 'Buglyn'. I'll never forget everything you've done for me, and I'll never ever forget you. I Love You so much Daddy, don't forget- "you always have me"...

Mom and Dad: I love you so much. You are so important to me. Thank you for always being there for me. You've taught me so many things, and without you two I wouldn't be the way I am today. I love you!!

Cathy, Bryan, and Jamie: what would I do without you guys? You mean the world to me. You keep me in check and you are always there to help me when I need you. I love you all so much.

To my friends: The time we've spent together has been amazing. We've been through a lot together. Oh, the good times. I love you all!

Caroline and David,
You are more than my brother and sister; we are the best of friends. I want you to know that no distance will ever change that. I am in great debt to both of you for the countless times you have managed to brighten
my darkest day.
Forever I will carry the innumerable memories and unending bouts of laughter we have shared. You are unique, strong, and talented individuals, and I am so grateful to have been able to know such tremendous people. Thank you for being you. I love you both...

Mom and Dad,
I want to thank you for everything you have given me. I am so blessed to have such a wonderful life provided through your trust, love, and care.
There are countless moments that you have been there to comfort me, support me, or just believe in me. I would not be the young woman I am today had it not been for the strong foundation of devotion and love you have provided me with as a basis for my life. You have allowed me to venture out into the world without restraint. Even though you may not be holding my hand still, you must know that I will always carry you in my heart. I love you...

To all of my friends: I without a doubt have the best friends in the world. I love you all for everything we have experienced and everything we have to look forward to. You are each so profoundly special to me in your own ways, and I do not know where I would be without your individual personalities, constant support, and much appreciated love. To my honorary older sister Mary: thank you for all the laughs and all your guidance. d.s: "Some shudder at the thought of rain; oh not me, I smile for after rain comes sunshine."-coldplay. All of my love to: QD Italy '03 (balcony& Em- love you!), Fury girls, PC Softball Team (make me proud girls!). To all of my teachers: I am forever and sincerely thankful for all you have taught me. Penn Charter has been my second home since I crawled down its hallways seventeen years ago. I am forever humbled, inspired and touched by the people, ideals and attitudes that inhabit this profound place; and shall carry those with me each and every day of my life. To my family: Nanny, you are the best! I love every minute with you and will always admire your poise, strength and the way you absolutely love your life. U.M: Thank you so much for your wisdom, love and all the unforgettable laughs. To my sister Megan, without whom I cannot live: I thank God every day for giving me you...you truly are my angel. Ggssl. To the handsomest boy in the world: Scotty: your humor and energy is something I always have and will continue to admire. I love you so much Bud and hope you realize how unbelievably special you are to me. Mom & Dad: I am convinced I have the two greatest parents in the world. I love you both more than anything and your strength, support, enthusiasm, and love have touched and guided me more than you may ever know.

The girls- how did I get so lucky? Thank you for always making me laugh and never once letting me forget how important it is to appreciate those you love. Each of you are beautiful and intelligent young women whose unique talents will get you incredibly far in whatever you choose to pursue. I love you! Mary- you are my honorary older sister, thank you so much for always looking out for me. Uncle Mike- thank you for all of your guidance, my love for you is always shining. Nanny- you are the kindest and most wonderful Grandma a girl could ever have! Scotty- you brighten up my day with that handsome smile of yours. You have the greatest sense of humor out of anyone I know, and your ability to fill those around you with so much happiness is what I love about you most. I am so blessed to have you in my life, and am extremely proud of you. Laura- my support, my partner in crime, my twiny, to the person who knows me better than anyone...what a lonely world it would be if I didn't have you by my side; ggss! forever and for always. Mommy and Daddy- you two are incredible. I only hope that I can aspire to be half as compassionate, genuine, and loving as you two are. Your chickie noodle loves you with all of her heart, God only knows what I'd be without you. To the Class of 2004- go

Always remember that those who possess the purest happiness in life are those who forever cling to their individual passions and disregard criticism from others, enjoying life simply for what it's worth and nothing else. Much love- to my PC softball girls, QD (Emily I love you), Sam (good luck in school!), and those teachers who have inspired me to pursue what I am passionate about, and have made Penn Charter the incredible place it is. I thank God for the wonderful people that are in my life.

First off, I would like to thank my Mom and Dad for all their love and support over the years. I can't tell you how much I appreciate everything you have done for me. You have been the best parents and I wouldn't be where I am today if it wasn't for you guys. I would also like to thank my brother and sister for always being there for me. Also, I have to thank Jeanne for being the best grandparent and friend over the years. Last, but not least, I have to thank Coach Phillips for all that he has done for me. I can't tell you enough how much I appreciate all the time and effort you have spent helping me out over the last three years.

To Mom and Dad: I probably don't tell you guys this enough, but I do appreciate everything you have done for me and taught me over these past 18 years. I have had some great teachers, but none as great as you. You have always been there for me when I have needed you, and have always supported me in all my endeavors, thank you. To Andy: Just remember that I am always going to be larger than you and I will be there to smack you if you pull any pranks when I'm away, so don't have too much fun without me. To My Friends: We have had some good times here at PC over the last 13 years, good luck next year dudes. To Kath: I'll always cherish the time we have spent together, and the only thing I regret is having to leave so soon. I'll never forget the memories that we've made in our time together, thanks for making these last few years so memorable. I'll miss you next year, good luck!

HEY NOW... Well I guess it's finally over, and even though I'd like to say it all went by so fast, it didn't. But it's still been a great time. I gotta thank some people because this might be the only chance I get to do it. Mom- I don't know what I'm going to do without you next year. You've always been there for me, and have raised me to be the man that I am today. I love you. Dad- I'm so glad we've spent so much time together these past couple years. You always tell me not to be like you, but you know what? If I can be half the man you are, then I'll be darn lucky. I love you. Mike- Although we're cousins, you've been like the brother I never had. I hope as we get older we still stay close. Bill- Can't believe you're gone, kid. I just wish I coulda told you how much you meant to me, but I know you're up there playin ball and smiling down on all of us. RIP my brother. To my friends- mr, mb, jb, ws, ls, ts, jw- it's been real fellas. To my teachers- Ms. Glascott, Dr. Bonnie, Mr. Gordon, Mr. Uhlmann, Ms. Krieger, and everyone else who guided me through this, I couldn't have made it without any of you. I'd like to get away from earth awhile And then come back to it and begin over. May no fate willfully misunderstand me. And half grant what I wish and snatch me away
Not to return. Earth's the right place for love: I don't know where it's likely to go better. I'd like to go by climbing a birch tree And climb black branches up a snow-white trunk Toward heaven, till the tree could bear no more, But dipped its top and set me down again. That would be good both going and coming back. One could do worse than be a swinger of birches.

- Robert Frost

After a while you learn the subtle difference between holding a hand and chaining a soul and you learn that love doesn't mean leaning and company doesn't always mean security. And you begin to learn that kisses aren't contracts and presents aren't promises and you begin to accept your defeats with your head up and your eyes ahead with the grace of woman, not the grief of a child and you learn to build all your roads on today because tomorrow's ground is too uncertain for plans and futures have a way of falling down in mid-flight. After a while you learn that even sunshine burns if you get too much so you plant your own garden and decorate your own soul instead of waiting for someone to bring you flowers.

And you learn that you really can endure
you really are strong you really do have worth and you learn
and you learn
with every goodbye, you learn...

I would like to thank all my friends for making my time at Penn Charter a meaningful and everlasting experience. Thank you teachers for helping me find the joy in learning. Most importantly, thank you Mom and Dad for allowing me to experience these wonderful opportunities. I love you.

There are places I remember
All my life though some have changed
Some forever, not for better
Some have gone and some remain
All these places have their moments
With lovers and friends I still can recall

It's been a solid to extra solid 13 years at Penn Charter. I can absolutely say I worked as hard as I could when I faced 4th and 15 with the opposition running a full court press, I played as hard as I could in all my athletic events, and most importantly I played off the court as hard as possible. That's the whole point of school, to have as much fun as possible. Yet I didn't do it all by myself, I received some help along the way and I would like to thank them: To my family, thanks for every ounce of support even though I didn't want it 3/4 of the time. Thanks to my teachers, especially Mrs. Davis for sticking with me in AP Chem. I would like to thank my coaches; Charlie, you taught me how to swim when I was a toddler, and you taught me everything I know about water polo. Hitch and Erd, thanks for working my butt off in wrestling practice. Last off: To my CV rd. crew, SG, HM, DC, and EG... getting arrested on mischief night... doing mischief on weekends grades 6-9... summer at pcc almost expelled... That first night at SG's... "Got to know your limit"... "Paintball" and "soccer" at the Dump... DMB concert... Hitting on girls, especially old ones... getting in trouble at EG's Shore house... You guys are awesome, good luck next year at CHA and good luck at college. To my old school friends, BS, MB, ZC, DL, CN, JP, BG, and JS... Sperls dominates everyone in lower school... DL and BS doing something under table... DL and WS fight for AM... BS valentine rhyme... what happened to WS...

I have been friends with some of you for 13 years, the past has been fun, I know all of you will rock the @-spot in the future. To my core, SY, DM, NN, EH, JBW... scott gets car... trips to youngs... night before DoS... Kings garden... "Si"... "Go away I don't want you now"... Free Bird... I've got much more where that came from, you guys rock. I will miss every- one; no joke, I love you all.

You have given me unlimited opportunities and I hope I can make you proud. I love you both. Mary and Kathleen: I have always looked up to you to show me what to do. Thanks for always being there when I have needed you most. I know I haven't always shown it, but I love you both and I am proud to call you my sisters. Muddy: I know I always drive you crazy, but I only do it because I love you. Thank you for all the birthday songs, meals, and love. Aunt Beth: You have always been someone I could talk to about anything. Thanks for always being there. I love you. Amanda, Ashley, Katherine, Laura, and Megan: You have always been there when I needed you. You accept all all of my weird eating habits, all the faces I make when I smell something weird, and all of my other antics. I love you all and I will miss you so much. Aubrey, Chris, and Regina: We have known each other forever and you three make me laugh more than anyone else. Although we have gone on different paths, we have always stayed connected. I love you and will miss you. Edwards, McKinneys, McKennas, and Smiths: Thank you for always treating me like your own. Entwistles, Kaesshaefers, MacCulloughs, Carla: Thank you for always opening your home to me and our crazy friends. I appreciate all you have done for me. To all of my teachers: Thanks for everything. To my class: I know we have all had our differences in the past, but I hope we can look back on our days together at PC with good memories. Good Luck in whatever you do.

It's not where you come from; it's where you're going that matters most.

Many people have come into my life, but only a few have left footprints on my heart. Special thanks to those who've shaped me into the person that I am today: Mom, Grandma, Grandpa, Aunts (Pearlie & Brezzi), Uncles (Chris & Louis), Kevin, Derric, Godsisters, Jamil, and N'yaka.

I don't want to be the next anyone. I want to be the first me.

I take care of myself because I learned early on that I'm the only one responsible for myself.

For me life is not about what you drive, it's about the drive within you.
I work hard because I know no other way to success. I'd rather walk a mile than sit at home because in order to get what you want out of life you must go the distance.

Mom & Dad - I'd like to thank you for giving me life and unconditional love. Without you two there is no me, I am deeply appreciative for all you have done for me. Over time I've grown to completely understand the Perk decision. Out there I was able to grow tremendously as a person, and I would like to let you know that you have taught me everything else I need to know to be successful in life. You two have exceeded the responsibilities you've had as parents. I love you Mom! I love you Dad!

Grandma Flora - I love you more than you can ever imagine. You've done so much for me, and I relish every moment. You raised my mother well, and she has passed her knowledge of life on to me. Anytime you need anything I'll be there for you and I promise that you'll be here to see me make it.

Grandma & Pop-Pop - I appreciate you all taking care of me when I was sick. I appreciate the way you've molded your son to be a great man and an amazing father. I love you all.

Harold - We haven't been real close in proximity for long periods of time since I was eight. You taught me a lot with the time we spent together. I wish you could have been there when I was going through some of the tough times that a teen goes through, but I guess it worked out for the better because I was able to learn from my mistakes, and Mcleazy and Ash always looked out like brothers. But when I make it we can move back in together somewhere and you can hold me down like you were supposed to. HAHA.

Brian - I appreciate the fact that you recently came back to the fort and have been a stable presence in my everyday life. Congratulations on your marriage to Shaliya, and good luck with your newborn son.

As an artistic decision, I have decided to leave my page blank. I have decided to leave it blank of all hilarious quotes from The Simpsons and various movies. I have decided to leave it blank of shout-outs, or whatever they are called. I have decided to leave it devoid of pictures of any kind. In fact, I have decided to leave it as just a blank, white page.

I can't make four years fit on one page. No one can, except maybe the world's most powerful trash compactor, refitted to crush time. It's like trying to fit people in a phone booth. The limit's about 50. Not, like, whatever four years comes out to be. On the topic of phone booths, I can't help but remember Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure. That was a great movie. With such great quotes. Of which, I will give several.

"Everything is different, but the same... things are more modern than before... bigger, and yet smaller... it's computers... San Dimas High School football rules!"

-Ox, Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure

"Your step-mom is cute, though." "Shut up, Ted. "Remember when she was a senior and we were freshman?" "Shut up, Ted!"

-Bill and Ted, Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure

"Ted, you know, if I die, you can have my Megadeth collection." "But dude, we are already dead." "Oh. Well then they're yours, dude."

-Bill and Ted, Bill and Ted's Bogus Journey

Whoops. That last one was from Bill and Ted's Bogus Journey. Not the first one. That was still a good movie though. Yeah. Anyway. It's also, like, totally meaningful to have a blank page. Because a blank page is... empty... and without writing... and with so much room for signaturizing and... meditation? It's like my soul. Only completely and totally incomparable, as my soul is not made of paper, unless I am gravely mistaken (Hey, if anyone out there IS a theologian or a metaphysician, could you tell me if I'm right to think the soul is NOT paper? -MS). I guess all I'm trying to say is that it is, in every conceivable way, the most artistic and creative thing ANYONE has ever done or ever could do since Leonardo Da Vinci painted the roof of the Sistine Chapel. Now, as filler, I am going to name random Pokémon for a few lines. Articuno. Pikachu. Raichu. Dragonite. Jigglypuff. Wigglytuff. Mewtwo. Kangaskhan. Venusaur. Bulbasaur. Squirtle. Wartoise. Blastoise. Starmy. Psyduck. Golduck. Blue-Eyes White Dragon. Wait. That's Yu-Gi-Oh.

Dad - Thank you. Two little words that hold so much meaning behind them. I'm sorry for all the grief I caused you these years. I'm a teenager and still can't fully appreciate all of the sacrifices you have made. I have sat through so many of your "lecture-ettes" over the years. Believe me, most have not fallen on deaf ears. Thank you for them. You have not only taught me how to be a good man but how to be a good person and I love you.

To my PC teachers: Starting with Charlie Brown, PC has provided me with a long list of excellent teachers, mentors, and friends. I would like to thank each of you for the valuable contributions you have made to my life at PC and my life in general.

To the Class of 2004: Thank you for electing me your president. I have worked hard and I hope all of you have enjoyed your senior year. Thank you for helping make this a great year for me. Good Luck in all of your future endeavors. I hope that as our lives drift apart we are able to stay in touch and maintain our friendships.

To Dave, Amanda, and Susan - Thank you guys for all of your hard work this year. I really appreciate what you have done for our class.

To the members who have served on my "extended cabinet", thank you. I don't know how I could have gotten through the campaign and the presidency without your help.

This is my seventh year at PC. I have had a super duper time. Many people that have contributed to this super duper time. Some have graduated, some left, and others I would be remiss not to recognize MGC, MG, EM, FG, VWS, JEB, and RS among many others. Thank You.

Coming off a great season last year, the boys varsity soccer team came into 2003 with high expectations. However, they came into preseason already heavily depleted, losing nine seniors from last year. With new head coach Leighton Walters and assistant Brian Yeats, the boys hoped to surprise an unsuspecting InterAc league. The first game was an extremely disappointing loss to Germantown Friends. A hard fought loss to Archbishop Curley, the top team in Maryland, was a moral victory for the team, which was denied the opportunity to face McDonogh at the CHA tournament because of a torrential downpour. In the next game, they succumbed to defensive mistakes and a strong North Catholic team, with the bright spot being the team's first goal scored by junior Steve Sullivan. The next challenge was Hill School, whom Penn Charter thoroughly outplayed but took the loss.

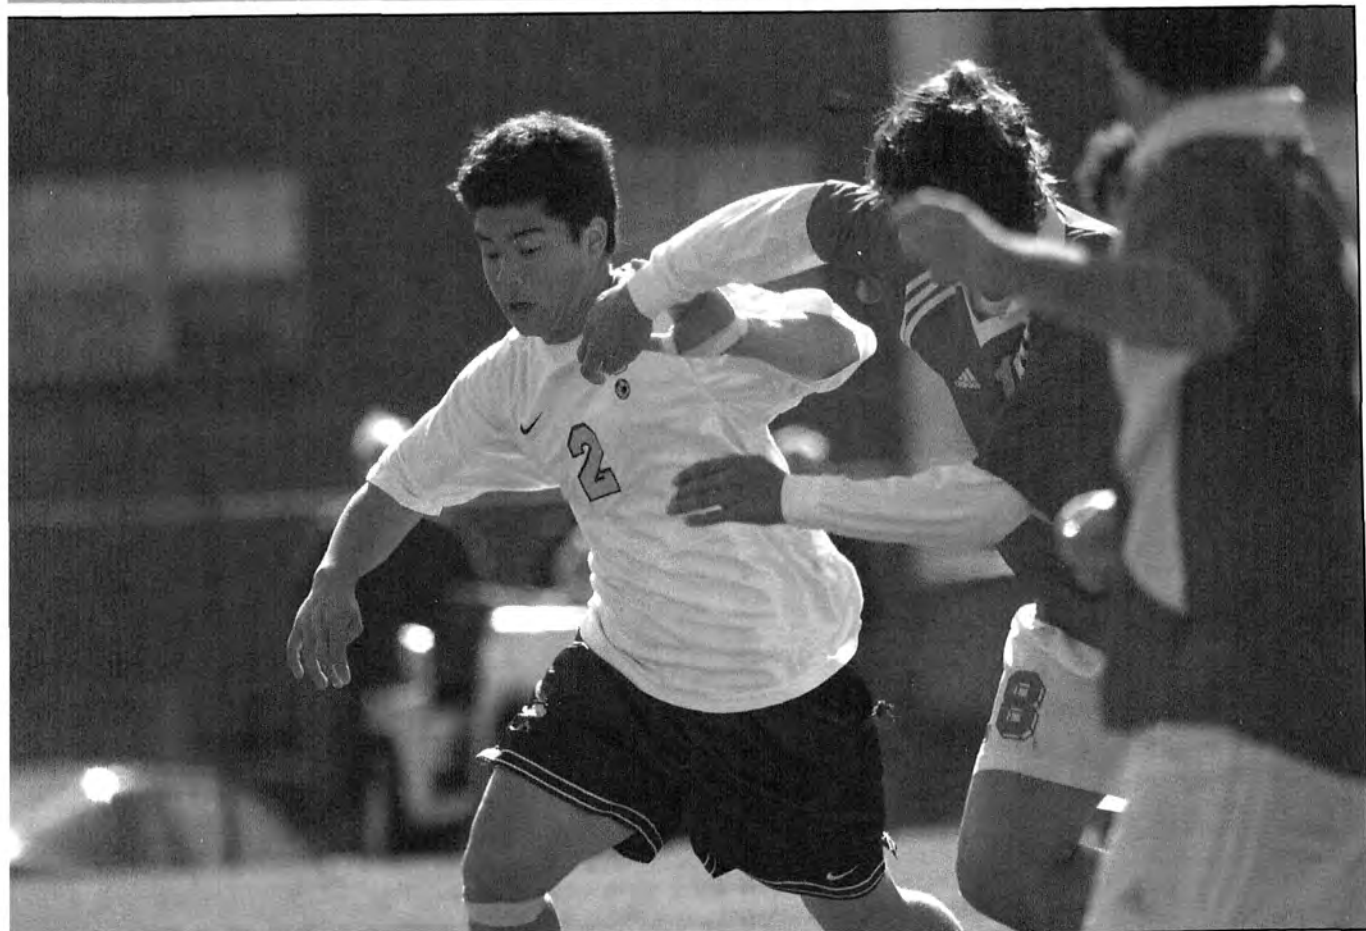

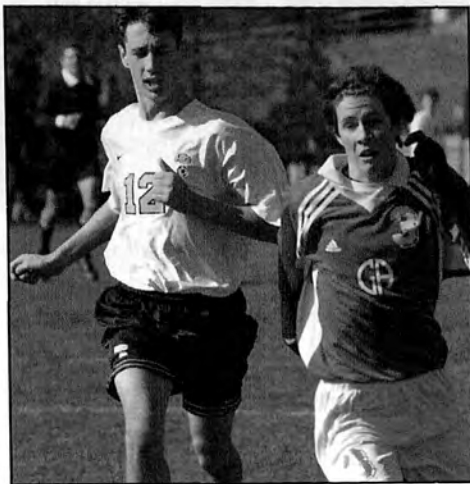

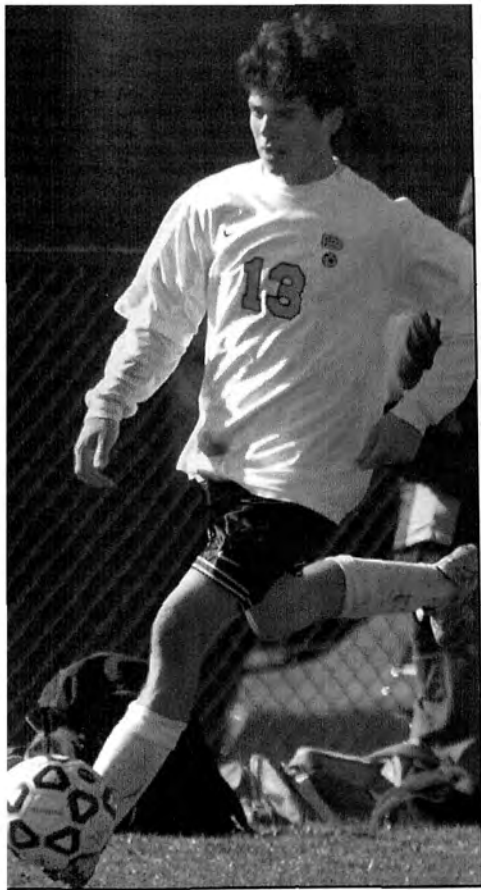

The InterAc league was next, and it was the strongest it had been in years. The first match against GA, the eventual undefeated champs, ended in defeat, mainly as a result of starting sophomore goalkeeper Alex Naveiro being knocked out of the game. The battle only left Penn Charter hungry for the big rematch on home turf. After two tough home losses to Haverford and Chestnut Hill, Penn Charter was in desperate need of a victory. They got it in the form of a 5-2 stomping over Episcopal. The next league game was a hard-to-swallow loss to Malvern, a very strong team with one of the league's best forwards. Then came a heartbreaker at Haverford. Penn Charter fought to a scoreless tie until the last fifteen seconds, when an inexplicable defensive breakdown cost PC the game. Striding forward with high spirits somehow still intact, the team was set to take on Malvern at home. This time, the Quakers scored two goals and nearly won the game in regulation, but came away with an important tie.

While the season ended in losses to CHA and the thrashing by Germantown Academy on PC-GA Day, Penn Charter boys soccer still has much to look forward to. Though senior captains Willie Naveiro and Jason Windmoeller are leaving, junior captain Pat Farrell, juniors Jesse Levinson, Liam McGettigan, Alex Hejnosz-Pustelniak and Steve Sullivan, as well as sophomore John "Mordecai" Rudolph and freshman Eric Muller will be counted on for leadership and wins in the future.

This year the girls soccer team greeted two new coaches, Andy Stackhouse and Darci Borski. Andy and Darci, along with Ed Marks, led this year's team to an outstanding season. Losing only two seniors from last year, the Quakers returned strong. The addition of two talented freshmen, Jorie Dugan and Bridget McDugall, helped the team with their speed and athleticism. Against tough non-league competition the Quakers were less successful than they hoped to be, but all games were within one goal, showing the tenacity of this year's team. For the first time ever the girls soccer team went 6-1 in the InterAc, losing only to ranked powerhouse GA, 3-1.

The six seniors, Kate Hartman, Ashley Bolton, Liz Perelman, Jenn Fabbi, Catherine Clair and Stacy Petro all agreed that this was the best team they have seen in their four years playing soccer at Penn Charter and will especially be remembered as one of the closest teams. All of the seniors hope everyone will build on this season and hope that next year the Quakers will win the InterAc.

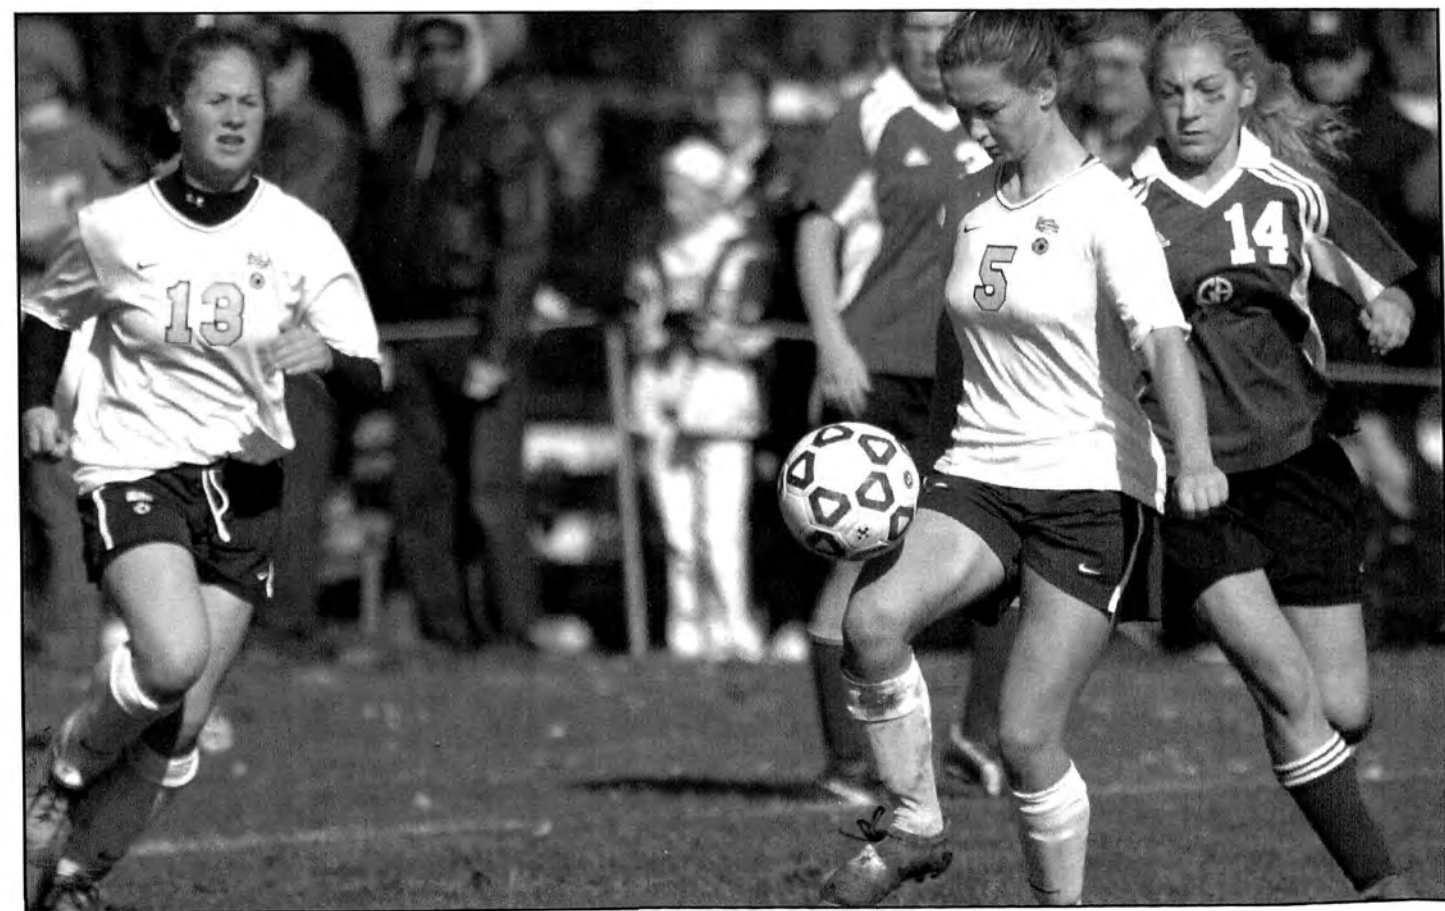

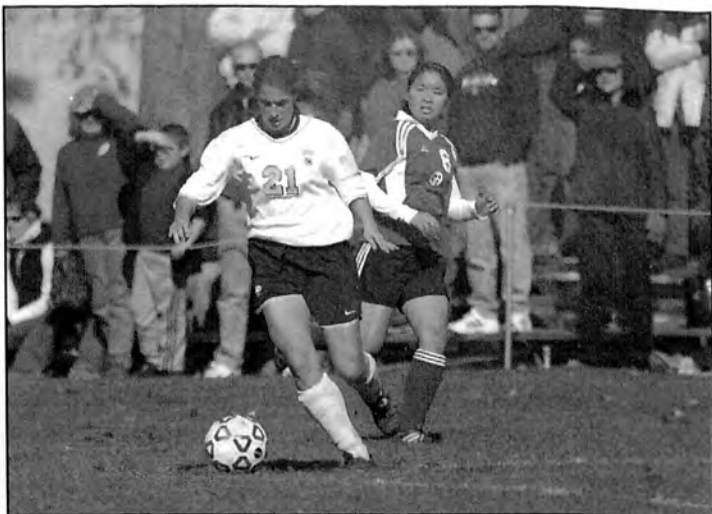

The seniors would like to thank all the girls for a great season of soccer and for all of the friendships that were made. The girls would like to thank Andy, Darci, and Ed for all that they have done in helping this program this past year.

This season, the Penn Charter field hockey team started with a new coach. With a tough schedule ahead, the team practiced hard, and won in overtime in the season opener against the undefeated GFS team, creating momentum. The Quakers were undefeated in preseason, beating powers such as Westtown, Friends Central, Academy of the New Church, and Phoenixville. With a winning non-league record, Penn Charter was ready to compete in the InterAc. In the opener against Springside, Charter came home with an easy 3-1 win. The next league game against Episcopal didn't go as planned. The Quakers came out flat and intimidated, and Episcopal was able to score an early goal. Trailing most of the game, Charter lacked the momentum to score. This was the first loss of the season, and it only inspired the team to work even harder to gain the title. In the first half against Agnes Irwin, Margaretha Ehret successfully scored off a corner shot. The team had many other chances throughout the whole game to score, but the ball either hit the post or went wide; one goal was enough to break Agnes Irwin's undefeated record. In the game against Shipley, Charter played like they had never played before. With beautiful passing patterns all over the field, the Quakers ran all over Shipley with ease. Charter also beat Baldwin 3-0, with two goals from Erin Hozack and one from "Gretzky" Ehret. At this point in the season, Penn Charter was ranked second in the InterAc, trailing undefeated Notre Dame. Charter came out tough and ready to win, reflected in the 1-0 win against Notre Dame. Notre Dame was unable to recover from Ehret's goal off a corner. This win brought the team to first place for the season finale against GA. GA scored first, but the Quakers were able to score two unanswered goals. GA came back to send the game into a scoreless overtime. Penn Charter was now tied for first place in the InterAc with a record of 5-1-1, but the win over Notre Dame gave the Quakers top seed in the post-season tourney. Marie McKenna tipped a nice feed from Hozack for an overtime goal and victory over Episcopal. The tournament finals pitted Charter against Notre Dame in the ultimate show-down. Charter dominated most of the game, but neither team could score. After double overtime, the teams went into a shootout. Michal Wachs saved the day with her incredible goalie skills. An ecstatic Penn Charter team celebrated their incredible win by tackling their beloved goal-keeper. The icing on the championship cake was one more thumping of GA: PC dominated the whole time and won 2-0. This is the first year a Penn Charter field hockey team has ever won an InterAc title in all of Penn Charter history. Congratulations PCFH, and good luck next season!

Girls Cross Country

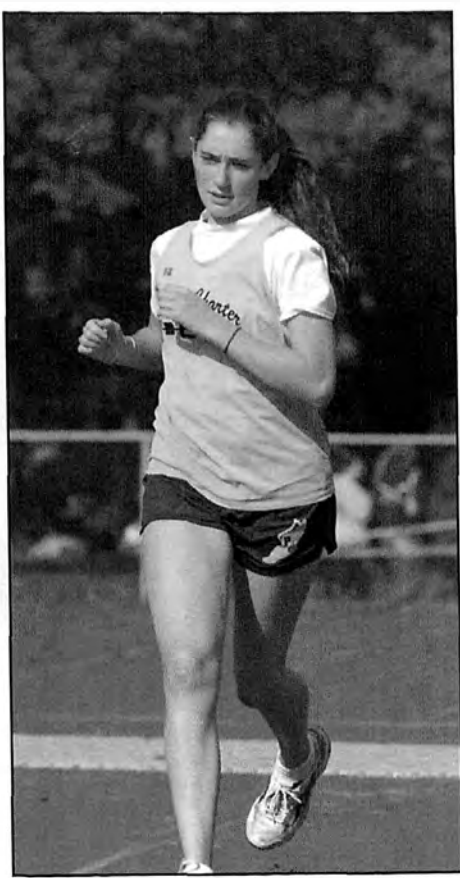

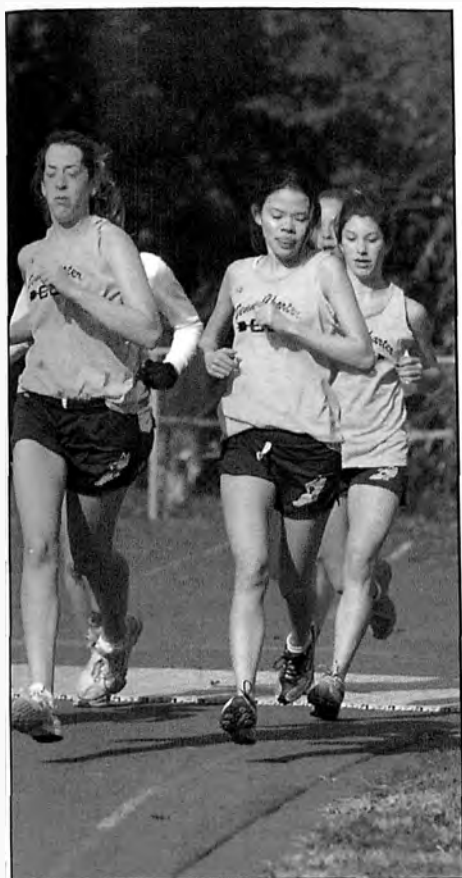

All-InterAc: Renita Sales, Julianne Skinner

The 2003 girls cross country season had its up hills and down hills — pun intended. The team started out the season undefeated until they were defeated by Episcopal Academy's state and league championship team. Our overall record was 5 and 3 (way to go girls!) The Quakers pulled out a solid fifth place finish at states (which is actually pretty good) and came in third in the InterAc thanks to Carrie Brown's sixth place, tie-breaking finish. When captain Emmalyn Yue was asked what she thought of the season her reply was, "We kicked some major gluteus maximus." Fellow captains Holly Alderman and Renita Sales strongly agreed with this assessment, adding how much they were going to miss the team after being members for four years. Though sometimes mistaken for twins, Julianne Skinner and Rachel Dowling each had stellar seasons, scoring much needed points in every race. A core group of seniors, participants on the team since ninth grade, all had great seasons and are sad to see the "cross country family" come to an end. Thanks to Mr. B. and Ms. Ratz for putting up with our complaints and whining; the season wouldn't have been the same without Daddy and Mommy Cross Country. Ms. Reimer —we miss you!!

Boys Cross Country

All-InterAc, First Team: Matt Gannon

Losing three of the team's top five runners from a year ago, the boys varsity cross country team experienced quite a drop off from the success of past seasons. Finishing with an overall record of 1-4 in the InterAc, the team finished fifth in the league behind everyone but CHA. While the Quakers certainly lost a great deal of talent, the boys' fifth place finish can also be attributed to vast improvements in other teams. The league was stronger, deeper, and, of course, faster, than it had been in recent years.

Within the team itself, junior captain Matt Gannon set the tempo the entire season. Besides finishing first for the team in every meet, Matt also received All-League honors at the InterAc Championships and All-State honors at the state championships. After struggling through the early parts of the season with knee troubles, Will Pappas worked his way back into the second spot on the team. Senior captain John Peet, junior Chris Brock, sophomore Ben McGovern, and freshmen Dylan Isaacson and Ricky Lynn rounded out the rest of the top seven slots.

After disappointing overall finishes at the league and state championships, the Quakers finished the season in a dual meet against bitter rivals Germantown Academy on PC/GA Day. GA, with a team that finished second at the InterAc championships and first at the state championships, won easily over the Penn Charter squad. Though disappointing, it seemed an appropriate way to finish a season that had not turned out quite as well as the Quakers would have wanted.

While the team's league record of 1-4 may not seem to bode well for the future, boys cross country is certainly through the worst. Next year, with a strong nucleus of rising juniors and sophomores, not to mention returning captains Matt Gannon and Will Pappas, the team will once again be a force to be reckoned with in the InterAc league.

The returning InterAc champion Penn Charter football team had a great season, finishing with a 6-2 overall record. They went 3-1 in the league on their way to being crowned InterAc co-champions.

The team was fortunate to have great leadership in Coach Brian McCloskey, as well as seniors Eric Feinschil, Rich Bryan, Biff Gottehrer, Greg Lewis, Hanif Hopkins, Tim Starr, and punter-extraordinaire Lee Saltzman. With a tough pre-season that included the media picking the team to finish last in the InterAc, the Quakers were anxious to turn their doubters into believers.

The regular season began with a disappointing cancellation of the opening game against Cardinal O'Hara, due to Catholic League teachers strikes. The Quakers looked past this setback and got ready for a tough opponent in the McDonogh School (Maryland). Despite rainy weather, the Quakers were 9-0 victors. After a 2-0 start, the team had a tough task in the form of the Interboro Bucs, whom were ranked in the top 5 in southeastern Pennsylvania. Playing under the lights, the Quakers suffered a nail-biting 20-12 loss.

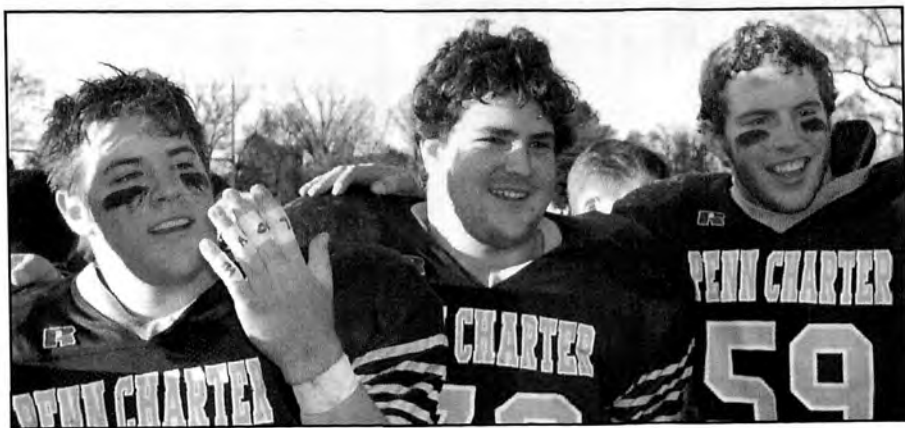

League play opened with a 26-6 victory over Episcopal Academy. This game was won with a combination of fierce defense and powerful offense, which smothered the Churchmen. The next game was a tough one against Malvern Prep. The league title was on the line, but the Quakers came up just short. However, the season was not over yet, and PC responded with a blowout victory over Haverford. After a non-league victory over the Hill School, the team was ready to face archrival Germantown Academy for a share of the league championship. On the 117th annual PC-GA Day, the Quakers won a thrilling come-from-behind victory on Zack Zeglinski's electrifying punt return, creating the first three-way league title tie since 1959.

Next year certainly looks to be a promising one. With starters Zack Zeglinski, Colin Hitschler, Ryan Nanni, Paul Sweeney, R.J. Hollinshead, and James Hannah returning, a 3-peat seems likely.

InterAc Champions Water Polo

All-InterAc, First team: Kyle Roslyn, Peter O'Keefe, Chris Mouzon, Dave McEnerney; Honorable Mention: Nick Brown

This was a very triumphant season for the Penn Charter water polo team. They went 23-7, the most wins in PC water polo history. Our championship season was completed by a 12-11 victory over GA at PC GA day, where Pete O'Keefe was named MVP for his defensive efforts. In this game, junior Chris Garrison led the team with 4 goals. This victory capped off an undefeated InterAc season, with an overall record against GA of 4-2. One of the memorable games against GA was at the InterAc Tournament, which Penn Charter won, where goalie Andrew Royal played outstanding, being named tourney MVP.

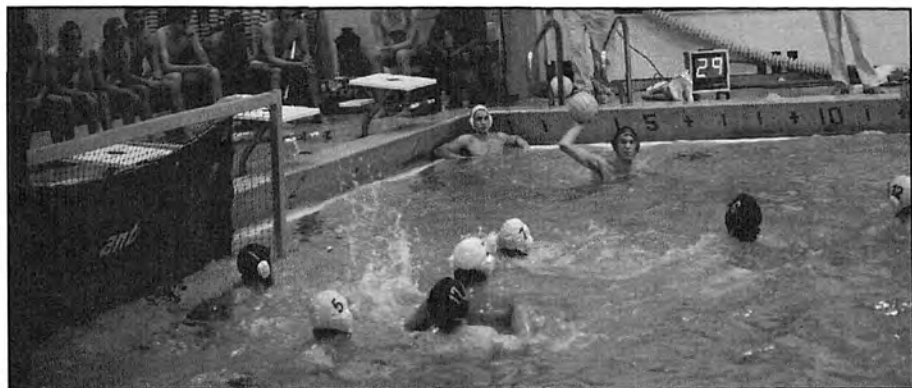

This year's team was led by a core group of seniors, four of who were selected 1st Team All-InterAc, with Kyle Roslyn being named the InterAc MVP. The others were Peter O'Keefe, Dave McEnerney, and Chris Mouzon. Junior Nick Brown was selected to the Honorable Mention team. This year's team had four players to reach the century mark in points: Pete O'Keefe (110), Dave McEnerney (117), Chris Mouzon (117), and Kyle Roslyn (204). This is the first time in Penn Charter's polo history this many players on the team scored over 100 points. Although these seniors will be sorely missed, the team will be looking for great play next year from Nick Brown, Chris Garrison, Loren Austin, Josh Burdick-Will, and Matt Eschelman, all of whom contributed greatly to the team this year. Here are some highlights from our season...

Tennis

All-InterAc: Dana Harrow

The girls tennis team had a very successful season. Although five strong players were not returning, there were high hopes for a solid InterAc finish. Head coach Kareem Bryant provided strong leadership in both mental and physical aspects of the game. He captured the admiration and respect of the team right from the start.

Senior co-captain Dana Harrow led the team at the number one singles position, followed by a very strong number two player, sophomore Jillian Horn. Third singles was played by a very promising freshman, Keira Murasko-Blank, who finished her season 6-1 in the league. Senior co-captain Dominique (Nikki) Negron filled the fourth singles position with a 5-2 record. All four players had very strong finishes and improved in all aspects of the game.

Juniors Lisanne Faigen and Sarah Davis provided strong leadership at first doubles. Their determination and energy enabled them to give all their opponents tough matches. Junior Hadley Steele and senior Susan Goldstein proved to be an important addition to the team, and freshmen Amanda Davis and Kelsy McDowell provided a stronghold at third doubles.

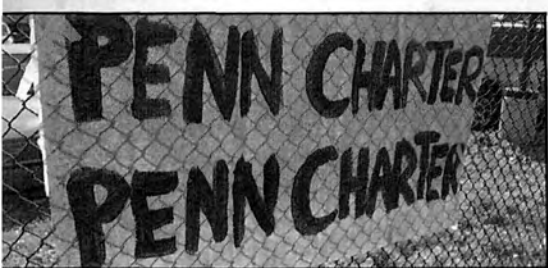

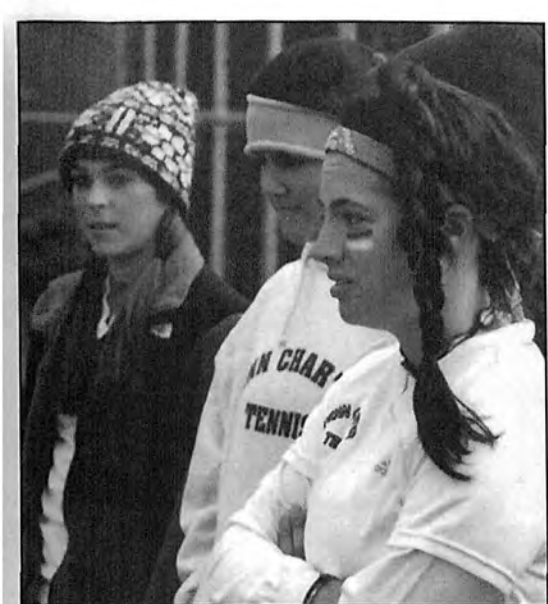

Although the team suffered tough losses at Episcopal, Baldwin, and Agnes Irwin, they earned a very respectable fourth place finish. The girls did not allow these setbacks to bring them down early in the season, and they recovered quickly to win big matches against Notre Dame, Shipley, Springside, and longtime rival Germantown Academy. The hard work and time spent on the court proved necessary to win against such able opponents.

The end of the season meant a sad goodbye for three seniors on the squad, all of whom have given so much to the tennis program for the past four years. Although they will be missed, the girls look back on the 2003 season with a great sense of pride and accomplishment. Good luck in the 2004 season!

Wrestling

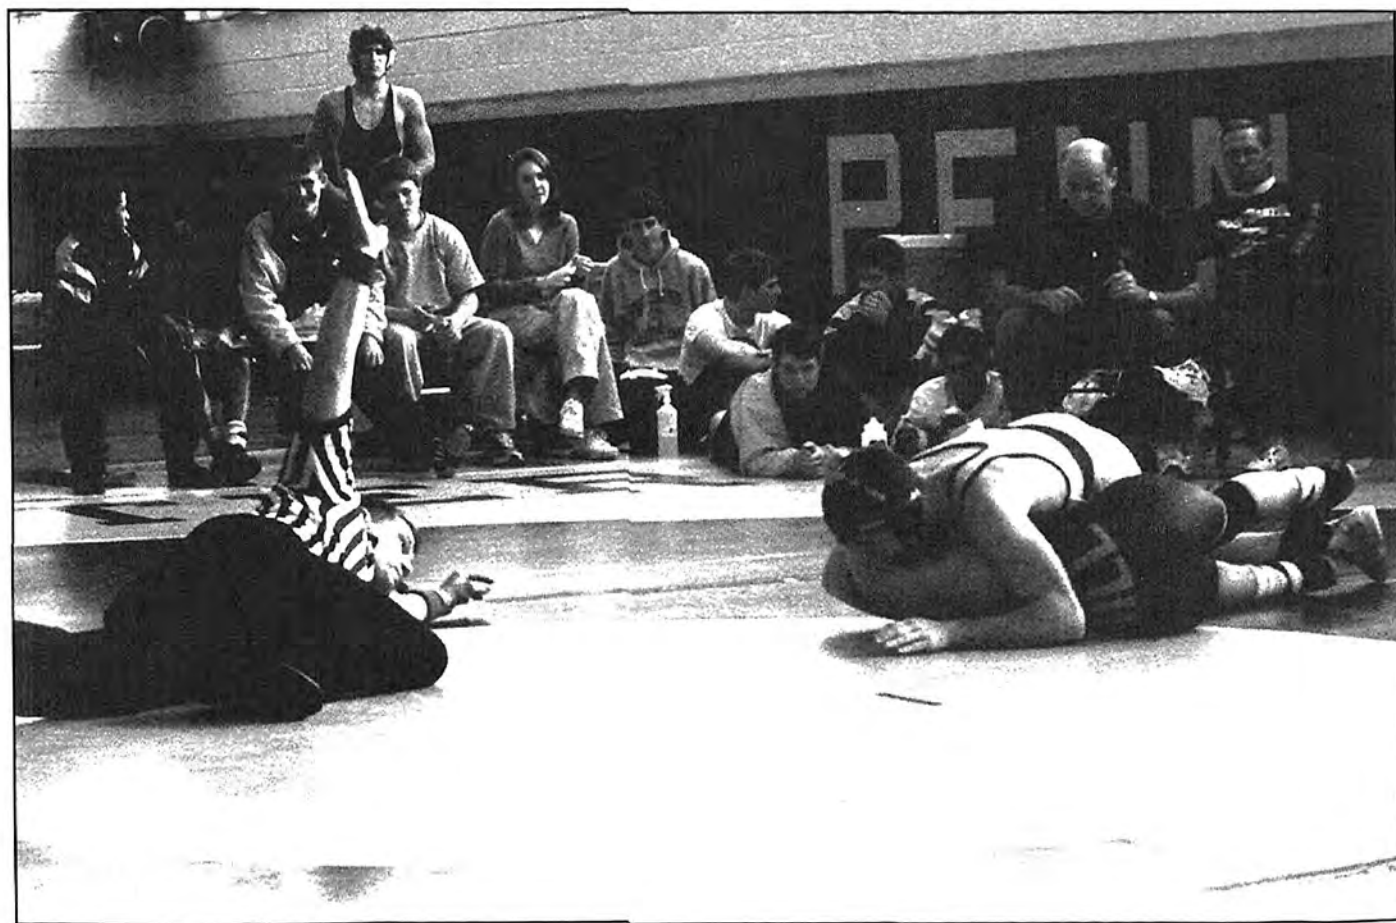

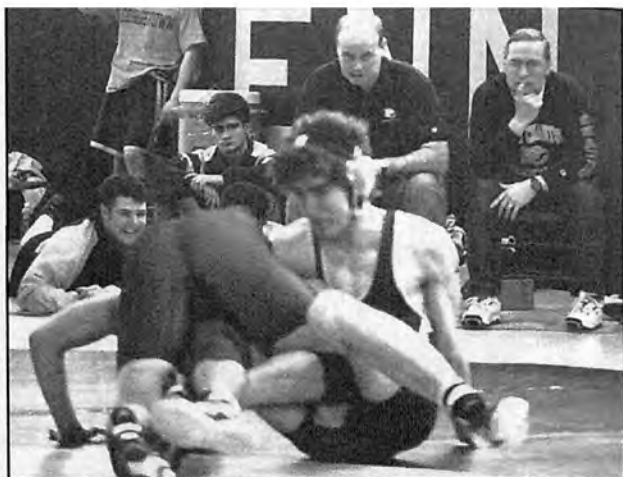

The Wrestling team this year was very dedicated, hard working, and successful. The team demonstrated their desire for success and dedication this summer as a record setting number of wrestlers came to the team camp at University of Virginia. The hard work was seen throughout the season as the wrestlers finished 17-1. Their success was not only because of a few superstars, but came from the depth of the team. Fourteen wrestlers finished with winning records, and all fought hard in every match. The only dual meet loss came in a tough match to league rival Haverford. This loss was especially hard because the team finished ahead of the Fords at the Radnor tournament to win this showcase for the first time since 1993. However, the grapplers kept their heads up, and continued to wrestle well. The Quakers set an all-time record for most points scored by a team at the Valley Forge Invitational tournament, and defeated Philadelphia Catholic League champs North Catholic in a dual meet. The highlight of the season came in one of the team's final dual meets, as they romped over Germantown Academy. GA had been league champions the last seven years; this marked the first time Penn Charter had beaten GA in wrestling in over a decade, and gave the Quakers second place in the InterAc. While they fell short of a state championship, the team showed their depth by placing 10 of 14 wrestlers in the top flight, and finished third overall. Colin Hitschler did especially well, winning his third state title. At Nationals, PC placed 13th out of 128 schools competing, and the Quakers were presented with the Sportsmanship Award by the meet officials. Colin Hitschler won second place and Chris Steffa finished a very respectable eighth.

The girls varsity squash team really had a lot of fun this year. The season began with a smooth start thanks to the team's two new coaches, Ricky Lapidus and Demmer Hollerin, who were both essential members of the team. Their skillful coaching gave the girls the motivation and strength to pull off a strong season, coming in third in the InterAc. Another new highlight of the season was the dominance of upper schoolers on the team. In the past, it was not uncommon to have 3, 4, or even 5 middle schoolers hold positions on the girl's varsity squash team. But for the first time in many years, the entire team came from the upper school. After spending many years together, the team has gained both strength and companionship, and it showed throughout the season.

The 2003-04 season is something that the girls should definitely be proud of. After two tough losses to Agnes Irwin (both coming down to tiebreakers in the fifth), the team picked their heads up and moved on to the next challenge. Due to an abundance of snow, the team was forced to play numerous matches back to back, but the team never complained and was just as pumped as ever to play.

Despite captain Stacy Petro's injuries, the team still pulled out an impressive season. With one less member on the starting squad, most of the team was forced to step up to the next slot on the ladder. Senior Susan Goldstein had a great season and showed determination in every match she played. Juniors Jess Balderston and co-captain Aly Brady both had impressive records, winning nearly every one of their matches. Sophomores Britt Hebden, Christina Matthias, and Sarah Roberts were all fierce competitors throughout the entire season and constantly gave their opponents a run for their money. The freshman members of the team, Liza Walling, Elisabeth Golden, Shannon Harrington, and Kiera Murasko-Blank also made significant contributions throughout the season. They made up the second half of the ladder and were often the matches that determined a win or a loss for the team.

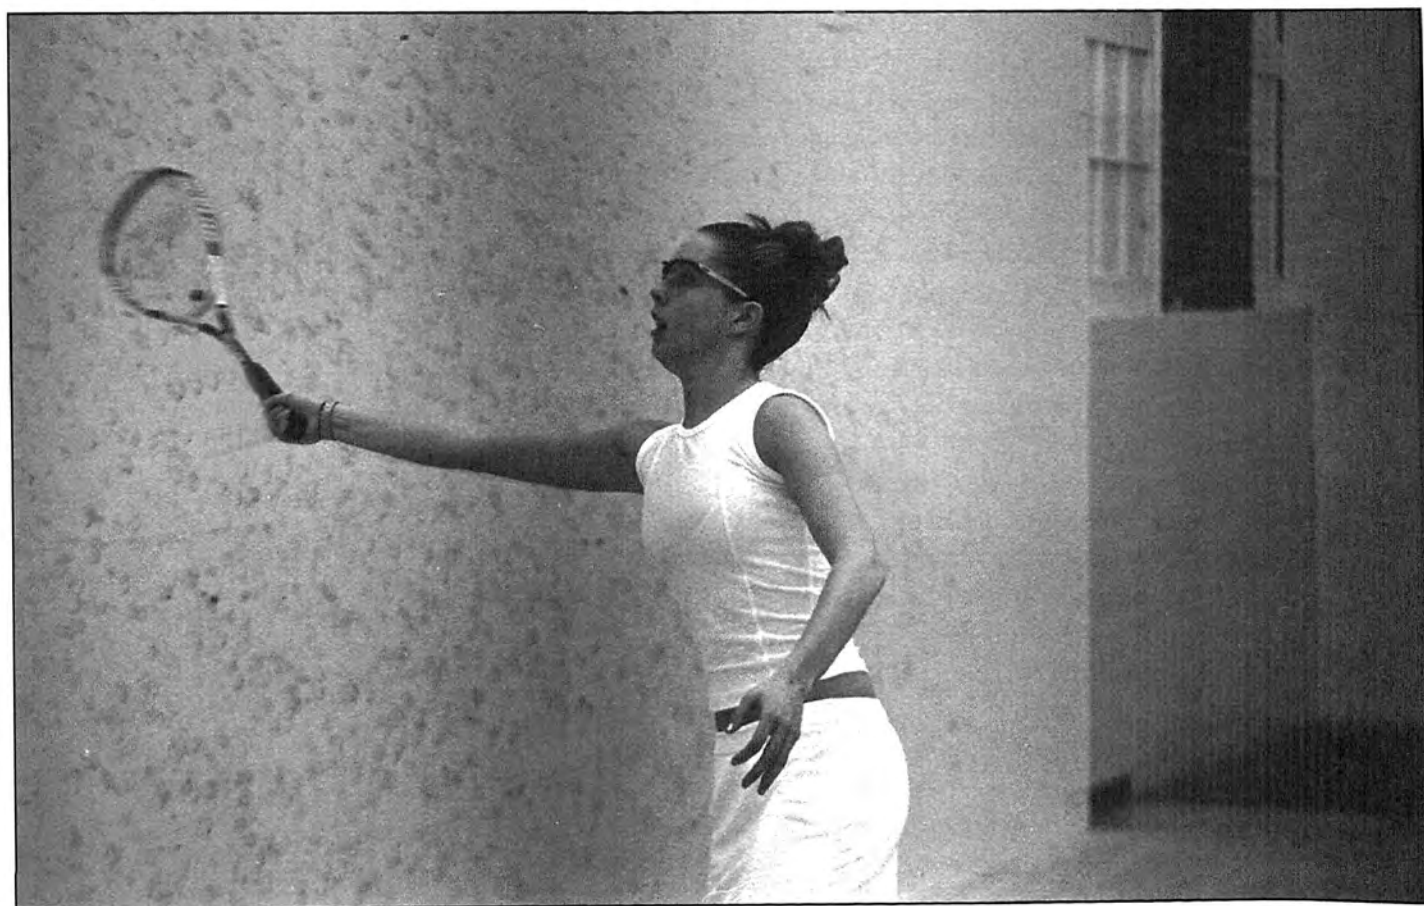

Most importantly, the girls valued teamwork and camaraderie. They worked hard during practice, and still managed to have fun at the same time. Along with the traditional accompaniment of candy and clementines, matches and van rides were always entertaining, especially when Ricky joined in on the gossip. And although he may have had some navigational issues, he was an awesome coach, along with Demmer. The girls should definitely be proud of themselves for accomplishing all that they did, and get ready for another amazing season!

To our squash girlies,
Our team was definitely the closest it's ever been this year and we're so happy to have been a part of it. We really came together as a team and showed that we were strong and capable. We're going to miss all of you guys when we're gone, but I'm sure Aly will do a great job running things with her new co-captain Jess. Thank you for making our last season a memorable one. Congratulations on an incredible season! We love you all so much, and will miss you tons! Your loving seniors,

Boys Squash

The 2004 boys squash team came into the season with hopes of winning the InterAc title. With the entire team returning from last year, we were keen on bringing the title back to Penn Charter. The season started off promising with convincing wins over Hill School and Shipley. However, the InterAc proved more difficult than our young team had anticipated. We struggled early in league play with losses to Haverford and Episcopal, but quickly rebounded with a decisive victory over the perennial powerhouse Chestnut Hill Academy. With our middle-school players Christopher Callis and Thomas Mattison playing well, our line-up grew deeper. We suffered another tough defeat to the strong Haverford team, and then a more devastating loss when CHA came to our house. We thought we could overcome the absence of co-captain Christopher Walling, but the absence proved to be too much as we fell to the Blue Devils 4-3.

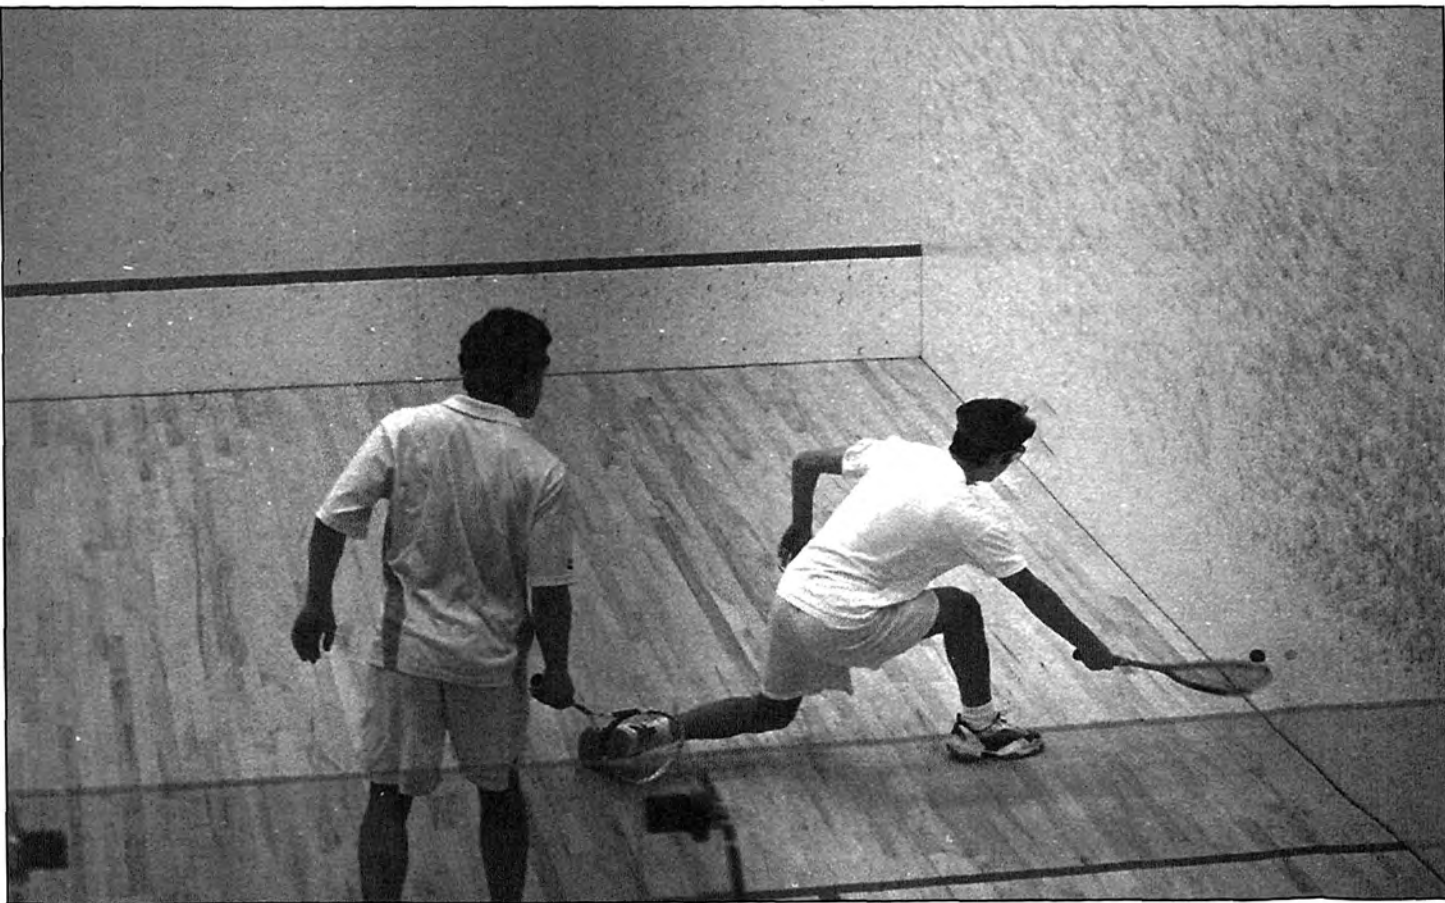

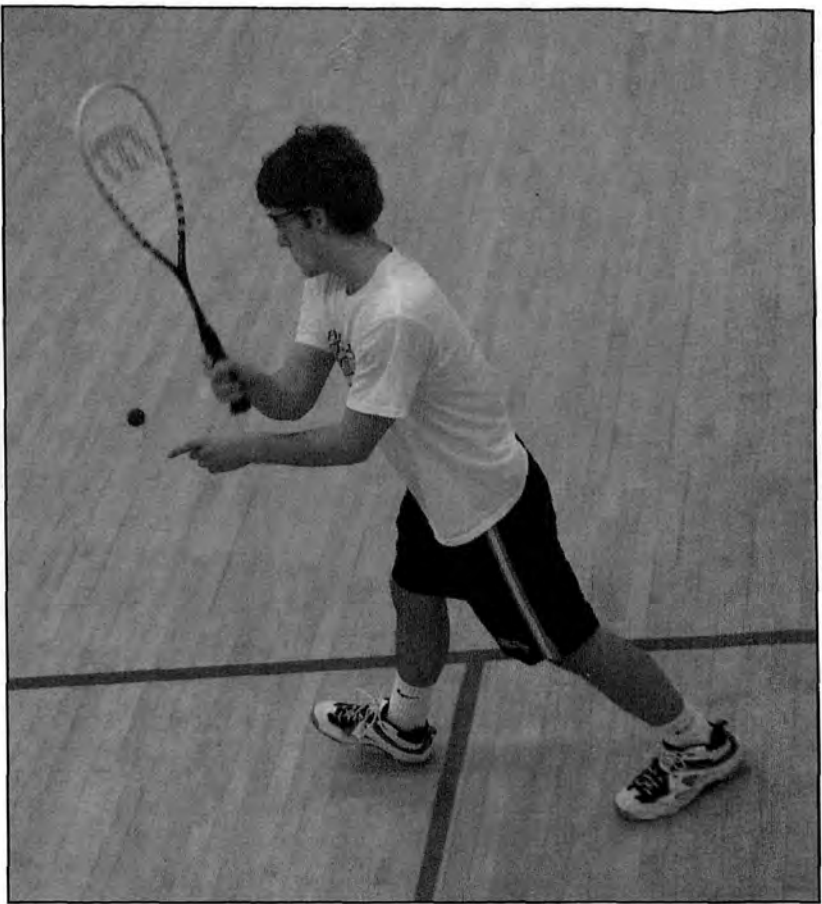

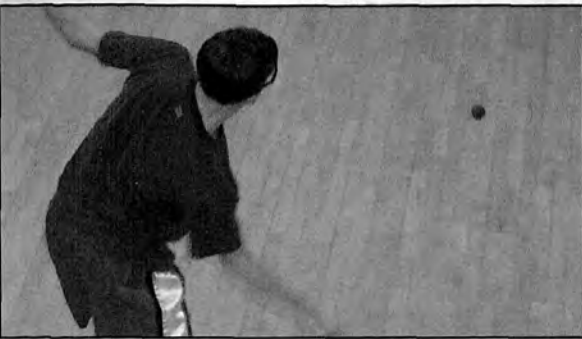

The team then took part in the first annual High School Nationals. Amid a tough field, we were proud to finish fifth in the nation. The trip proved to be a great bonding experience for the players and coach. The following week we surprised everyone with a second place finish at the MASA tournament at Lawrenceville. The whole team was able to shrug off their poor season play and show everyone their world-class games. Not only did we take home second place, but we also were recognized by the league as the team that displays the best sportsmanship. Co-captain David Sullivan also was honored as co-sportsman of the year. Penn Charter will continue to have a strong squash program for years to come with new courts and the continual development of young talents.

Girls Basketball

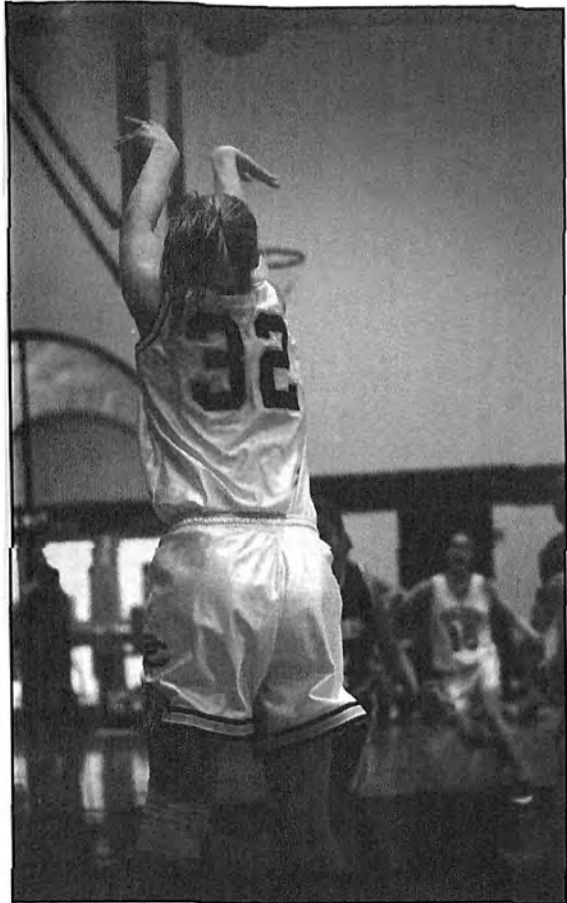

All-InterAc First Team: Virginia McMunigal

The girls basketball team started off with a whole new coaching staff this season, which included new head coach Kim Morris and new assistant coaches Doug Phillips and Steph Straup. These three coaches, along with guest coach Will Cambria, got this young team into great shape with a rigorous pre-season that left them ready to play. The Quakers started off the season without one of their beloved seniors and co-captain Jenn Fabbi; the team's first challenge would be to find a way to make up for this huge loss. Ultimately, they did this by playing hard and staying positive throughout the season. Jenn was only able to play in three games but was a vocal and positive inspiration in every game of the season. The Quakers had a couple of tough losses in the beginning of the season but came back with a huge win against Gwynedd Mercy. This win showed the girls that they were more than able to play against good teams and competitive enough to win the big games. The team stayed positive throughout the season and ended up in fourth place in the InterAc with tough losses to GA, Notre Dame, and Episcopal. In the first-ever InterAc tournament seedings the Quakers drew arch-rival GA. Despite their previous loss, the team held the Patriots to only 31 points, scaring the league champs right down to the wire before falling, 31-27. This was a huge game for PC because it showed that they could go up against a nationally-ranked team and be able to fight hard for all four quarters. The girls basketball team has two returning juniors next year and a lot of sophomores and freshmen. This program will only get better as all the girls gain experience, and will soon be a team to watch in the InterAc. Jenn and Ashley wish the team the best of luck and remind them that anything is possible.

Boys' InterAc Champions Basketball

All Inter-Ac, First Team: Sean Singletary (MVP), Rob Kurz;
Second Team: Zack Zeglinski

A year removed from going an unprecedented 26-4, the big question was how the PC boys varsity basketball team would respond. The schedule was more difficult and Mike Boles and Matt Ryan, two integral pieces to last year's team, had graduated. Stepping in to fill their shoes were junior R.J. Hollinshead and freshman Sammy Zeglinski; both of these guys did admirable jobs replacing two great players. Despite losing Ryan and Boles, the Quakers did return three All-InterAc starters: reliable junior guard Zack Zeglinski, and one of the best 1-2 punches in the city in point guard Sean Singletary and forward Rob Kurz. These players, along with a deep bench that included Hanif Hopkins, Dave McEnerney, Joe Rauchtut, Brian Teuber, and R.J. Lyons, were poised to lead the team to its second consecutive InterAc title.

However, things did not come easy for the Quakers. The season started out at the Bull City Classic in North Carolina, with PC set to square off against two nationally ranked teams. They held their own in a win and an overtime loss, highlighted by two fabulous performances by Singletary. These games showed that the Quakers could play with any team in the country. Also included on the Quakers' schedule were some of the area's top teams such as St. John Neumann, St. Joe's Prep, and Cardinal Dougherty. And if that wasn't enough, the league was as deep and talented as ever, with GA, Episcopal, and Malvern all boasting fine teams.

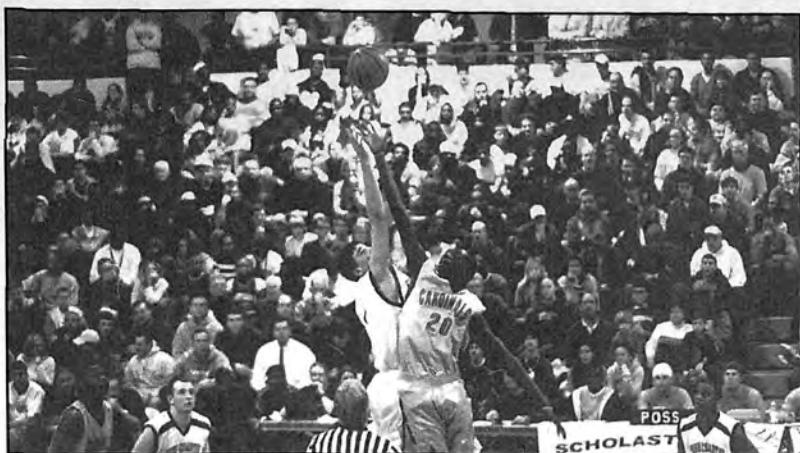

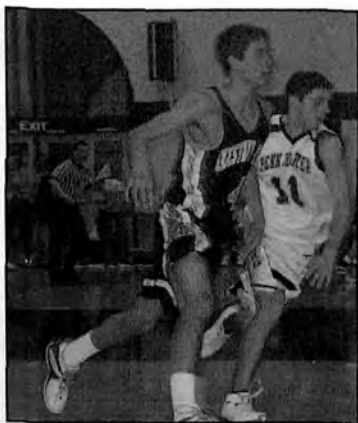

After three straight losses at the Slam Dunk to the Beach Tournament to end 2003, the Quakers had a mediocre record of 6-6 and many people in the city were questioning whether or not the team was as good as advertised. But PC silenced all critics by winning fourteen of the next fifteen games with the only loss coming in a nail biting thriller against city powerhouse Cardinal Dougherty. The Quakers also silenced all talk that they weren't the InterAc's best team by going 10-0 in the league for a second consecutive year (the first time since 1964 for a PC team), winning the championship and defeating league opponents by an average of 21 points per game.

Although the team will lose Singletary (Virginia) and Kurz (Notre Dame) to graduation, there is still much to look forward to next year. The Zeglinski brothers are big time players who should wreak havoc on the league next year, while physical players Hollinshead, Rauchtut, and Teuber will all return. So even though the best senior duo the school has seen in quite some time will be gone, a threepeat is not out of the question.

Swimming

The girls swim team started their season with dreams of being major contenders this year in the InterAc. We had acquired a new coach, Kevin Berkoff, from league powerhouse Germantown Academy. We also had a group of freshmen with great potential: Ellen, Marghi, Megan, Kelsey, and Vicki. The swim team kicked off the InterAc season with a strong win against the Baldwin School. The next few meets weren't as successful on the scoreboard with losses to Episcopal Academy, Agnes Irwin, and Germantown Academy. However, everyone was very pleased with the innumerable season's-best times that were recorded at each meet: Blair, Emms, Ellen, Marghi, Christine, Steff, Tori. The swim team finished with two wins, against the Shipley School and the Hill School, and a loss to Notre Dame. Even though the season had its ups and downs, the Quakers rallied for Champs. PC swam strong making the cut for top six in a number of events: 200 Medley Relay, 50 Free (Kathleen, Steff), 100 fly (Marghi), 100 free (Kathleen), 200 free relay, 400 free relay. If the meet were scored, the team would have placed second, next to GA. But who really counts them, anyway? Thus, we consider ourselves the real InterAc Champs.

To all our girls,

You have made our final year on the swim team an exciting, entertaining, delightful, and memorable one. You each played a special part in making our swimming experience complete. Though the season had its ups and downs, as we look back on our times together, there are many things that we will miss. You've helped us get through those never ending "from a dive" sets; you've been cooperative when asked to help; and you've risen to the occasion while supporting those who may need a little more encouragement. We hope that we could have made a lasting impression on you equivalent to the impact you've made on us. We will all miss you very much next year! Keep having fun! NAMASTE!

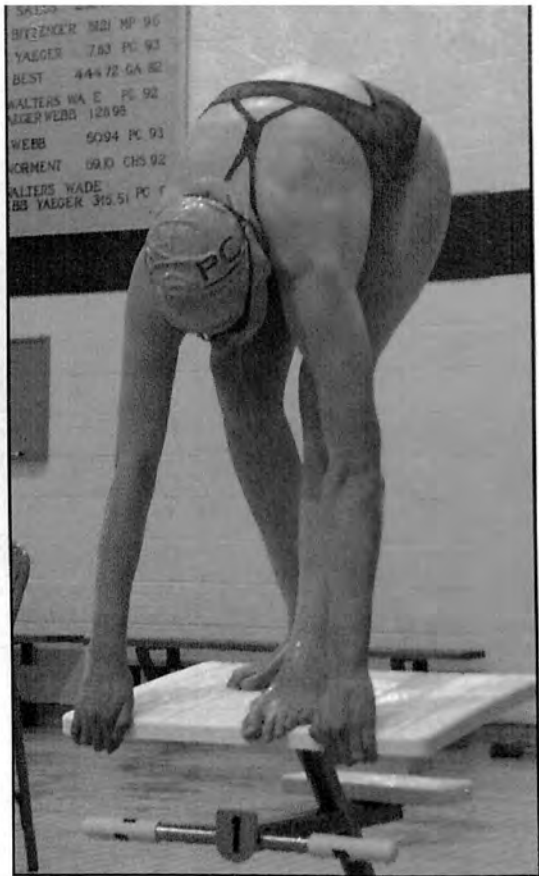

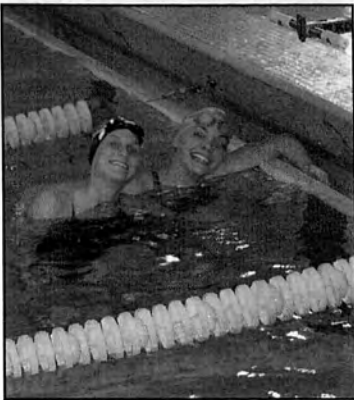

Love,
Christine, Emms, and Kathleen

Boys Swimming

This year, the boys varsity swim team did not finish up their season as successfully as they had anticipated. Nevertheless, their hard work paid off in the form of some very close meets and improved swim times for many of the water athletes. A major highlight of the season came with a close win over Episcopal Academy. The rest of their season was packed with tough competition, which only motivated the swimmers to work harder and improve their personal times. Led by co-captains senior Kyle Roslyn and junior Chris Garrison, the team remained strong with commendable performances from Loren Austin, Colin Laren, and Chris Tiano. Kyle Roslyn was the only senior on the team this year, and he provided the underclassmen with motivation and a positive attitude. Because Penn Charter boys swimming was so young this year, there remains hope for the future of the team. With many returning underclassmen, the team has the potential to make this year's close matches even closer next year. The team wishes Kyle the best of luck in college and thanks him for not writing this season summary.

To Ka-Ka

How do we describe your growth from baby, to child, to young adult in a few short sentences? From the first time we saw you lift your head as an early infant, we recognized your physical strength and dexterity. When you started asking penetrating questions as a 2 year old, we looked at each other and wondered if "you'd been here before". You were always a kid who showed maturity beyond your years, and we marveled and felt proud of your empathetic and caring manner towards others. You've grown into a quiet leader and a fierce athletic competitor, yet you have maintained an introspection that has kept you humble. Your beauty is not only found in your laughter and your smile, but deep in your soul.

*We love you and embrace you always,
Mom, Dad, Jimmy and Anne*

CONGRATULATIONS TO JULIA AND THE CLASS OF 2004!

Dear Julia,
I hope you know you are my favorite sister!
I do not know what I'll do without you.
I have loved raiding your clothes closet and shoes.
I have loved going on family vacations with you.
In the future, I hope we will be able to carry on old family traditions and that we will still go to the Shore, Indian Lake and Harper's Ferry together.
I am going to miss you very much.
Congratulations and good luck in college.
Love, Emily

Dear Julia,
Good Luck in college. I know you will be successful. You will face this new challenge head on and prevail.
We will come visit you and I hope you will visit us. I hope you will be present on future family vacations.
Love, David
PS: MATIVA 4 LIFE!

*You have blessed us with your grace and love and we are grateful to be your parents. You grew from a spark of a child into a sparkling young woman. We are so proud of who you have become. We wish you joy and happiness in your life ahead.
You possess an inner compass which will guide you to your dreams.*

*We love you,
OXOXO Mom and Dad*

To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others; to leave the world a little better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life breathed easier because you have lived. This is the measure of success.

ASHLEY ROSE

AND NOW WE GIVE YOU TO THE WORLD

We will always be with you,
we will always be here for you,
we will always love you.

Mommy, Kike and Pop Pop

Ashley Rose,
Hard to believe your graduation is here.
We are so very proud of you and your plans for the future. We wish you happiness with all things you pursue, the goals you set for yourself and the accomplishments you will succeed in!
Love You,
Aunt Sandy, Tom, Michael Jeff

Your life as an adult has begun, go after your dreams with the heart of a lion and they will be yours. It's a big world, be safe, be smart and good luck.
Love,
Uncle Scott and Aunt Mare

Congratulations Ashley!
We are very proud of you.
Have a great time in college and remember always to strive to achieve your goals. We love you so much.
Aunt Ronnie, Uncle Joe, Nettie
and Munchkin

Katelyn,

The years have gone by and I have watched you mature into a wonderful young woman. Through the knowledge that you have obtained and the qualities that you possess, a great foundation has been built. Continue to strive for your goals and let nothing stand in your path, because you have too much talent to be wasted. When times get tough, remember how loved you are, and that your brother is always here for you. I am very proud of what you have achieved, and anxious to watch your continued success. Love Always,

Joe

Katie,

Life goes by so quick, and a lot of the time you wish you could freeze the moment. Right now is one of those times for me. I wish I could live in this moment forever and not have to see you go. Although, we both know this is an unobtainable goal. For that reason I want you to know and remember a few things. First of all, you are an amazing person: strong, courageous, beautiful, independent, funny, and intelligent. Don't let anyone ever tell you any differently, and use these things to the fullest in the future. They will take you far in life. Second of all, I want you to know what you have done for me in my life. Without even knowledge of it, you have guided me and inspired me to do many things. I know we have had some rocky moments in the past, but whether we were at war or at peace I have always had love for you, and even more so now. The greatest gift God ever gave me was you for a sister. I truly cherish all you have taught and given me growing up, I can not thank you enough. Finally, remember the lessons your experiences have taught you, all of our memories together, and all of the people that love you. I am so proud of you and I love you endlessly! I wish you the best of luck in whatever you may do. You will be a success! It's been real, Kate.

I love you,
Jenna

Katelyn,

Every day we have watched you grow and it seems overnight you have changed from our little "Buglyn" into a beautiful young woman. Our wish for you is a world filled with realized dreams, happy hearts, and rainbows, where the sun never sets on your hopes or aspirations.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Dear Biff,

You don't know how proud I am of you right now! You're going off to college and I'm happy for you. I know that you'll be one huge success in life. The past 15 years with you have been so much fun and I know future years will be even better! Just know that I love you and that I'll always be there for you – no matter what, and know that you'll always be #1 in my heart!

I love you!

Best wishes to the Class of 2004...

for a future of tables laden with good things and good friends them to share.

There was a curly headed boy who began to sing his song,
It grew and grew over the years and became loud and strong.
The words came from his heart and head and wound throughout his life,
Of things he really loved a lot and things he did not like.
The song portrayed the images of places far away, where he met kids around the world
And sang upon their stage.
It weaved a web of hopes and dreams,
Of piloting a plane and driving down the road of life in his bright red speed machine.

May you always have clear skies and a straight road.....

It has been our gift to watch you grow,
For all the joy you've brought to us.
You've amazed us, entertained us,
Astounded us and often confused us.
We've laughed and cried,
We've swelled with pride,
As you've grown into a young man
Filled with integrity, spirit and humor.
And now it's time to let you fly,
Our loving support will always be with you
As you find your passion and pursue your dreams.

ERICK: The love, laughter, and adventure we've shared as you've grown into a man will always be with us. We remember: Observation Peak, "we can make it," beach football, "who's competitive?" icy ocean swims, Valley Green, forts and dirty dogs, "don't let her roll!" back country Virginia, "this is not a trail", avoiding those bears, String Lake and hiking through the lake, the eagle and the river otter, June sledding, ocean kayaking with the dolphins, fourteen hour wrestling tournaments, "this is fun?" I'm never getting in a canoe with you two again!" sliding to the.... Gramps and Meemaw, the Grove, bucket trucks and all those cupcakes, Grandma and Chatham, Uncle Larry and Aunt Priss, the river and fun and laughter, kitchen wrestling, "boys, boys...Rod!" bay golf and the police, snowballs and the police, fireworks and the police again! "not another mischief night, watch out for the paddy wagon," thank goodness you can run, maybe you should do cross country, anchors away into the bay, the best scooper ever, your dorm at the shore, subzero skiing and watch out for that fence, who's responsible for the turnip?, eighth grade commencement and loving that band, m.s. football and Mr. R. on blocking, The Haverford match, "your fever is what and you're going to school." May your adventures and accomplishments be fulfilling and fun! Love, Mom, Dad, Evan and Brent

Your Dad

Jess dear,

It's been very difficult for us to believe you're a senior at P.C. and about to graduate! We have so many happy and everlasting moments to remember...

playing in the snow,

trips to the zoo,

baking cookies at Christmastime,

wrapping goodies for under our family tree, planting tomato seeds indoors in January and working in the garden in March.

When one door closes, another door opens. Have a great journey!

Despite rumors to the contrary, the 2004 yearbook editors and their staff enjoyed every moment of their work and would do it again if asked. Right.

We are made, brick by brick, of influences, patiently built up around the framework of our born dispositions. It is the sole process of construction; there is no other. Every man and woman and child is an influence; a daily and hourly influence which never ceases from work, and never ceases from affecting for good or evil the characters about it -- some contributing gold-dust, some contributing trash-dust, but in either case helping on the building, and never stopping to rest; and to the building of the character of every individual thus moved, these movers have added a brick. -Mark Twain

There were all kinds of questions facing the varsity baseball team coming into the 2004 season. The first was would they be able to recover from the graduation of four starters, including the team's two best players, power hitter Taylor Baum and infielder/pitcher Matt Ryan? From this first question emerged another: without these four players, how would the Quakers get on base and manufacture runs? Also, with Matt Ryan gone and junior co-captain Ryan Nanni being kept off the mound due to an arm injury, could the team find the pitchers to succeed? It wasn't always easy, but the Quakers opened a lot of eyes and turned many of their doubters into believers during the course of the season.

Led by four rising junior stars (CF, Ryan Nanni; SS, Zack Zeglinski; C, R.J. Hollinshead; and P, Sean Rust), PC jumped out to an early start by winning the first game of the season over visiting Roman. They dropped the following game to Catholic League powerhouse Cardinal O'Hara before leaving for a 10-day trip to Clearwater, Florida over Spring Break. On our trip the team spent hours each day learning the fundamentals of the game, with access to top notch facilities. The trip worked: upon returning, the Quakers roared out to 9 consecutive wins, quietly creating buzz around the city that this was in fact a team that should not be taken lightly. Unfortunately for the young and relatively inexperienced Quakers, the InterAc was the strongest it had ever been, with Malvern, one of the top teams in the area, and GA, now a nationally ranked team. Due to the tough competition, PC was slated to finish no higher than fourth place in the league. This didn't bother the Quakers, though. They knew they were a talented and scrappy bunch and as long as they believed in themselves, a league championship was not out of the question.

The team took this attitude into league play and stormed out to a 4-0 start, including an unbelievable, extra innings classic over Malvern. Fighting for first place against mighty GA, the Quakers were determined to shock the world. Unfortunately, it wasn't meant to be as GA and their six division-I starters trounced PC in both league contests, 9-0 and 14-0. After a 4-0 start, the Quakers slipped and dropped the next 4, and they were able to rebound and win the final two games, including another win over Malvern. The 6-4 record was good for second place, which was much better than anyone thought the team would do. After the season, PC went to the State Playoffs and got another shot at GA. The Quakers held their own, but the Patriots stormed back late in the game and won 3-2. While GA and Malvern will graduate most of its roster, PC will lose only 2 starters, 3B David Skinner and P/1B Corey Thomas. The four junior stars will all return as seniors to wreak havoc on the league, and they will be joined by other standout players such as senior Marc Spagnoletti, junior Mike Parrilla, and sophomores Sammy Zeglinski and Mark Adzick. With all of these talented players returning, an InterAc title seems inevitable.

The 2004 softball team will be remembered perhaps as one of the most successful teams in the history of the program. Led by seniors Emms Ronan, Christine Eanes and captains Megan Kaesshaefer, Sarah Rogers and Laura Kaesshaefer, this talented group of sixteen young women battled their way to gain the title of InterAc Champions for the second time in Penn Charter history. The girls endured a tough pre-league schedule, facing and beating teams such as Kennedy Kendrick, Archbishop Carroll and defending city champs Central High School. A highlight of the early season was winning the Colonial Tournament after beating KK and Plymouth Whitemarsh.

Their work early on in the season paid off tremendously with wins across the board in the first set of league games. The Quakers slid by Agnes Irwin 6 to 2, and then overwhelmed rival Germantown Academy 10-0. The Quakers finished off with wins against Baldwin 7-3, Springside 8-2, and Episcopal 8-4. The Quakers lost twice in their entire season, both to long time power Shipley. The team was helped this year by pitchers Sarah Rogers, Laura K. and starting catcher Clare Ronan, who seemed to improve daily. Rounding out the infield were steadfast second baseman Megan K., imposing first baseman Emms Ronan, and talented juniors Trish Manning at shortstop and Maurie Smith at third base. Freshman Bridget McDugall joined the team this year and helped both the infield and the outfield. LA Faigen, Kayley Laren and Chris Eanes completed the outfield and proved to be a barrier to many frustrated batters.

With a final overall record of 16-2, the Quakers faced Shipley once again in the finals of the first ever league tournament. The girls fought hard and proved they could challenge any team to a good game. With the success of this year comes hope for seasons to come, especially with 11 returning players next year. The girls would like to thank newcomers Coach Christy and Coach Sletten for all of their help. The seniors bid adieu to their beloved team, but leave them with love and remembrance of the amazing friendships and accomplishments that made this season unlike any other.

Boys Lacrosse

PC boys lax had an up and down 2004 season. Despite a 5-18 record on paper, countless intangible goals were attained over the course of the season. The season began with some rough competition against Maryland powerhouse Landon School and eventual PSLA champion LaSalle. PC played well in both games, despite the final scores. The Quakers also had the joy of meeting a friendly group from Hamburg, New York. Again, a heartbreaking loss (6-5) was difficult to swallow.

PC regained its composure after a slow start and stunned NJ power Moorestown, 10-8 in the first win of the season. Charter's high-octane offense was on display as attackmen Bruce Tan, Jack Forster, and Dave Layne connected several times for breathtaking goals. PC's defense also held tough in every situation. Jason Windmoeller, Justin Dillard, and Colin Hitschler punished every Moorestown player who touched the ball. Robbie Kolansky notched 15 phenomenal saves in the game. By the end of the night, fans and athletes knew that PC lacrosse wasn't going to pack it in.

Further along, Penn Charter was brought head to head with the likes of Boys Latin (MD), at the time ranked number 1 in the nation. PC lost the game 10-9, but gave the lacrosse world something to talk about. Midfielders Paul Sweeney, RJ Lyons, Pat Gannon, Jay Kelly, and Will Pappas all took their games to new levels in the hopes of knocking off the national number 1. PC ended up with a few losses to InterAc powers GA, Malvern, and Haverford, but came out very strong at the end of the season, winning four out of their last five games. After rolling to two easy wins against Wissahickon and Abington, the team took a trip up City Ave. to Episcopal Academy. PC walloped the churchmice, 13-8 on EA's own turf. Key to the victory was Eric Feinschil and his intimidating size and strength. Also stepping up against the 'mice was little big man Josh "Squirtle" Sperling. His incomparable hustle was inspiring to teammates, showing them what PC lacrosse is about. EA came out much stronger in the second meeting, but PC matched them, coming back from a 4 goal deficit at the half to tie the game. The game came down to the wire, with hundreds of fans on the sidelines biting their nails. In the last seconds, Willy Pappas charged down the field, sliced through 3 EA defenders and sniped a shot low corner that left smoke coming off the twine.

Despite being denied a playoff berth by lowly Pottsgrove, PC lacrosse made huge strides this season in every regard, and has more to look forward to. Players to watch out for next year are numerous, Derek Still and Kevin McGarvey especially. Along with the legendary Tan, they will anchor another high-powered PC offense. PC lacrosse also must give thanks to all of our coaches, Pat McDonough, Bill Gallagher, Haldy Gifford, Matt Musci, and Sean Maloney for their exceptional tutelage and incredible dedication. These incredible lacrosse coaches helped us all to attain our potential. But the lessons that we have learned from them we will use in all aspects of life, on and off the field. Also, special thanks to managers, Nikki Negron and Jess Roskam, and timer, Adam Zakheim. To the PC lacrosse program from your seniors, we congratulate you on a successful season and wish you luck in the future, we know that PC Lax is in good hands.

This year, Penn Charter lacrosse looked promising. The team was coming back strong, losing only three seniors the year before. With seven seniors this year, the Quakers looked older and experienced. Preseason began with a few scrimmages. The one against Ridley gave the team momentum because they were a tough team, but Penn Charter pulled through with the win. During spring break, the team traveled to Maryland for a few days to practice and to play two teams: McDonough and Garrison Forest (two lacrosse powerhouses). The game against McDonough didn't go as planned; Penn Charter came out tough, but couldn't pull through with the win. The game against Garrison Forest, however, is one to be remembered. PC lacrosse played well the whole game, although in the second half, they fell to an eight goal deficit. The Quakers decided they weren't going to give up, and they came back hungry. Penn Charter scored nine goals in the last 19 minutes of the game to come back and win by one. This game helped to boost PC's momentum for the rest of the season; when they were down by a little, someone on the team would simply say: "Remember Garrison Forest."

The Inter Ac opener had Penn Charter fired up, because in years past, this had always been the last game, and the girls lacrosse team hadn't beaten Agnes Irwin in a few years. However, the game was re-scheduled due to the failure of a ref to show up. So the energy was transferred to the GA game. Penn Charter came out hard, and beat the Patriots by one goal. This win helped the Quakers to look with confidence upon the rest of the season. Notre Dame and Shipley came next, and Penn Charter came out on top. Baldwin was at first an easy game as Penn Charter gained a ten goal lead. However, Baldwin found a fire of their own and scored seven unanswered goals to close the gap. Penn Charter was still able to come out on top. Next came Episcopal. Penn Charter knew this would be a tough game, but they were determined not to go out there intimidated. Penn Charter dominated the whole game, and they were up most of the time. With two minutes left in the second half, Penn Charter was up by one. The Quakers weren't able to hold this lead, and EA tied it to bring the game to overtime. In the second half of overtime, EA scored a goal to win by one. This game was a heartbreaker for Penn Charter because they had never defeated EA in the past four years of lacrosse. Finally, the rescheduled Agnes Irwin game, went likewise; Penn Charter dominated, however, the Quakers could not come out on top. This year was a great year for Penn Charter lacrosse, even though it didn't quite turn out as planned.

Good luck next year, girls, we know you can do it! We will miss you so much, and keep working hard and you will reach your goals! Love, your Seniors, Katherine, Ashley, Catherine, Erin, Kathleen, Amanda and Liz.

Track

After two straight InterAc championship seasons, there were high hopes for boys varsity track in 2004. Key senior contributors from a year ago were replaced by a promising group of freshmen including Dylan Isaacson, Arshneel Kochar, and Ricky Lynn, all of whom managed to break the 5 minute mile barrier by the end of the year. With junior captains Steve Sullivan and Matt Gannon returning to anchor the distance team, and Kamal Marrell well ahead of the competition in sprints, it seemed that yet another championship for Coach Steve Bonnie was well within reach.

However, on the 13th of April, Marell went down with a hamstring injury in the team's first league meet. Charter went on to finish 2-2 in the regular season. Throughout the course of the season, Gannon struggled to overcome injuries of his own. Though hampered by ailing shins, he refused to sit. With two of the team's stars hurting, Bonnie looked to other members of the team to make contributions. Pat Farrell emerged as one of the most dangerous quarter-milers in the league, and junior Jay Leath finished the year as the clear favorite for the shot-put in 2005.

Even on May 15th, the day of the InterAc championship, all remained positive. For Marrell, a few weeks proved to be all the rest his leg needed as he managed to win every race he was in, scoring 18 points in all to earn the Greenwood Cup for most points at Champs. Unfortunately, this was more than half of the team's total output. At the end of the day, Malvern came out on top in front of Episcopal and Chestnut Hill. Penn Charter finished fourth ahead of Germantown Academy and Haverford.

Girls Track

Captains Holly Alderman, Julia Soffa, Kate Hartman

The girls track team had a thrilling and successful season with our largest team in many years. We had a very young team, with more freshman girls than ever before. With a youthful, talented team, the girls track season tested the persistence of all these new members. The Quakers worked relentlessly through the early spring snow and the sleet, pushing themselves even during the warm-ups and practices. Many of our meets were won with the help of high-scorers Anna Marks, Katelyn Hartman, and the Moody sisters. Although the team was disappointed by the cancellation of some meets, they prepared each day for their next challenge, whether they scored points or not. They also had an impressive showing at Penn Relays, where runners Anna Marks, Ariel Tishgart, Ellen Rosenberg, and Jessica Balderston ran in the competitive heat of eighteen other teams and beat their time from last year's race. Champs, the culminating event of the girls track season, did not go quite as planned. Unfortunately, each Moody sister suffered a foot injury that ironically occurred in the same place on the GA track (on different days) and kept them from participating, and scoring, in champs.

Although the team did not win the InterAc championship this year, they did come out 3-1 in the league, losing a meet to EA by only three points. The team will surely achieve greatness in the years to come, and senior captains Holly Alderman, Kate Hartman, and Julia Soffa wish the team the best of luck in their bright and successful future.

Golf

All InterAc Second Team: Brett Falkoff

Once again, the golf team had a rebuilding year. The team was as plagued by injuries this year, as 14th century Europe was plagued by, well, the plague. Youngster Stevie Harrington started off the season with a stress fracture in his foot, but he managed to play the first few matches and score well. The team knew they were in for a tough stretch of matches when senior Peter O'Keefe was sidelined with a back injury suffered while lacing up his golf shoes, "I think that's what happened" -O'Keefe. The toughest injury the team faced was captain Chris Walling's neck injury. Chris played through his pain, which probably wasn't a great idea. However, brother Timmy Walling picked up the slack with a series of well played matches that kept the team in good shape. His only injury was chronic alertness, which caused him to be hyper and then to take a nap all in the same car ride to every match.

Moving on from injuries, senior Terrence Moore returned to the team after taking his junior year off. His presence on the team was always felt, even when he was heard saying, "I hate golf." His passion for the game was unmatched. Underclassmen Brett Falkoff, Ross Harrow, Ted Meyer, Adam "I like jeans" Conston, and Sam "Young Bull" Lerner were the glue that held the team together. We're already looking forward to next season, because hopefully, all of the young team members will have a chance to grow.

This season, the tennis team started off with three team wins and the discipline of newcomer Coach Herdelin seemed to be paying off. However, as the InterAc matches started, the team had a rude awakening; The Inter-Ac did not become worse since last year. PC's doubles teams were constantly reshaped from match to match in hope of finding success. By the end of the year the pairing of Garret Shields, the little man with a lot of heart, and Jake Markovitz proved to be very solid at second doubles. They upset CHA at champs and lost a tough match to Haverford to finish fourth overall. Another pairing that showed promise was Chip Moore and Chris Callis, who also finished fourth at champs. Matt Sutherland lost a few very close three-set matches to the other InterAc teams at first singles, however he was still able to finish fourth at InterAc Champs. Evan Footer probably had the most successful year at second singles. He finished third at champs and was the only person on the team to place.

As for Zach Cohn and Adam Shelly, after spending seven years of their life pursuing the dream of winning champs at first doubles, they bowed out in their first match. However, the duo stayed positive after the heartbreak, and provided senior leadership to the remaining Quakers at champs. Senior Francis Goldshmid was the captain of JV tennis team, which had a very successful season as well. He will be missed for constantly raising the team's morale, and showing that big men can move, too!

Errata – The editors/advisor apologize for: Dan Mozes' signature disappearing (Jostens' goof, not ours); mangling the Entwistles' syntax (Jostens again); but we really do know how to spell "government" (page 15). (and Dutch is the "book czar".)
